Moroccan Peace Deal Seen

Plan Developing To Oust Sultan, French Official

AIX LES BAINS, France, Aug. 25 (AP)—A bargain appeared developing today to restore peace in Morocco by ousting both the Sultan and the protectorate's top French official, each unpopular with his own people.

Reliable informants at the conference here between Premier Edgar Faure's Cabinet "Committee of Five" and Moroccan leaders said the deal would provide the deposing of Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa and the recall of French Resident Gen. Gilbert Grandval.

Faure declined to comment on this possibility, but he said a settlement is in sight.

Sultan Considered Usurper

Under the reported solution, the Sultan imposed on Morocco by France two years ago would be removed to placate diehard Nationalists who consider him a usurper.

Grandval would be sacrificed to appease irate French colonists in Morocco. The colonists are aroused by what they consider his "softness" to Nationalist rebels who staged murderous raids last weekend and his alleged favoritism to the Nationalist Istiqlal (Independence) party.

In Rabat, the Moroccan capital, Grandval already has been reported ready to quit because of the opposition and abuse he is receiving from the Moroccan French.

Istiqlal Concession

The Istiqlal would not insist under such a settlement that Moulay Arafa's predecessor, Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef, be returned to the throne immediately. The French deposed and exiled Ben Youssef two years ago because of his Nationalist sympathies. The Istiqlal considers him to be the legitimate ruler.

One French official in close touch with the negotiations, said an agreement is virtually complete for the present Sultan to turn his powers over to a "Council of the Throne" which would bring in a new and broadly based Moroccan government.

Faure said a path to reconciliation had been opened in the morning conference with four members of the Istiqlal Executive Committee.

Live Virus In Cutter Serum Not Detected

Government Blames Old Testing Method For Vaccine Failure

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Public Health Service reported today that live polio virus was present in some lots of Salk vaccine made by Cutter Laboratories and that safety tests prescribed by the government failed to detect the virus.

It added that both manufacturing and testing requirements have been revised to prevent just such failures, and Salk vaccine is now being produced under "adequate safeguards."

A six-page final report wound up a four-months investigation of Cutter Laboratories at Berkeley, Calif.—a probe begun after some children inoculated with Cutter vaccine were stricken with polio.

Can't Pinpoint Trouble

The Health Service said that despite long study, scientists could not pinpoint the precise nature of the trouble at Cutter. But the probable cause was attributed to:

1. Failure to sufficiently inactivate, or deaden, live polio virus brought into the manufacturing process at an early stage.

2. "Fundamental weaknesses" in the original safety testing procedures, which failed to detect the dangerous virus.

Minimum requirements for both manufacturing and testing were set forth by the government, to be followed by manufacturers. The government released the vaccine after a check of written reports, to see that the requirements were met.

6 OF 17 Lots Caused Trouble

The report reached the conclusion that six of the 17 distribution lots put out by Cutter contained live virus and caused polio among some inoculated children and among other persons who came in contact with the children.

As for the future, Surgeon Gen. Leonard A. Scheele told reporters that Cutter is free to submit vaccine for release by the government. If the vaccine meets the revised and strengthened requirements, he added, it would be released just like products from other licensed manufacturers.

Defense Plants In Flood Areas To Get Loan Aid

Army Engineer Chief Sets Loss At $1.6 Billion

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP) — President Eisenhower made up to 900 million dollars in federal loans available today for the restoration of defense industries ravaged by the great Northeast flood.

Total damage in the stricken areas was estimated at $1,600,000,000 or more by the Army's chief of engineers. Appalled by a first-hand check of the destruction, he called it one of the worst disasters since Noah's day.

The lending funds released by Eisenhower were in addition to an emergency relief program which could conceivably amount to more than 100 million dollars.

At Least 176 Died

Lt. Gen. Samuel D. Sturgis' damage estimate was the first federal assessment of the cost of the inundation which followed Hurricane Diane, uprooting factories and homes, washing out roads and bridges, and taking the lives of at least 176 persons. Many others are missing and thousands homeless.

Sturgis said his $1,600,000,000 figure was only a preliminary estimate and that "undoubtedly" it would have to be revised when the Corps of Engineers completes its survey in two or three weeks.

"This is one of the biggest, toughest rehabilitation jobs since the one Noah faced after the great flood of Biblical days," Sturgis said in a statement handed to reporters. "No one yet has an accurate figure as to what will be required to put the area back on its feet, functioning normally."

Tax Amortization Speedup

The government is pouring a great amount of money and manpower into the job.

The executive order signed by the President at his summer headquarters in Denver authorizes not only loans to defense plants but a tax amortization speedup on their new capital investment.

Officials said loans will be available to defense and defense-supporting plants in the flood area in all cases where commercial loans on reasonable terms are not available.

Army Engineers will tackle the immediate job—removing debris, clearing highways, shoring up bridges and repairing other damage to public property.

Pledge To Cut Tax Ruled Out By Humphrey

Treasury's Chief Says U. S. Can Get In Black This Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey said today the government "should and can" balance the budget this fiscal year.

However, he said it is "entirely too early" to pledge tax reductions, despite the government's improved financial outlook. Expectations of another round of tax cuts in 1956, before presidential campaign time, are widespread in Washington. Democrats in Congress have said they will introduce legislation to cut personal taxes early in the 1956 session of Congress.

Humphrey foreshadowed a balanced budget by next June 30, the end of the 1956 fiscal year. He spoke at a news conference in in which he and Budget Director Rowland R. Hughes backgrounded newsmen on the annual summer revision of budget estimates laid before Congress in January.

The official revision was less sanguine, by $1,700,000,000, than Humphrey. It predicted a deficit of that amount.

Ike Figure Slashed Third

That was a slash of nearly a third in the red ink spending total of $2,400,000,000 which President Eisenhower forecast in his January budget message to Congress. However, the budget revision statement hinted that the swift upsurge of business activity, combined with spending cuts, might enable the government to get in the black this fiscal year for the first time since 1951.

The revision of the January estimates painted this brightened outlook:

1. Expenditures will total $63,800,000,000. That would be $1,400,000,000 more spending than President Eisenhower foresaw in his January budget message but 700 million dollars less than the government spent in fiscal 1955, the year which ended June 30.

2. Receipts, swelled by the rapidly rising tide of business prosperity, are now expected to total $62,100,000,000 this year. That would be $2,100,000,000 more income than Eisenhower estimated last January, when business was just rounding the turn from recession to boom. It would be $1,800,000,000 more than the government took in during the fiscal year just concluded.

"Cash Surplus" Indicated

3. These new spending and income estimates would mean a total deficit for the year of $1,700,000,000 — 700 million dollars lower than Eisenhower predicted in January and 2½ billion dollars less than the fiscal 1955 deficit. If achieved, this would be the lowest deficit in five years. It would mean that less than 3 per cent of government spending in the year would not be covered by tax receipts.

These estimates indicated a "cash surplus" because the government would collect approxi-

Senators See Risk In Crime Shows On TV

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP) — A Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency said today there is a "calculated risk" in broadcasting TV crime and violence shows during children's viewing hours. It urged steps to cut the risk.

In an interim report, the subcommittee said it "has been unable to gather proof of a direct casual relationship" between such programs "and the actual performance of criminal deeds."

But the senators said there is reason to believe television crime programs are "potentially much more injurious to children and young people than motion pictures, radio or comic books."

The legislators added:

"When considered in the light of the evidence that there is a calculated risk incurred through the repeated exposure of young boys and girls, even of tender age, to ruthless, unethical forms of behavior, the subcommittee believes it would be wise to minimize the risk insofar as possible."

The report noted that the television broadcasters presented "many experts" at subcommittee hearings "who indicated that, in their opinion, television programs were not responsible for, nor did they cause, juvenile delinquency."

The senators recommended that the Federal Communications Commission exercise stricter control over television programming. The agency should be given power to levy fines for violation of "certain minimal standards," the report said.

Clergyman Gets Social Security Card At Age 102

CHELSEA, Mass., Aug. 25 (AP)—Rabbi Icik Benkowitz at 102 years old today became holder of a social security card.

The rabbi, born in Lithuania Aug. 1, 1853, applied for Social Security coverage under the revised law admitting clergymen to its provisions.

Because of the rabbi's age Henry E. Goodnough, manager of the Chelsea field office, brought the card personally to his home.

Cabinet Changes Made By Peron

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Aug. 25 (AP)—An army general stepped into a new post as national security director today while ailing Jeronimo Remorino, a moderate in Argentina's church-state conflict, resigned as minister of foreign affairs and worship.

President Juan D. Peron named Maj. Gen. Felix Maria Robles as boss of the nation's major police forces and frontier guards. To succeed Remorino the President picked lawyer-diplomat Ildefonso Felix Cavagna Martinez.

After the June 16 navy-led revolt which the army crushed, all Cabinet members submitted their resignations to give Peron a free hand to regroup his forces at the top of the government. Remorino is the sixth Cabinet official to bow out.

Method In Singing

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Aug. 25 (AP) — Sheriff O. R. Carson investigated today because of the unusual gusto with which three Cass County jail prisoners were thumping a guitar and singing.

He said he found the trio was trying to cover the noise of digging a tunnel under the wall.

Hurricane Edith Still Forming; Ships Warned

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 25 (AP)—Hurricane Edith, fifth tropical storm of the year, was found by a hurricane hunter plane today to be in the formative stage with its cloud and squall system poorly organized.

The barometric pressure in its eye was 29.59 inches, showing lack of concentration. But a storm expert predicted it would reach a force of about 125 miles by Saturday.

Edith already had winds of hurricane force—75 m.p.h. or higher—extending 70 miles from the center in the northeast side, and winds of 50-mile velocity extending 60 miles outward toward the southeast.

Gale force winds were felt 150 miles northeast of the center.

The newest hurricane was located at 5 p.m. EST near latitude 23.9 north, longitude 61.0 west, or about 520 miles northeast of San Juan, P.R. This about 1,220 miles southeast of Miami and about 1,140 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras, N.C.

It moved at a forward pace of 15 m.p.h. toward the west-northwest or northwest, a course it was expected to maintain for 12 to 18 hours while gradually increasing in intensity.

Shipping was warned from its path.

Edith is a sister storm of Connie and Diane, which raked ashore in North Carolina and swept northeastern states. Diane, ladylike as hurricanes go, was transformed into a rainstorm when her winds died down and set a record for property damage. The Army's chief of engineers estimated property losses from her floods at $1,600,000,000 or more. All three storms were spawned in the same general area.

"Lockout" Of Hubby To Bring Out Pickets

CHICAGO, Aug. 25 (AP)—The home of a spirited housewife who has locked out her husband because he is on strike will be picketed tomorrow by wives of union men opposed to her views.

A spokesman for Local 1214, CIO United Auto Workers, said today the wives of other strikers will picket Mrs. Esther Quigley's home "because they disagree' with her attitude.

Mrs. Quigley's husband, Andrew, is a steward in the local and one of some 450 union members who are striking against the Harrison Sheet Metal Co.

Mrs. Quigley, 35, locked her husband out of their home Tuesday and vowed to keep him out until he and the others go back to work.

Flood Relief Gift

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Red Cross announced today it had received a $100,000 gift for flood relief from the National Board of Fire Underwriters on behalf of its member insurance companies.

Woman Kissed Ike On 'Impulse'

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25 (AP) — Mrs. Mary Copelin, wife of a Philadelphia lawyer, disclosed today she was the "mystery" woman who startled President Eisenhower with a kiss at Independence Hall.

The President had just left the tent where he lunched yesterday noon and was waiting to speak to members of the American Bar Assn. here for their convention.

A woman, described as about 35, climbed over a rope barrier, ran to the President and kissed him on the cheek.

The President, when he recovered from his surprise, grinned and walked on.

The woman scurried back over the rope and was lost in the throng.

"It was an impulse," she said today. "I just had the urge to kiss the President, and I did. A wonderful man. I kissed him—but I'll never know how I managed to do it. Anyway, all my friends gave me a fine reception for doing it."

"Ike Bandwagon, Inc."

HACKENSACK, N.J., Aug. 25 (AP) —An organization known as "Eisenhower Bandwagon, Inc.," filed incorporation papers with the county clerk here today and announced as its aim the renomination of President Eisenhower for 1956.

Visiting Soviets Leave U. S., Say "Come See Us"

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—With neighborly farewells, Russian farm leaders today left the United States. And American farm leaders came home from Russia. Both groups said they had made some friends.

And they added that traditional fillip of rural hospitality everywhere: "Come and see us."

"We are leaving here many good friends," said Vladimir Matskevich, acting minister of Soviet agriculture, as he and eight other visiting farm delegates boarded a plane for Montreal.

Wedges Driven In Barriers

"We hope to meet them again when they come to Moscow or when our people come to America," he added. "We would very much like to have more of our people meet American people. . . ."

Similar sentiments came from spokesmen for an American farm group, which had toured Soviet farms, as it arrived here. W. V. Lambert, dean of agriculture at the University of Nebraska, said:

"We think we made some friends and drove some wedges in the barriers that have been between the two countries for the past 15 years. We hope we paved the way for future exchanges such as these."

Three Russians Stay Behind

The Russians—12 of them—had spent 41 days touring American farms. Three of them stayed behind—one for a trip to Texas to buy some Santa Gertrudis cattle, and two others for talks in Washington.

They'll join other delegates later in Canada, where the Russians plan to spend two weeks—in Montreal, Ottawa and western wheat-growing provinces—before returning to Russia.

Mass. Polio Cases Grow

BOSTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Massachusetts Department of Health today reported 81 new cases of polio, bringing the state's total for the year to 1,904. At this date a year ago Massachusetts had only 239 cases.

Girl Dies Under Dirt Shoved On Her By Bulldozer

SOUTH PLAINFIELD, N.J., Aug. 25 (AP)—A 6-year-old girl was buried alive and suffocated today when a bulldozer pushed eight feet of dirt onto her.

Christine Dodd was playing at a housing development site to the rear of her home.

As she sat at the foot of a high mound of dirt, the bulldozer pushed another pile of dirt over the edge and buried her.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Richard Dodd, came looking for her daughter shortly afterward. She was told by a playmate that Christine had "disappeared."

She saw the fresh pile of dirt, put two and two together, and started screaming for help. She and neighbors grabbed shovels and dug furiously at the pile, but they were too late.

Ford Aids Flood Fund

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP) — The Red Cross today announced receipt of a $175,000 contribution to its flood relief fund from the Ford Foundation. It is the biggest gift to date.

Socialite Who Wed Cop Dies

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25 (AP)—An attractive red-haired socialite who would have been 23 years old next Sunday died in the apartment home of friends last night two months after she eloped with a Miami, Fla., motorcycle policeman without the consent of her parents.

An autopsy was performed today on Mrs. Doris Silver Ostreicher, daughter of Herman Silver, vice president of Food Fair, Inc., a large grocery chain on the Eastern seaboard. But Coroner Dr. Melville J. Ashton declined to announce the findings.

Ashton held a 37-minute conference with physicians, who performed the autopsy, and homicide squad detectives. Afterward he said the case still is under investigation and that the cause of death is being studied. He said he would make no further statement "until such time as all necessary laboratory studies are completed."

Mrs. Ostreicher, whose elopement last June 24 with 29-year-old Earl Michael Ostreicher, Miami policeman, received nationwide publicity, died in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schwartz, long-time friends. The Schwartz's told police that Miss Ostreicher of Melrose Park, an exclusive suburb of Philadelphia, was separated from her husband.

Nixon Says Red Test Upcoming

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25 (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said tonight "the next three or four months will tell us" whether Russia "honestly" wants peace in the world.

Nixon told the annual dinner meeting of the American Bar Assn. which ends its week-long conference here tomorrow, that the Soviet has relaxed somewhat its "spirit of belligerance and ill will" but questioned whether the new cordiality is "only calculated to get us to drop our guard."

The vice president said Russia must take steps to prove it wants "to reduce tensions and to live in peace."

On this plea Nixon echoed the views of President Eisenhower who addressed the lawyers and judges yesterday. The chief executive speaking in front of historic Independence Hall, scorned any "false peace" that would condone Soviet wrongs of the past.

Hillings Says Nixon May Visit Moscow

MOSCOW, Aug. 25 (AP) — Rep. Patrick J. Hillings (R-Calif) said today Vice President Richard M. Nixon may visit Moscow this fall.

"I would not be surprised if Vice President Nixon comes to the Soviet Union during his Middle East tour in November," Hillings told a reporter.

Youth Held For Killing Girl In Argument Over Balloons

SACO, Maine, Aug. 25 (AP)—A 15-year-old, suffering from hodgkins disease, a type of cancer, was held without bail today on a charge of murdering an 11-year-old girl afflicted with a heart condition in an argument over toy balloons.

Fortunat Michaud, product of a broken home and a seventh grade student, allegedly beat pretty Doris Trudeau on the head with a stick of wood. Later he went to a movie on juvenile delinquency—"The Blackboard Jungle."

Arrested as he came out of the movie, the boy denied for three hours any knowledge of the girl's whereabouts. Her body had not been found at that time.

Finally, police quoted him as saying, "if you send me where there are a couple of horses on a farm I'll take you to her."

Doris' nude body was found early today in woods behind a factory on suburban North Street. She was a schoolmate of Michaud.

A medical examiner, Dr. William T. Roussin, said there was evidence the girl had been raped. Police said Michaud denied attacking Doris sexually.

Municipal Judge Clyfton Hewes wouldn't permit the boy to plead to a murder warrant until he has counsel and continued the case 10 days. Fortunat was taken to Alfred Jail.

County Atty. William P. Donahue and police investigators quoted the boy as saying:

While playing with toy balloons—blowing them up and breaking them—Fortunant and Doris "got mad at each other." Doris hit the boy on the ankle with a stick. Angered, he picked up a length of dead pine and beat her around the head. Then he dragged the girl's body 250 yards deeper into the woods and hid it.

Airman Schmidt And Wife Who Re-Wed Honeymoon After Their Reconciliation

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 25 (AP)—Love brushed aside a barrier of misunderstanding today as Airman Daniel Schmidt honeymooned with the wife who said she thought he was dead and so had married another.

A telephone call and a swift flight here brought them together in late afternoon yesterday.

He and his auburn-haired wife, Una, clung to each other in a warm embrace, then walked arm-in-arm into his mother's modest home at an auto court here.

Only a few hours later they drove to a secret place of hiding as moist-eyed relatives and friends tossed rice in happy celebration.

It symbolized the end of a strange separation that began when Schmidt, now 23, went overseas as a B29 crewmen in the Korean War and was shot down and captured.

It apparently ended, too, the role of Alford Fine, 21, as Una's second husband. He was the man she told Schmidt she had married in a ceremony whose location she did not disclose. He is now "out of the picture" she said. Attorneys here said that is legally correct—the second marriage "never existed legally" because she was married to Schmidt.

When released by Chinese Communists last month after 2½ years' imprisonment, Schmidt learned from his wife she had thought him dead and she said she had married Fine.

Schmidt, returning to this country, went directly to an attorney at Sacramento. Stiff communications were exchanged. Formal statements to the press told an eagerly interested public that Schmidt's feelings were badly hurt; that Una, 20, in the bewilderment of youth had left the second man and had gone into hiding with Danny Schmidt Jr., the 2½ year-old son born after Schmidt went overseas.

Then Schmidt filed for divorce and asked custody of his son. And then he came here to the home of his mother, Mrs. Ray Peters.

Talks with his mother were followed by a surprise phone call to Una, plans for a reconciliation and her flight here.

And then, all doubts cast aside, they left on what they said was their first real honeymoon.

2. Receipts, swelled by the rapidly rising tide of business prosperity, are now expected to total $62,100,000,000 this year. That would be $2,100,000,000 more income than Eisenhower estimated last January, when business was just rounding the turn from recession to boom. It would be $1,800,000,000 more than the government took in during the fiscal year just concluded.

"Cash Surplus" Indicated

3. These new spending and income estimates would mean a total deficit for the year of $1,700,000,000 — 700 million dollars lower than Eisenhower predicted in January and 2½ billion dollars less than the fiscal 1955 deficit. If achieved, this would be the lowest deficit in five years. It would mean that less than 3 per cent of government spending in the year would not be covered by tax receipts.

These estimates indicated a "cash surplus" because the government would collect approxi-

Senators See Risk In Crime Shows On TV

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP) — A Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency said today there is a "calculated risk" in broadcasting TV crime and violence shows during children's viewing hours. It urged steps to cut the risk.

In an interim report, the subcommittee said it "has been unable to gather proof of a direct casual relationship" between such programs "and the actual performance of criminal deeds."

But the senators said there is reason to believe television crime programs are "potentially much more injurious to children and young people than motion pictures, radio or comic books."

The legislators added:

"When considered in the light of the evidence that there is a calculated risk incurred through the repeated exposure of young boys and girls, even of tender age, to ruthless, unethical forms of behavior, the subcommittee believes it would be wise to minimize the risk insofar as possible."

The report noted that the television broadcasters presented "many experts" at subcommittee hearings "who indicated that, in their opinion, television programs were not responsible for, nor did they cause, juvenile delinquency."

The senators recommended that the Federal Communications Commission exercise stricter control over television programming. The agency should be given power to levy fines for violation of "certain minimal standards," the report said.

Clergyman Gets Social Security Card At Age 102

CHELSEA, Mass., Aug. 25 (AP)—Rabbi Icik Benkowitz at 102 years old today became holder of a social security card.

The rabbi, born in Lithuania Aug. 1, 1853, applied for Social Security coverage under the revised law admitting clergymen to its provisions.

Because of the rabbi's age Henry E. Goodnough, manager of the Chelsea field office, brought the card personally to his home.

Cabinet Changes Made By Peron

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Aug. 25 (AP)—An army general stepped into a new post as national security director today while ailing Jeronimo Remorino, a moderate in Argentina's church-state conflict, resigned as minister of foreign affairs and worship.

President Juan D. Peron named Maj. Gen. Felix Maria Robles as boss of the nation's major police forces and frontier guards. To succeed Remorino the President picked lawyer-diplomat Ildefonso Felix Cavagna Martinez.

After the June 16 navy-led revolt which the army crushed, all Cabinet members submitted their resignations to give Peron a free hand to regroup his forces at the top of the government. Remorino is the sixth Cabinet official to bow out.

Method In Singing

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Aug. 25 (AP) — Sheriff O. R. Carson investigated today because of the unusual gusto with which three Cass County jail prisoners were thumping a guitar and singing.

He said he found the trio was trying to cover the noise of digging a tunnel under the wall.

Hurricane Edith Still Forming; Ships Warned

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 25 (AP)—Hurricane Edith, fifth tropical storm of the year, was found by a hurricane hunter plane today to be in the formative stage with its cloud and squall system poorly organized.

The barometric pressure in its eye was 29.59 inches, showing lack of concentration. But a storm expert predicted it would reach a force of about 125 miles by Saturday.

Edith already had winds of hurricane force—75 m.p.h. or higher—extending 70 miles from the center in the northeast side, and winds of 50-mile velocity extending 60 miles outward toward the southeast.

Gale force winds were felt 150 miles northeast of the center.

The newest hurricane was located at 5 p.m. EST near latitude 23.9 north, longitude 61.0 west, or about 520 miles northeast of San Juan, P.R. This about 1,220 miles southeast of Miami and about 1,140 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras, N.C.

It moved at a forward pace of 15 m.p.h. toward the west-northwest or northwest, a course it was expected to maintain for 12 to 18 hours while gradually increasing in intensity.

Shipping was warned from its path.

Edith is a sister storm of Connie and Diane, which raked ashore in North Carolina and swept northeastern states. Diane, ladylike as hurricanes go, was transformed into a rainstorm when her winds died down and set a record for property damage. The Army's chief of engineers estimated property losses from her floods at $1,600,000,000 or more. All three storms were spawned in the same general area.

"Lockout" Of Hubby To Bring Out Pickets

CHICAGO, Aug. 25 (AP)—The home of a spirited housewife who has locked out her husband because he is on strike will be picketed tomorrow by wives of union men opposed to her views.

A spokesman for Local 1214, CIO United Auto Workers, said today the wives of other strikers will picket Mrs. Esther Quigley's home "because they disagree' with her attitude.

Mrs. Quigley's husband, Andrew, is a steward in the local and one of some 450 union members who are striking against the Harrison Sheet Metal Co.

Mrs. Quigley, 35, locked her husband out of their home Tuesday and vowed to keep him out until he and the others go back to work.

Flood Relief Gift

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Red Cross announced today it had received a $100,000 gift for flood relief from the National Board of Fire Underwriters on behalf of its member insurance companies.

Woman Kissed Ike On 'Impulse'

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25 (AP) — Mrs. Mary Copelin, wife of a Philadelphia lawyer, disclosed today she was the "mystery" woman who startled President Eisenhower with a kiss at Independence Hall.

The President had just left the tent where he lunched yesterday noon and was waiting to speak to members of the American Bar Assn. here for their convention.

A woman, described as about 35, climbed over a rope barrier, ran to the President and kissed him on the cheek.

The President, when he recovered from his surprise, grinned and walked on.

The woman scurried back over the rope and was lost in the throng.

"It was an impulse," she said today. "I just had the urge to kiss the President, and I did. A wonderful man. I kissed him—but I'll never know how I managed to do it. Anyway, all my friends gave me a fine reception for doing it."

"Ike Bandwagon, Inc."

HACKENSACK, N.J., Aug. 25 (AP)—An organization known as "Eisenhower Bandwagon, Inc.," filed incorporation papers with the county clerk here today and announced as its aim the renomination of President Eisenhower for 1956.

Visiting Soviets Leave U. S., Say "Come See Us"

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—With neighborly farewells, Russian farm leaders today left the United States. And American farm leaders came home from Russia. Both groups said they had made some friends.

And they added that traditional fillip of rural hospitality everywhere: "Come and see us."

"We are leaving here many good friends," said Vladimir Matskevich, acting minister of Soviet agriculture, as he and eight other visiting farm delegates boarded a plane for Montreal.

Wedges Driven In Barriers

"We hope to meet them again when they come to Moscow or when our people come to America," he added. "We would very much like to have more of our people meet American people. . . ."

Similar sentiments came from spokesmen for an American farm group, which had toured Soviet farms, as it arrived here. W. V. Lambert, dean of agriculture at the University of Nebraska, said:

"We think we made some friends and drove some wedges in the barriers that have been between the two countries for the past 15 years. We hope we paved the way for future exchanges such as these."

Three Russians Stay Behind

The Russians—12 of them—had spent 41 days touring American farms. Three of them stayed behind—one for a trip to Texas to buy some Santa Gertrudis cattle, and two others for talks in Washington.

They'll join other delegates later in Canada, where the Russians plan to spend two weeks—in Montreal, Ottawa and western wheat-growing provinces—before returning to Russia.

Mass. Polio Cases Grow

BOSTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Massachusetts Department of Health today reported 81 new cases of polio, bringing the state's total for the year to 1,904. At this date a year ago Massachusetts had only 239 cases.

Girl Dies Under Dirt Shoved On Her By Bulldozer

SOUTH PLAINFIELD, N.J., Aug. 25 (AP)—A 6-year-old girl was buried alive and suffocated today when a bulldozer pushed eight feet of dirt onto her.

Christine Dodd was playing at a housing development site to the rear of her home.

As she sat at the foot of a high mound of dirt, the bulldozer pushed another pile of dirt over the edge and buried her.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Richard Dodd, came looking for her daughter shortly afterward. She was told by a playmate that Christine had "disappeared."

She saw the fresh pile of dirt, put two and two together, and started screaming for help. She and neighbors grabbed shovels and dug furiously at the pile, but they were too late.

Ford Aids Flood Fund

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP) — The Red Cross today announced receipt of a $175,000 contribution to its flood relief fund from the Ford Foundation. It is the biggest gift to date.

Socialite Who Wed Cop Dies

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25 (AP)—An attractive red-haired socialite who would have been 23 years old next Sunday died in the apartment home of friends last night two months after she eloped with a Miami, Fla., motorcycle policeman without the consent of her parents.

An autopsy was performed today on Mrs. Doris Silver Ostreicher, daughter of Herman Silver, vice president of Food Fair, Inc., a large grocery chain on the Eastern seaboard. But Coroner Dr. Melville J. Ashton declined to announce the findings.

Ashton held a 37-minute conference with physicians, who performed the autopsy, and homicide squad detectives. Afterward he said the case still is under investigation and that the cause of death is being studied. He said he would make no further statement "until such time as all necessary laboratory studies are completed."

Mrs. Ostreicher, whose elopement last June 24 with 29-year-old Earl Michael Ostreicher, Miami policeman, received nationwide publicity, died in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schwartz, long-time friends. The Schwartz's told police that Miss Ostreicher of Melrose Park, an exclusive suburb of Philadelphia, was separated from her husband.

Youth Held For Killing Girl In Argument Over Balloons

SACO, Maine, Aug. 25 (AP)—A 15-year-old, suffering from hodgkins disease, a type of cancer, was held without bail today on a charge of murdering an 11-year-old girl afflicted with a heart condition in an argument over toy balloons.

Fortunat Michaud, product of a broken home and a seventh grade student, allegedly beat pretty Doris Trudeau on the head with a stick of wood. Later he went to a movie on juvenile delinquency—"The Blackboard Jungle."

Arrested as he came out of the movie, the boy denied for three hours any knowledge of the girl's whereabouts. Her body had not been found at that time.

Finally, police quoted him as saying, "if you send me where there are a couple of horses on a farm I'll take you to her."

Doris' nude body was found early today in woods behind a factory on suburban North Street. She was a schoolmate of Michaud.

A medical examiner, Dr. William T. Roussin, said there was evidence the girl had been raped. Police said Michaud denied attacking Doris sexually.

Municipal Judge Clyfton Hewes wouldn't permit the boy to plead to a murder warrant until he has counsel and continued the case 10 days. Fortunat was taken to Alfred Jail.

County Atty. William P. Donahue and police investigators quoted the boy as saying:

While playing with toy balloons—blowing them up and breaking them—Fortunant and Doris "got mad at each other." Doris hit the boy on the ankle with a stick. Angered, he picked up a length of dead pine and beat her around the head. Then he dragged the girl's body 250 yards deeper into the woods and hid it.

Airman Schmidt And Wife Who Re-Wed Honeymoon After Their Reconciliation

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 25 (AP)—Love brushed aside a barrier of misunderstanding today as Airman Daniel Schmidt honeymooned with the wife who said she thought he was dead and so had married another.

A telephone call and a swift flight here brought them together in late afternoon yesterday.

He and his auburn-haired wife, Una, clung to each other in a warm embrace, then walked arm-in-arm into his mother's modest home at an auto court here.

Only a few hours later they drove to a secret place of hiding as moist-eyed relatives and friends tossed rice in happy celebration.

It symbolized the end of a strange separation that began when Schmidt, now 23, went overseas as a B29 crewmen in the Korean War and was shot down and captured.

It apparently ended, too, the role of Alford Fine, 21, as Una's second husband. He was the man she told Schmidt she had married in a ceremony whose location she did not disclose. He is now "out of the picture" she said. Attorneys here said that is legally correct—the second marriage "never existed legally" because she was married to Schmidt.

When released by Chinese Communists last month after 2½ years' imprisonment, Schmidt learned from his wife she had thought him dead and she said she had married Fine.

Schmidt, returning to this country, went directly to an attorney at Sacramento. Stiff communications were exchanged. Formal statements to the press told an eagerly interested public that Schmidt's feelings were badly hurt; that Una, 20, in the bewilderment of youth had left the second man and had gone into hiding with Danny Schmidt Jr., the 2½ year-old son born after Schmidt went overseas.

Then Schmidt filed for divorce and asked custody of his son. And then he came here to the home of his mother, Mrs. Ray Peters.

Talks with his mother were followed by a surprise phone call to Una, plans for a reconciliation and her flight here.

And then, all doubts cast aside, they left on what they said was their first real honeymoon.

Hillings Says Nixon May Visit Moscow

MOSCOW, Aug. 25 (AP) — Rep. Patrick J. Hillings (R-Calif) said today Vice President Richard M. Nixon may visit Moscow this fall.

"I would not be surprised if Vice President Nixon comes to the Soviet Union during his Middle East tour in November," Hillings told a reporter.

Nixon Says Red Test Upcoming

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25 (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said tonight "the next three or four months will tell us" whether Russia "honestly" wants peace in the world.

Nixon told the annual dinner meeting of the American Bar Assn. which ends its week-long conference here tomorrow, that the Soviet has relaxed somewhat its "spirit of belligerance and ill will" but questioned whether the new cordiality is "only calculated to get us to drop our guard."

The vice president said Russia must take steps to prove it wants "to reduce tensions and to live in peace."

On this plea Nixon echoed the views of President Eisenhower who addressed the lawyers and judges yesterday. The chief executive speaking in front of historic Independence Hall, scorned any "false peace" that would condone Soviet wrongs of the past.

Cases Of Polio Show Seasonal Increase

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Public Health Service today reported a seasonal, to-be-expected, increase in the number of new polio cases.

Also, Surgeon Gen. Leonard A. Scheele said it is too soon to draw conclusions, but early evidence indicates beneficial results from the Salk vaccine program.

A regular report from the Health Service showed that the states reported 2,138 new cases in the week ended last Saturday, an increase of 352 over the preceding week.

This increase of about 20 per cent was described by a PHS spokesman as to be expected at this time of year. The new cases reported last week were 66, or 3 per cent, less than in the corresponding week of 1954.

Dr. Scheele was asked at a news conference whether the comparisons with last year—the Salk vaccine program began in April this year—demonstrate progress in combatting the disease.

He replied: "The data begin to point to the conclusion the vaccine is good to give protection."

But Dr. Scheele added it is too early for a thorough analysis of of the result as there will be "nothing very objective on which to base a finding until fall at the earliest."

Meanwhile, a number of states reported steps toward taking advantage of a new federal law providing 30 million dollars to be allocated to the states to permit free vaccinations under state programs.

The allocations will be made on the basis of a state's population under 20 years of age, and per capita income and the money will be available until next February. The states will determine who may be inoculated free; they may supplement the federal money as they see fit.

Dry Cleaning Plant Watchman Killed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP) — A night watchman, who apparently surprised burglars at work, was found slain today in the main plant of a dry cleaning chain a few blocks south of the capitol.

The watchman was identified as David L. Armhold Jr., 78, father of Mayor Clifford Armhold of Forest Heights, Md.

He had been bound, gagged and beaten. His body was found by an employe reporting for work at 1:30 a.m.

Police said $140 was missing from a desk drawer in an upstairs office, but that two safes were untouched.

Deputy Coroner Richard Rosenberg said a preliminary examination indicated the watchman strangled to death on blood from the beating apparently administered by a man's fists.

U.S. Aid Dollars Well Invested, President Says

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—The United States said today its financial aid to friendly foreign countries has enabled them to raise and maintain more than 180 army divisions, about 280 air squadrons and more than 550 combat vessels.

President Eisenhower transmitted to Congress these figures as part of a report on the mutual security program for the first half of this year. The report said also the free world, helped by massive U. S. economic aid in the first years after World War II, "as a whole is in a better economic position than ever before."

The President commented that its peoples "are better clothed than ever before in this century, and their governments and their boundaries are better protected from external aggression or internal subversion."

The dollars the United States has invested in mutual security, he continued, "have brought greater security to the people of the United States than could the same amount of dollars used in any other manner."

Through last June 30 the United States shipped to 35 countries about 11½ billion dollars worth of military equipment, including 5,575 planes, 38,400 tanks and combat vessels. It placed about 2¾ billion of contracts for arms in various friendly countries. In addition to the providing of actual arms was economic aid closely tied to the defense buildups of friendly nations and U. S. contributions to the NATO network of airfields, pipelines and other supporting facilities.

French Troops Pursue Rebels

RABAT, French Morocco, Aug. 25 (AP)—French troops pursued rebellious tribesmen deeper into the mountains today as populous lowland cities nervously awaited shakeups in the government which could set off more trouble.

Authoritative sources insisted the resignation of Resident Gen. Gilbert Grandval was imminent and would be followed by removal or abdication of aging Sultan Ben Moulay Arafa.

Grandval's departure could set off clashes between nationalists who like him and French colonials who think him "soft." In turn, removal of the Sultan could ignite spontaneous demonstrations by nationalists who regard him as a puppet and would rejoice in his departure.

As political rumors flowed freely, a strong force of Foreign Legionnaires and colonial Senegalese soldiers probed deeper into the Atlas Mountains seeking the rebellious Smaala tribesmen who set off one of the worst massacres last weekend at Oued Zem.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP) — Directors of Capital Transit Co. today voted against paying any dividend for the third quarter of this year, and advised stockholders they anticipate a liquidation over the next 12 months. Dividends of 30 cents were paid in each of the first two quarters of the year.

The company operates Washington's street car and bus system.

She kept the quart she was entitled to and returned the other 37 to the milk company.

Seaman's Wife Upset By 'Ghost'

PLYMOUTH, England, Aug. 25 (AP)—Royal Navy Seaman William Hampson was home today from the Mediterranean on emergency leave after hearing that his wife had been bothered by a ghost.

The ghost trouble which has upset Mrs. Hampson so much started two months ago in the Hampson's top-floor apartment.

In June, Mrs. Hampson, 29, complained of a voice calling "Betty" and of hands being put on her shoulder and tugging at her dress.

A priest, Father H. N. Hanson, was called in and he blessed the house.

The ghost didn't show up for some time. But then Mrs. Hampson said she saw it. It was a "black and white phantom" which appeared crouching behind a chair in daylight, she related.

There have been strange noises in the daytime as well as at night, Hampson reported. Some sounded as if someone was walking heavily across the ceiling.

The first large suspension bridge built in the United States spanned the Ohio river at Covington, Ky.

"Queen Anne legs" are found in furniture.

Poison Milk Powder Kills 22 Jap Babies

TOKYO, Friday, Aug. 26 (AP)—Health authorities said today 22 Japanese babies have died from poisoned powdered milk and another, 1,790 had been made ill throughout Japan.

They feared the number of victims would increase before the nationally distributed product is completely withdrawn from shop counters and kitchens.

The powdered milk is manufactured at Okayama. An analysis of the product showed traces of poison. Health authorities and the manufacturers were puzzled.

Wedding Guests Bring Down House

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 25 (AP) — Scores of guests at a Nubian wedding fell through a roof today and landed in the midst of a Nubian wake.

By the time the bridegroom arrived 50 or more persons had been taken to hospitals, 38 of them seriously injured.

The 300 wedding guests were celebrating on the roof with traditional dances when the rhythmic beating of feet and hands literally brought the house down. They tumbled to the floor below where a second group of Nubians had gathered to mourn a dead friend. Persons in both groups were hurt. The bride came through it all unscathed. She was in a downstairs room decorating herself for the reception.

Seaman's Wife Upset By 'Ghost'

PLYMOUTH, England, Aug. 25 (AP)—Royal Navy Seaman William Hampson was home today from the Mediterranean on emergency leave after hearing that his wife had been bothered by a ghost.

The ghost trouble which has upset Mrs. Hampson so much started two months ago in the Hampson's top-floor apartment.

In June, Mrs. Hampson, 29, complained of a voice calling "Betty" and of hands being put on her shoulder and tugging at her dress.

A priest, Father H. N. Hanson, was called in and he blessed the house.

The ghost didn't show up for some time. But then Mrs. Hampson said she saw it. It was a "black and white phantom" which appeared crouching behind a chair in daylight, she related.

There have been strange noises in the daytime as well as at night, Hampson reported. Some sounded as if someone was walking heavily across the ceiling.

The first large suspension bridge built in the United States spanned the Ohio river at Covington, Ky.

Poison Milk Powder Kills 22 Jap Babies

TOKYO, Friday, Aug. 26 (AP)—Health authorities said today 22 Japanese babies have died from poisoned powdered milk and another, 1,790 had been made ill throughout Japan.

They feared the number of victims would increase before the nationally distributed product is completely withdrawn from shop counters and kitchens.

The powdered milk is manufactured at Okayama. An analysis of the product showed traces of poison. Health authorities and the manufacturers were puzzled.

Wedding Guests Bring Down House

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 25 (AP) — Scores of guests at a Nubian wedding fell through a roof today and landed in the midst of a Nubian wake.

By the time the bridegroom arrived 50 or more persons had been taken to hospitals, 38 of them seriously injured.

The 300 wedding guests were celebrating on the roof with traditional dances when the rhythmic beating of feet and hands literally brought the house down. They tumbled to the floor below where a second group of Nubians had gathered to mourn a dead friend. Persons in both groups were hurt. The bride came through it all unscathed. She was in a downstairs room decorating herself for the reception.

Tax Rate Shows 36 Per Cent Hike Since 1938

The 14-cent hike in city taxes approved Wednesday by unanimous vote of the Mayor and Council represents only an increase of 36.36 per cent in the tax rate over the past 18 years.

The tax rate for the 1938-39 fiscal year was $1.10 on each $100 of assessable property, records indicate, with 66.8 cents of that figure earmarked for city operating expenses. The remaining 43.2 cents was used to service the city debt.

The trend of the times is portrayed in the practically constant increase of operating costs, running from the 66.8 cents in 1938-39 to approximately $1.17 ($1.1698) for the present fiscal year.

In that same time period, the cost of debt service has declined from 43.2 cents to the 33.02 cents set in the current budget.

City officials attribute the increase in operating costs to the constantly-spiraling costs of material and labor.

A breakdown of the tax rate in the past 18 years follows:

Fiscal Year	Debt Service	Operating Cost	Tax Rate
1938-39	$.4329	$.6680	$1.10
1939-40	.3860	.7140	1.10
1940-41	.3810	.7190	1.10
1941-42	.3560	.7440	1.10
1942-43	.3740	.7260	1.10
1943-44	.3783	.8217	1.20
1944-45	.3838	.8162	1.20
1945-46	.3762	.8738	1.25
1946-47	.3500	.9000	1.25
1947-48	.3500	.9000	1.25
1948-49	.4250	1.125	1.25
(15 months			(average)
1949-50	.3500	.9000	1.25
1950-51	.3700	.9000	1.27
1951-52	.3625	.9475	1.31
1952-53	.3300	.9500	1.28
1953-54	.3202	1.0398	1.36
1954-55	.3303	1.0297	1.36
1955-56	.3302	1.1698	1.50

The present tax rate is reasonable in comparison with other cities of the same size which offer the same services given to Cumberland residents, city officials stated yesterday.

Under consideration at present are 10 per cent wage boosts for city employes and provisions for a fund to be used in meeting social security payments.

Attend Meeting

Dr. William Firey, president of the Western Maryland Optometric Society, and Dr. Harold Ashby of Oakland, treasurer of the organization, are attending a meeting of the Baltimore Society today in that city.

Market St. Span Bids Are Sought

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz has announced the city plans to ask for sealed bids next week for construction of the new Market Street bridge.

Bids will be due at the office of City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery no later than 9:30 a. m. on Tuesday, October 4. Bids will be opened at 10 a. m. at a public meeting.

Bids are to be received on either or both Alternate A or Alternate B type construction.

Under plans, notice to proceed with the work after the contract is awarded will be given on or about November 7 but not later than November 22.

Under Alternate A, all traffic must be maintained on the existing structure until March 5, 1956 and all work completed within 180 working days after March 5. Abutments must be completed to elevations of their bridge seats before July 1, 1956.

Under Alternate B, the existing structure can be demolished immediately after award and notice to proceed, and all work must be completed within 180 working days. Abutments must be complete to the elevations before July 1, 1956.

Work to be done under the contract consists generally of furnishing and delivering all materials and performance of all work for construction of the bridge and its approaches. The span consists of one composite girder span on reinforced concrete abutments, concrete deck and paved approaches.

Specifications, plans and other contract documents will be available at the office of the city engineer on and after August 29. A charge of $10 will be made. Each bid or proposal will be accompanied by a $15,000 proposal guaranty and bond in the amount of the contract price will be required of the successful bidder. The city reserves the right to reject any and all bids under the proposal.

In planning of the bridge, estimates have placed cost in the neighborhood of $233,000.

To Conduct Service

Rabbi Maurice Newhoff, Philadelphia, will be the guest rabbi for services this evening at the Beth Jacob Congregation. Cantor Moe Sachs will chant the liturgy and the services will be followed by an Oneg Shabbat.

Chipped nail polish? Not when these tricks cope with emergencies.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

There's no explaining away chipped nail polish. It simply marks you down as careless, no matter how understandable sudden damage is on a busy day.

Tricks must be learned to cope with emergencies wherever you are, and a well-supplied kit at the office is their mainstay. It should include polish in the shade you are wearing, emery boards, remover, over-coating, patching equipment and perhaps a bottle of almost clear polish.

Of course, the best plan is a complete re-do of nails that are chipped, but sometimes chips can be filled in lightly and new polish applied over the whole nails after filled-in spots dry. If the top of the nail has torn off, filing to the top of the polish line may be remedy enough, but a split nail demands patching equipment. The book of thin patching tissues and the transparent cement needed may be purchased wherever complete manicure supplies are sold. They save the nail until it grows out again.

If several nails are chipped and there's little time, it may be easier and more successful to remove all deeper polish and apply a single coat of the nearly clear polish. This polish may be tinged with pink, but application does not demand the care and number of steps that red shades do. It does make the nails look carefully polished.

Apply a light colorless top coat to your nails every day or so to ward off chipping, and this is a good idea just before leaving the office for a date. Carry an emery board in your handbag so it's always possible to file lightly and thus remove signs of polish wear or slight chipping, and in a sudden emergency away from better help, fill in the chip with lipstick.

BPW National Security Group To Register County

The National Security committee of the Business and Professional Women's Club plans to continue the county wide registration and information program, Mrs. Effie Parsons, chairman, reports. The program was begun last year.

With the Education and Vocations committee and the Public Affairs committee of the club, the National Security group will work also with Civil Defense authorities to educate the public to the real need of civil defense in this community.

Registration of the public, for quick recruitment into service in case of an emergency, was held in June in Cumberland. Plans now include further registration within the city and initial registration in other towns of Allegany county.

ESB Hands Down Rulings In Plant Furlough Cases

The State Employment Security Board has handed down decisions in six cases involving workers at the Amcelle Plant of Celanese Corporation of America in connection with receipt of unemployment benefits.

Leslie J. Clark, attorney for Local 1874, Textile Workers Union (CIO), has received copies of the board's decision decided in favor or of five of the employes and against one of them.

The issue concerned whether or not the claimant has received unemployment compensation benefits to which he was not entitled within the meaning of the state unemployment compensation law.

The decision in favor of five of the workers was identical. All five had been furloughed workers and after they had been recalled to the Amcelle plant they were given vacation pay checks. The Celanese applied the vacation pay to a period when the men were on furlough and so notified the ESB.

On the basis of applying the vacation pay to the weeks to which the employer applied it, the five claimants had received overpayments in jobless pay. The ESB, of which Robert B. Kimble is chairman, ruled that the Celanese had "apparently arbitrarily" attempted to apply the vacation pay retroactively to weeks that had already passed, during which the claimant was on furlough and received unemployment compensation.

The ruling of a claims examiner was reversed by the ESB and the opinion handed down was that the five men in question had not been employed.

In the sixth case, the man was notified he was furloughed and then paid the vacation pay due him at that time.

The workers in whose favor the board ruled are Walter A. Collins, 445 Williams Street; Herman Clark, Route 1, Hyndman; Robert E. Brannon, Louisiana Avenue; Francis Hess, 150 North Machanic Street; and Earl H. Smith, of Ellerslie.

The attorney for the union said he understands there are quite a few cases with similar facts involving workers at the Amcelle Plant.

A hearing was held here in May and then a final session before the board took place June 29 in Baltimore.

Allegany County Schools To Open September 6

Allegany County public schools will open Tuesday, September 6, with a half-day session.

182 Days Set

The school term will consist of 182 days with the final session coming next June 8, according to Webster. New pupils will register next Wednesday, August 31 from 9 a. m. to noon at the school in their neighborhood.

The first holiday of the school year will be October 20 and 21 when the instructors will be in Baltimore to attend a session of the Maryland State Teachers Association.

The Thanksgiving holiday will start Wednesday, November 23 and continue until Monday, November 28. The Christmas holidays will start December 21 and continue to January 3. The Easter holidays will begin March 28 and end on April 4. On May 30, Memorial Day, will be observed as a holiday.

August Rainfall Has Been Heavy

August has been quite a month.

There was the bustle of the Bicentennial, and now the Cumberland Fair, together with some unusual weather.

The weather has remained the topmost piece of news, however, as hurricanes wreaked their havoc and deposited much rain on this area.

With still a week to go, Cumberland has had more than twice as much rainfall for August as it normally does.

The records of R. R. Golden, official Weather Bureau observer here, reveal a total of 7.65 inches has fallen.

The average rainfall for the city during August is 3.48 inches.

It has rained on nine days while a trace has been reported on three other days.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week there was a total of 3.44 inches deposited by Hurricane Diane. That brought last Thursday's flood.

Over the previous weekend, as Hurricane Connie came through, there was 2.22 inches of rain.

Now, the Weather Bureau reports another hurricane, Edith by name, is on her way.

However, there will have to be at least four and a half inches more rainfall to break the local record. That was 12.2 inches in August of 1915.

To Protest Bus Service

The Baltimore and Ohio Federation No. 7 will appear before the Mayor and Council Monday morning to protest the scheduled curtailment of additional buses in Cumberland by the Cumberland Transit Lines.

Property Transactions Are Heavy In This County

The sale of properties in Allegany County has been brisk during the past two weeks, with the trend established by the number of deeds recorded the past two days in the office of Clerk of Circuit Court Joseph E. Boden.

The sale of a home on Greene Street involved quite a number of persons, all members of the same family.

The parties selling the home, former residence of George J. Sell, who died on February 10, 1928, and his wife, Nellie Sell, who died June 10, included:

Norman E. Sell, executor of the George J. Sell and attorney in fact for: Clara Mae and John Hession, Helen and Clarence Getzendanner, Baltimore; Mildred and Philip Christ; Robert and Beatrice Sell, Albert and Lillian H. Sell, Dorothy Sell Hallinan and James Hallinan, all of Cumberland; Raymond J. and Kathleen B. Sell, Hollywood, Fla.; George C. and Ursula Sell, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Elizabeth Nierman, Herbert Scribner, husband of Henrietta Sell Scribner, Pittsburgh; Herbert and Margaret V. Scribner, Cincinnati; John P. and Jean Scribner, Columbus, Ohio, and Lillian Sell.

The property was sold to Robert H. and Beatrice Sell of this city.

In another transaction, Dora A. and William R. Miller of Washington, Pa., sold property in Barton near Laurel Hill Cemetery to Barton Lodge 94, IOOF.

Marian F. Siebert, executrix of the estate of the late James A. Jackson, assistant chief of the City Fire Department at the time of his death, sold property on Henderson Avenue to Francis L. and Helen S. Fradiska.

A home and lot on Oldtown Road in the Mapleside section was sold by Benjamin F. and Irene W. Lashley to Earl E. and Eleanor J. Dyche.

Manuel and Isabell Winner have transferred property on District 26, located on the county road near the Winner Farm, to Kenneth Russell and Evelyn Marine Murphy.

George C. and Cathryn P. Christner have transferred ownership of a home and lot on the northeast side of West Street in LaVale to Donald E. and Amalia E. Davis.

Allegany County Schools To Open September 6

Allegany County public schools will open Tuesday, September 6, with a half-day session.

On Wednesday, September 7, another half-day session will be held and full days of classes will be held September 8 and 9.

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, said principals of elementary schools will meet at his office next Thursday morning while the high school principals will meet that afternoon. On Friday, September 2, the principals and teachers will meet at their individual schools at 9:30 a. m.

182 Days Set

The school term will consist of 182 days with the final session coming next June 8, according to Webster. New pupils will register next Wednesday, August 31 from 9 a. m. to noon at the school in their neighborhood.

The first holiday of the school year will be October 20 and 21 when the instructors will be in Baltimore to attend a session of the Maryland State Teachers Association.

Holidays Listed

The Thanksgiving holiday will start Wednesday, November 23 and continue until Monday, November 28. The Christmas holidays will start December 21 and continue to January 3. The Easter holidays will begin March 28 and end on April 4. On May 30, Memorial Day, will be observed as a holiday.

Although no figures will be available until after the first week of school, an enrollment of more than 15,000 children is anticipated.

A new school, Parkside Elementary, will be placed into use this term. It is located in LaVale and was only recently completed.

The word "meander," a verb that describes what all rivers do, came from the winding Meander river of western Asia Minor.

August Rainfall Has Been Heavy

August has been quite a month.

There was the bustle of the Bicentennial, and now the Cumberland Fair, together with some unusual weather.

The weather has remained the topmost piece of news, however, as hurricanes wreaked their havoc and deposited much rain on this area.

With still a week to go, Cumberland has had more than twice as much rainfall for August as it normally does.

The records of R. R. Golden, official Weather Bureau observer here, reveal a total of 7.65 inches has fallen.

The average rainfall for the city during August is 3.48 inches.

It has rained on nine days while a trace has been reported on three other days.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week there was a total of 3.44 inches deposited by Hurricane Diane. That brought last Thursday's flood.

Over the previous weekend, as Hurricane Connie came through, there was 2.22 inches of rain.

Now, the Weather Bureau reports another hurricane, Edith by name, is on her way.

However, there will have to be at least four and a half inches more rainfall to break the local record. That was 12.2 inches in August of 1915.

To Protest Bus Service

The Baltimore and Ohio Federation No. 7 will appear before the Mayor and Council Monday morning to protest the scheduled curtailment of additional buses in Cumberland by the Cumberland Transit Lines.

Property Transactions Are Heavy In This County

The sale of properties in Allegany County has been brisk during the past two weeks, with the trend established by the number of deeds recorded the past two days in the office of Clerk of Circuit Court Joseph E. Boden.

The sale of a home on Greene Street involved quite a number of persons, all members of the same family.

The parties selling the home, former residence of George J. Sell, who died on February 10, 1928, and his wife, Nellie Sell, who died June 10, included:

Norman E. Sell, executor of the George J. Sell and attorney in fact for: Clara Mae and John Hession, Helen and Clarence Getzendanner, Baltimore; Mildred and Philip Christ; Robert and Beatrice Sell, Albert and Lillian H. Sell, Dorothy Sell Hallinan and James Hallinan, all of Cumberland; Raymond J. and Kathleen B. Sell, Hollywood, Fla.; George C. and Ursula Sell, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Elizabeth Nierman, Herbert Scribner, husband of Henrietta Sell Scribner, Pittsburgh; Herbert and Margaret V. Scribner, Cincinnati; John P. and Jean Scribner, Columbus, Ohio, and Lillian Sell.

The property was sold to Robert H. and Beatrice Sell of this city.

In another transaction, Dora A. and William R. Miller of Washington, Pa., sold property in Barton near Laurel Hill Cemetery to Barton Lodge 94, IOOF.

Marian F. Siebert, executrix of the estate of the late James A. Jackson, assistant chief of the City Fire Department at the time of his death, sold property on Henderson Avenue to Francis L. and Helen S. Fradiska.

A home and lot on Oldtown Road in the Mapleside section was sold by Benjamin F. and Irene W. Lashley to Earl E. and Eleanor J. Dyche.

Manuel and Isabell Winner have transferred property on District 26, located on the county road near the Winner Farm, to Kenneth Russell and Evelyn Marine Murphy.

George C. and Cathryn P. Christner have transferred ownership of a home and lot on the northeast side of West Street in LaVale to Donald E. and Amalia E. Davis.

Helen G. Caldwell has sold property on West Main Street in Frostburg to William D., Anna L. and Ruth L. Hanson.

Alfred Schramm of Barton has sold his property on the east side of Railroad Street in that town to Curtis and Viola Griffith.

Aide Reports M'Arthur Advised HST To Send Troops Into Korea

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur advised President Harry S. Truman to send American ground forces into Korea to stop the Communist aggression in 1950, the general's wartime aide and confidant says.

In the third installment of his biography of MacArthur in Life Magazine, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney (Ret.) writes that the general made his recommendation after a personal tour of the front.

South Korean defenses were crumbling before the North Korean onslaught. The U. S. Air Force and Navy had been sent into action, but no ground troops. MacArthur cabled Truman:

"The only assurance for holding the present line and the ability to regain later the lost ground is through the introduction of United States ground combat forces into the Korean battle area. To continue to utilize the forces of our Air and Navy without an effective ground element cannot be decisive."

Whitney writes, "Thus MacArthur made the recommendation upon which President Truman based his decision to commit ground troops in Korea."

There followed an exchange of messages described by Whitney as "interesting to look back upon now."

"Said the general to the President: 'I can only repeat the pledge of my complete personal loyalty to you as well as an absolute devotion to your monumental struggle for peace and good will throughout the world. I hope I will not fail you.'

"Replied the President to the general: 'Your words confirm me in my firm belief in the wisdom of your selection.' "

Truman later dismissed MacArthur from his command in an episode still bitterly discussed by partisans of both men.

Most of this portion of Whitney's biography of his wartime commander describes the planning and execution of the dramatic Inchon landing which attacked the Reds from the rear.

Whitney says MacArthur encountered considerable opposition to the plan from the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington, due mainly to the difficulty of the landing at Inchon.

Finally, the joint chiefs sent Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, and Adm. Forrest Sherman, chief of naval operations, to Tokyo for a special conference with MacArthur.

MacArthur argued that only the Inchon landing would seize the initiative from the North Koreans. Whitney quotes him as saying:

"Make the wrong decision here — the fatal decision of inertia — and we will be done. I can almost hear the ticking of the second hand of destiny. We must act now or we will die."

Approval of the Inchon landing followed MacArthur's talk. The attack was mounted and it was successful. The North Koreans were routed.

Farmer Found No Improvement Ideas In Russia

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP) — An Arizona rancher reported today that his 7,500-mile tour of Russia failed to produce a single idea for improving his own farming operation.

John M. Jacobs of Phoenix was one of a group of American farmers who spent 37 days in the Soviet Union while a group of Russian farm leaders visited U. S. farmlands.

Jacobs, a cattle rancher and grower of vegetables, fruits and grain, returned to the United States yesterday. He flew here from New York to join his wife for a "few days of rest" before returning to Arizona.

"I can't say I picked up a single idea that can be adapted to my own farming operation," he said in an interview. "I didn't see anything that we aren't doing as well or better."

Saying he was exhausted, Jacobs explained that he was on the go 16 to 18 hours a day from his arrival in Moscow July 15 until his departure last Sunday. A man of slight build to begin with, he said he lost 12 pounds on his trip.

Jacobs said the Russians are doing "a pretty good job of farming" around Tashkent, a semi-tropical region he described as most comparable to Arizona of all the areas he visited.

"There," he said, "they are using a method of cotton spacing that might be tried out in some of our cotton areas. But I don't really see any improvement over our own methods."

In general, Jacobs said Russian agricultural production is not up to that in the United States either in quality or quantity.

"Never, in my opinion, will they get under their system the efficiency of production that we get under our system," he said.

He said grass roots farmers in Russia have virtually no voice in planning, with directives and planting orders all coming out of government offices.

The result, he said, is that every area is planting corn in a government effort to increase corn production.

Jacobs said all of European Russia "has a great potential for future irrigation."

He expressed friendship and sympathy for the Russian people, but he said he returned with "a more intense feeling against a system which permits a small minority to be in absolute control and domination of a country."

Welder Delivers Own Son At Home

COFFEYSVILLE, Kan., Aug. 25 (AP)—A 35-year-old welder who had studied up on obstetrics delivered his own son at his home early yesterday.

The father, Scott H. Fox, said the birth was "completely normal." The baby weighed 8 pounds, 9½ ounces.

Fox's 18-year-old wife and new son, Lex Monroe, were reported doing fine.

Because of difficulties during a former pregnancy and birth when she lost a baby, Mrs. Fox refused to see a doctor this time or go to a hospital for the delivery.

Several months ago Fox began reading library books on obstetrics and, armed with this knowledge, officiated at the birth today—just as he and his wife had planned.

"I have no wish for further experience along the lines of child birth. It's just no job for a welder," he said.

Going To The Dogs

RIVERHEAD, N. Y., Aug. 24 (AP)—The Farm Bureau figures Suffolk County is going to the dogs—it led the state in dog damage last year, including the loss of 10,613 chickens and other fowl in 584 recorded pack raids.

L. A. Devenpeck, assistant county agent, has appealed to vacationers not to abandon their dogs at summer's end. He figures the neglected dogs gang up in packs of up to 10 animals to forage for a living.

Because astronomers know quite accurately how the earth, sun and moon are moving, they can figure out long in advance when the three bodies will be in such a position as to cause an eclipse.

Russian Press Reveals Failures In Agriculture

MOSCOW, Aug. 25 (AP)—Pravda, papers have disclosed serious Izvestia and other Soviet newsfailures in the nation's agriculture, especially in the production of meat and of fodder for livestock.

The newspapers called upon the Communist Party and the government to take measures to correct the failures.

"The party, Soviet and agricultural organizations in many regions and republics still are supervising the production and stocking of fodder in an unsatisfactory manner," said the official Communist Party newspaper Pravda.

"The lack of good shelter for cattle and low level mechanization and labor-saving devices in publicly owned animal husbandry is producing a bad effect in the development of this key branch of the economy.

"In a number of regions, districts and republics, fodder stocking work is even worse than last year."

Izvestia, the government paper, devoted its complaints to winter sowing. It said, "quite a number of collective and state farms and machine-tractor stations are again repeating the mistakes of previous years by unjustified procrastination in the sowing campaign.

The local newspaper, Moscow Pravda, said "in many parts of the Moscow region harvesting is going ahead in an exceedingly unsatisfactory manner."

This is the first harvest totally supervised by party and government functionaries who replaced old managers on some 30,000 collective farms—one third of all collectives—last spring. That drastic move was aimed at increasing food production.

There are many reasons for the lack of success of the all-out farm production drive in the Soviet Union, particularly in the newly developing virgin lands program.

Weather conditions in some of the virgin land areas of Siberia and Central Asia are so bad that there is danger of a dustbowl developing. On top of that, however, the early enthusiasm for the program, sparked by party secretary Khrushchev, has worn off.

This is evident in the reports of the Soviet press, which carry many complaining letters from the new lands. There is a grave lack of the barest amenities of life in many of these areas. The housing program has lagged far behind in a cruel land where shelter is of the utmost importance. The distribution problems are mountainous, and the new farmers, many of them plucked from the cities, fail to understand as well as the native people of the areas the limitations of the land.

Editor Finds Move Toward Interracial Church Has Sturdy, Sincere Opposition

By HERMAN ALLEN
(For George Cornell)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP) — While most of the larger Protestant denominations have accepted the principle of racial integration in public schools, a distinguished religious news editor finds that "the move toward an interracial church, particularly at the congregational level, has sturdy, sincere opposition.'

"One aspect of the segregation debate is heartening, however," says Caspar Nannes, of the Washington Evening Star.

"There appears a conscious effort in church circles to probe the issue without impugning unworthy motives . . . Speakers have been concentrating their fire on the subject rather than their opponents. Considering the tinder-box nature of the debate, this is no mean achievement."

Dr. Nannes completed a survey of the church integration situation this summer. He noted that the Methodist Church, the American (Northern) Baptist Convention, the Presbyterian Church, U.S. (Southern), and the Episcopal Church, among others, have taken stands in favor of church desegregation.

Several large denominations have refused to schedule national meetings in cities which cannot guarantee that hotels, restaurants and the like will be open to all delegates regardless of race. The Episcopalians, who had previously scheduled their triennial general convention for Houston, Tex., this fall, moved it to Honolulu when Houston could not make such a guarantee.

Statement of principle at the top level, however, is not the same as action at the congregational level, and few if any Protestant denominations have top-level authority to impose such a principle as desegregation on local churches.

A study of 405 churches by the National Council of Churches shows that only 2.7 per cent of their total 237,000 members are nonwhite. However, only 26 persons have left their churches because nonwhites are admitted, the survey indicated.

Allowances Upped

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP) — Most of the 35,000 Korean veterans taking farm training under the GI Bill will find more money in their checks in November, under a law signed by President Eisenhower.

The new act provides that farm trainees receive the full rate of GI allowances for their first year of training. After that, the allowances will be reduced every four months.

Previously, farm trainees received the full rate only for the first four months and the amounts were reduced at four-month intervals.

Mexico's Uranium Issue Heads For Investigation

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 25 (AP)—The vexing question of Mexico's uranium resources seems headed for a congressional investigation.

Congressional committees are a little used means of investigation in Mexico. But the Recess Committee has put uranium on the agenda for the new session which starts Sept. 1.

The present dispute is between critics of the government and the government itself. The critics, many of them left-wingers, say uranium is being smuggled out of the country. The government says it is not.

The matter was touched off by the exploits of a curious engineer for the Water Resources Ministry. Working on a dam in eastern Oaxaca state, he collected some nine tons of rocks which showed high radio activity. The Ministry of National Economy, quoting a Mexican law reserving all uranium deposits for the government, ordered him to turn them over. He did, but his ministry objected. This part of the matter was settled when the National Economy Ministry promised to give the Water Resources Ministry a permit.

Then the left-wingers blasted out. They said the government had secretly given private persons concessions to mine uranium. The government denied this and said the importance of the uranium deposits in Oaxaca state had been overestimated.

A little-known journalist took the matter to Congress. The congressional probe will develop a lot of heat, even if it doesn't throw much light on the problem. The left-wingers are busily beating the drum to the effect that Mexico's uranium is being sent to the United States, one way or another.

The right-wingers are countering with another story: That Russian tourists are busy buying up Oaxaca pots which are made of radioactive clay.

Britons Battle 'Dollar Curtain'

LONDON, Aug. 25 (AP)—An onslaught has started against the "dollar curtain" — the British government restrictions that bar British tourists from the United States.

Travel agencies and newspapers are leading the campaign. They point out that Mr. and Mrs. Briton now can take a holiday even in Moscow — but still can't take a look at their North American friends.

The reason for the ban is simple. Tourists in the United States and Canada would spend dollars—and Britain is short of dollars. As a result, the treasury limits North American travel to British businessmen and people visiting close relatives.

The Assn. of British Travel Agents has frequently urged the treasury to lift the ban, an association spokesman said. He said the association believes the amount of transatlantic travel would never amount to a real drain on dollar resources — and might pay big dividends in encouraging Americans to pay return visits over here.

One ABTA idea is that the treasury could set up a limited pool of "travel dollars." Then each tourist wanting to visit the States or Canada could buy a share — say $150—until that year's pool was exhausted.

Editor Finds Move Toward Interracial Church Has Sturdy, Sincere Opposition

By HERMAN ALLEN
(For George Cornell)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP) — While most of the larger Protestant denominations have accepted the principle of racial integration in public schools, a distinguished religious news editor finds that "the move toward an interracial church, particularly at the congregational level, has sturdy, sincere opposition.'

"One aspect of the segregation debate is heartening, however," says Caspar Nannes, of the Washington Evening Star.

"There appears a conscious effort in church circles to probe the issue without impugning unworthy motives . . . Speakers have been concentrating their fire on the subject rather than their opponents. Considering the tinder-box nature of the debate, this is no mean achievement."

Dr. Nannes completed a survey of the church integration situation this summer. He noted that the Methodist Church, the American (Northern) Baptist Convention, the Presbyterian Church, U.S. (Southern), and the Episcopal Church, among others, have taken stands in favor of church desegregation.

Several large denominations have refused to schedule national meetings in cities which cannot guarantee that hotels, restaurants and the like will be open to all delegates regardless of race. The Episcopalians, who had previously scheduled their triennial general convention for Houston, Tex., this fall, moved it to Honolulu when Houston could not make such a guarantee.

Statement of principle at the top level, however, is not the same as action at the congregational level, and few if any Protestant denominations have top-level authority to impose such a principle as desegregation on local churches.

A study of 405 churches by the National Council of Churches shows that only 2.7 per cent of their total 237,000 members are nonwhite. However, only 26 persons have left their churches because nonwhites are admitted, the survey indicated.

Allowances Upped

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP) — Most of the 35,000 Korean veterans taking farm training under the GI Bill will find more money in their checks in November, under a law signed by President Eisenhower.

The new act provides that farm trainees receive the full rate of GI allowances for their first year of training. After that, the allowances will be reduced every four months.

Previously, farm trainees received the full rate only for the first four months and the amounts were reduced at four-month intervals.

Mexico's Uranium Issue Heads For Investigation

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 25 (AP)—The vexing question of Mexico's uranium resources seems headed for a congressional investigation.

Congressional committees are a little used means of investigation in Mexico. But the Recess Committee has put uranium on the agenda for the new session which starts Sept. 1.

The present dispute is between critics of the government and the government itself. The critics, many of them left-wingers, say uranium is being smuggled out of the country. The government says it is not.

The matter was touched off by the exploits of a curious engineer for the Water Resources Ministry. Working on a dam in eastern Oaxaca state, he collected some nine tons of rocks which showed high radio activity. The Ministry of National Economy, quoting a Mexican law reserving all uranium deposits for the government, ordered him to turn them over. He did, but his ministry objected. This part of the matter was settled when the National Economy Ministry promised to give the Water Resources Ministry a permit.

Then the left-wingers blasted out. They said the government had secretly given private persons concessions to mine uranium. The government denied this and said the importance of the uranium deposits in Oaxaca state had been overestimated.

A little-known journalist took the matter to Congress. The congressional probe will develop a lot of heat, even if it doesn't throw much light on the problem. The left-wingers are busily beating the drum to the effect that Mexico's uranium is being sent to the United States, one way or another.

Plan To Evade Md. Auto Titling Tax Is Probed

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Maryland Department of Motor Vehicles said today it is investigating a scheme by which automobile dealers apparently have been supplying out-of-state license tags for service men who buy cars.

The scheme avoids Maryland's 2 per cent sales tax on automobiles.

A tip-off on the plan came this week from the trial at Laurel of an Iowa Army sergeant stationed at Ft. Meade.

He bought a car for $1,400 but the $28 Maryland titling tax was too much for his supply of ready cash.

He testified the Baltimore dealer from whom he bought the car, produced Virginia application forms and got license tags for him from that state, which has no titling tax. The sergeant, who lives near Laurel, gave Ft. Meade as his home address.

He was fined $25 after being arrested in Laurel for improper registration of his car.

Edward G. Layden, chief investigator for the Department of Motor Vehicles, said today he is making a check to see how many service men stationed in Maryland are driving with Virginia license plates on their cars.

The Maryland law permits civilian motorists to operate in the state 30 days on out-of-state license tags.

It permits service personnel to use their out-of-state tags until the end of the year for which they were registered in another state.

In either case, the owner of a car cannot get Maryland tags until he pays the 2 per cent titling or sales tax.

State Police Uniform Contract Is Upheld

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25 (AP)—Judge Herman M. Moser affirmed today the right of the state budget director to award a contract for state police uniforms costing $32,020 to the second lowest bidder.

The F and F Clothing Co., the low bidder, sued James G. Rennie because he gave the work to the Howard Uniform Co.

Judge Moser ruled Rennie could do so because of a contract stipulation the uniforms be made in the bidder's own shop. The F and F Co. couldn't meet that requirement.

Milk Price Boost Likely In Capital

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—Four Washington area dairies expect to increase milk prices one cent a quart next Thursday, the Evening Star said today.

The newspaper named the dairies as Chestnut Farm -Chevy Chase, Thompson's, Embassy and Alexandria. Another, Wakefield, said it would "follow the market" in setting milk prices.

Two of the dairies, the newspaper said, Chestnut Farms and Embassy, plan to drop their "secondary" brands of milk.

An automatic half cent increase had been expected next Thursday when producer prices take a seasonal jump.

Dairy spokesman said the extra half-cent increase is a result of a new wage contract for dairy employes that took effect last June.

Driver Of Death Car In New Jam, Gets Jail Term

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25 (AP)—Thurman T. Woodland, who killed a boy with his car and used a false name to get a new driver's license, was sentenced today to a year in jail.

Woodland's trouble started on Oct. 3, 1953, when he ran down and killed 15-year-old Thomas Skinner as the boy rode his bicycle along North Charles street at the north edge of Baltimore.

Woodland, who is 31, was arrested four blocks from the scene of the accident. He was untangling the bicycle from beneath his $40 car.

Woodland was charged with manslaughter and convicted. He was sentenced to serve a year in the House of Correction. His driver's permit was revoked.

Last April, after completing the sentence, Woodland applied for a driver's license under the name of Charles James Woodland, a dead uncle.

Patrolman Oliver Beck stopped Woodland last night because the car he was driving had an inadequate muffler and was making a lot of noise.

Woodland showed the officer the learner's permit issued in the name of Charles James Woodland. Patrolman Beck questioned him persistently because he remembered a man named Woodland had been involved in a hit and run accident.

Salesman Is Charged With Bank Robbery

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25 (AP)—A 33-year-old storm window salesman is to get a hearing Sept. 6 on charges he was the two-gun bandit who held up the Provident Savings Bank Aug. 12 last year and escaped with $2,350.

Police asked for a postponement in the preliminary hearing for Francis Anthony Sopel. Officers said they wanted time to bring "technical evidence from Washington, D. C." The nature of the evidence was not disclosed.

In addition to the robbery charge the 6-foot tall defendant is accused of car theft. He was held in $27,500 bail.

The territory of Wyoming passed a woman's suffrage law in 1869.

Almost Unbelievable Story Might Be True; Man Freed

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25 (AP)—Robert Brooke won his freedom today with a story the judge said was so unbelievable it just might be true.

Brooke is a 22-year-old steel worker, married and the father of one child.

He said he ran into a "Mr. Moe" in a tavern. They got into a gambling game. Brooke won $650.

"Mr. Moe" couldn't pay, but he agreed to give Brooke his car and they agreed between them it was worth $1,000.

Brooke gave "Mr. Moe" $200 in cash and finished making the instalment payments on the car.

Brooke was arrested last month while driving the car. It had been stolen in February.

"Why I've even paid parking tickets on that automobile," he protested.

Probation officers advised Judge Michael J. Manley they don't believe Brooke's story. The court psychiatrist said he didn't believe it either.

But Judge Manley suspended a one-year sentence he had imposed and put Brooke on probation for 18 months.

7th-Day Adventist Meeting Nears End

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25 (AP)—Special workshops and classes will close and new ministerial assignments will be announced tomorrow as delegates prepare for the last weekend of the Chesapeake Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists.

Twenty-eight persons will complete a five-day first aid course conducted by Albert A. Butler, secretary-treasurer of the conference. Fifty women will wind up the prescribed cooking lessons and receive cooking and nutrition certificates issued by the conference.

Illinois, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and West Virginia each produce more than 10 per cent of the soft coal mined in the United States.

47 State Truck Drivers Start Roadeo Tests Today

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25 (AP)—Forty-seven truck drivers will start Friday morning the tests and driving problems which will determine Maryland's champion driver.

It's the 8th annual Truck Safety Roadeo sponsored by the Maryland Motor Truck Assn.

Three winners from each of the contest's three divisions and the division champions from last year will compete in the finals Saturday.

Division champions in the finals are eligible for the national competition in Washington later this year.

The tests start with a written examination on first aid, fire fighting, safe driving rules and background knowledge of the trucking industry. The judges also will make an inspection and interview for courtesy, personality and neatness. The trucks used in the contest will be deliberately booby trapped and drivers will be rated on the way they spot these malfunctions before starting the roadeo's obstacle course at Memorial Stadium.

The youngest man ever elected to the United States Vice Presidency was John Breckinridge of Kentucky, who became Vice President in 1857 at the age of 36. He later served as Confederate secretary of war.

Plan To Evade Md. Auto Titling Tax Is Probed

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Maryland Department of Motor Vehicles said today it is investigating a scheme by which automobile dealers apparently have been supplying out-of-state license tags for service men who buy cars.

The scheme avoids Maryland's 2 per cent sales tax on automobiles.

A tip-off on the plan came this week from the trial at Laurel of an Iowa Army sergeant stationed at Ft. Meade.

He bought a car for $1,400 but the $28 Maryland titling tax was too much for his supply of ready cash.

He testified the Baltimore dealer from whom he bought the car, produced Virginia application forms and got license tags for him from that state, which has no titling tax. The sergeant, who lives near Laurel, gave Ft. Meade as his home address.

He was fined $25 after being arrested in Laurel for improper registration of his car.

Edward G. Layden, chief investigator for the Department of Motor Vehicles, said today he is making a check to see how many service men stationed in Maryland are driving with Virginia license plates on their cars.

The Maryland law permits civilian motorists to operate in the state 30 days on out-of-state license tags.

It permits service personnel to use their out-of-state tags until the end of the year for which they were registered in another state.

In either case, the owner of a car cannot get Maryland tags until he pays the 2 per cent titling or sales tax.

State Police Uniform Contract Is Upheld

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25 (AP)—Judge Herman M. Moser affirmed today the right of the state budget director to award a contract for state police uniforms costing $32,020 to the second lowest bidder.

The F and F Clothing Co., the low bidder, sued James G. Rennie because he gave the work to the Howard Uniform Co.

Judge Moser ruled Rennie could do so because of a contract stipulation the uniforms be made in the bidder's own shop. The F and F Co. couldn't meet that requirement.

Milk Price Boost Likely In Capital

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—Four Washington area dairies expect to increase milk prices one cent a quart next Thursday, the Evening Star said today.

The newspaper named the dairies as Chestnut Farm -Chevy Chase, Thompson's, Embassy and Alexandria. Another, Wakefield, said it would "follow the market" in setting milk prices.

Two of the dairies, the newspaper said, Chestnut Farms and Embassy, plan to drop their "secondary" brands of milk.

An automatic half cent increase had been expected next Thursday when producer prices take a seasonal jump.

Dairy spokesman said the extra half-cent increase is a result of a new wage contract for dairy employes that took effect last June.

Driver Of Death Car In New Jam, Gets Jail Term

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25 (AP)—Thurman T. Woodland, who killed a boy with his car and used a false name to get a new driver's license, was sentenced today to a year in jail.

Woodland's trouble started on Oct. 3, 1953, when he ran down and killed 15-year-old Thomas Skinner as the boy rode his bicycle along North Charles street at the north edge of Baltimore.

Woodland, who is 31, was arrested four blocks from the scene of the accident. He was untangling the bicycle from beneath his $40 car.

Woodland was charged with manslaughter and convicted. He was sentenced to serve a year in the House of Correction. His driver's permit was revoked.

Last April, after completing the sentence, Woodland applied for a driver's license under the name of Charles James Woodland, a dead uncle.

Patrolman Oliver Beck stopped Woodland last night because the car he was driving had an inadequate muffler and was making a lot of noise.

Woodland showed the officer the learner's permit issued in the name of Charles James Woodland. Patrolman Beck questioned him persistently because he remembered a man named Woodland had been involved in a hit and run accident.

Salesman Is Charged With Bank Robbery

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25 (AP)—A 33-year-old storm window salesman is to get a hearing Sept. 6 on charges he was the two-gun bandit who held up the Provident Savings Bank Aug. 12 last year and escaped with $2,350.

Police asked for a postponement in the preliminary hearing for Francis Anthony Sopel. Officers said they wanted time to bring "technical evidence from Washington, D. C." The nature of the evidence was not disclosed.

In addition to the robbery charge the 6-foot tall defendant is accused of car theft. He was held in $27,500 bail.

The territory of Wyoming passed a woman's suffrage law in 1869.

Almost Unbelievable Story Might Be True; Man Freed

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25 (AP)—Robert Brooke won his freedom today with a story the judge said was so unbelievable it just might be true.

Brooke is a 22-year-old steel worker, married and the father of one child.

He said he ran into a "Mr. Moe" in a tavern. They got into a gambling game. Brooke won $650.

"Mr. Moe" couldn't pay, but he agreed to give Brooke his car and they agreed between them it was worth $1,000.

Brooke gave "Mr. Moe" $200 in cash and finished making the installment payments on the car.

Brooke was arrested last month while driving the car. It had been stolen in February.

"Why I've even paid parking tickets on that automobile," he protested.

Probation officers advised Judge Michael J. Manley they don't believe Brooke's story. The court psychiatrist said he didn't believe it either.

But Judge Manley suspended a one-year sentence he had imposed and put Brooke on probation for 18 months.

7th-Day Adventist Meeting Nears End

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25 (AP)—Special workshops and classes will close and new ministerial assignments will be announced tomorrow as delegates prepare for the last weekend of the Chesapeake Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists.

Twenty-eight persons will complete a five-day first aid course conducted by Albert A. Butler, secretary-treasurer of the conference. Fifty women will wind up the prescribed cooking lessons and receive cooking and nutrition certificates issued by the conference.

Illinois, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and West Virginia each produce more than 10 per cent of the soft coal mined in the United States.

47 State Truck Drivers Start Roadeo Tests Today

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25 (AP)—Forty-seven truck drivers will start Friday morning the tests and driving problems which will determine Maryland's champion driver.

It's the 8th annual Truck Safety Roadeo sponsored by the Maryland Motor Truck Assn.

Three winners from each of the contest's three divisions and the division champions from last year will compete in the finals Saturday.

Division champions in the finals are eligible for the national competition in Washington later this year.

The tests start with a written examination on first aid, fire fighting, safe driving rules and background knowledge of the trucking industry. The judges also will make an inspection and interview for courtesy, personality and neatness. The trucks used in the contest will be deliberately booby trapped and drivers will be rated on the way they spot these malfunctions before starting the roadeo's obstacle course at Memorial Stadium.

The youngest man ever elected to the United States Vice Presidency was John Breckinridge of Kentucky, who became Vice President in 1857 at the age of 36. He later served as Confederate secretary of war.

Market, Paced By Steels, Coppers, Scores Advance

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP) — The stock market, paced by steels and coppers, scored its third straight daily rise today.

For the second successive day, volume pierced the two-million-share mark, a refreshing change over performance for the past couple of weeks when sales hovered around a million-and-a-half daily.

Steel prices were firm from the start and stayed that way. Coppers came along later to outdo the steels.

Announcement by Anaconda that it was raising copper prices again, this time three cents to 43 cents a pound, sent that stock up 3⅞ to close at 81⅝.

Other copper issues made about the same kind of gains but Magma leaped 6⅛ to close at 105.

Steels were up from fractions to more than 3 points.

News of a two-for-one stock split and a higher cash dividend spurred Bulova Watch upward 5¼ points to close at 72¾. Reynolds Metals and American Sugar also spurted on higher dividends although both stocks made substantial gains yesterday before the news was announced.

American Telephone & Telegraph was the day's most active stock for the fifth straight session with 171,400 shares traded. It was off ⅛ at 178½.

Couple Sues Movie Studio For $750,000

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24 (AP)—An Inglewood, Calif., couple today sued Columbia Pictures Corp., for $750,000, charing that the motion picture, "The Night Holds Terror," is based on an incident concerning their son who is serving a prison sentence.

The complaint brought by Leonard D. Mahon and his wife, Alberta, states that the picture portrays their son Leonard Jr., as a "brute and mastermind criminal." Mahon Jr., 30, was convicted here on kidnap-robbery charges in 1953 and is now in San Quentin Prison.

The couple, charging an invasion of their privacy, said Mahon Sr. has been unable to get a job due to adverse publicity.

Young Mahon was convicted with two others of abducting a motorist, and forcing him to sell his automobile and withdraw money from a bank to give to them.

Paul Florence, Redlegs' scout, tapped a kid pitcher in Florida, Paul Diamond, who pitched for him barefooted on a farm diamond. The pitcher was sent to Douglas, Ga., with shoes.

Market, Paced By Steels, Coppers, Scores Advance

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP) — The stock market, paced by steels and coppers, scored its third straight daily rise today.

For the second successive day, volume pierced the two-million-share mark, a refreshing change over performance for the past couple of weeks when sales hovered around a million-and-a-half daily.

Steel prices were firm from the start and stayed that way. Coppers came along later to outdo the steels.

Announcement by Anaconda that it was raising copper prices again, this time three cents to 43 cents a pound, sent that stock up 3⅞ to close at 81⅝.

Other copper issues made about the same kind of gains but Magma leaped 6⅛ to close at 105.

Steels were up from fractions to more than 3 points.

News of a two-for-one stock split and a higher cash dividend spurred Bulova Watch upward 5¼ points to close at 72¾. Reynolds Metals and American Sugar also spurted on higher dividends although both stocks made substantial gains yesterday before the news was announced.

American Telephone & Telegraph was the day's most active stock for the fifth straight session with 171,400 shares traded. It was off ⅛ at 178½.

Couple Sues Movie Studio For $750,000

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24 (AP)—An Inglewood, Calif., couple today sued Columbia Pictures Corp., for $750,000, charing that the motion picture, "The Night Holds Terror," is based on an incident concerning their son who is serving a prison sentence.

The complaint brought by Leonard D. Mahon and his wife, Alberta, states that the picture portrays their son Leonard Jr., as a "brute and mastermind criminal." Mahon Jr., 30, was convicted here on kidnap-robbery charges in 1953 and is now in San Quentin Prison.

The couple, charging an invasion of their privacy, said Mahon Sr. has been unable to get a job due to adverse publicity.

Young Mahon was convicted with two others of abducting a motorist, and forcing him to sell his automobile and withdraw money from a bank to give to them.

Ridgeley May Raise Rates

A special meeting of the Mayor and Council of Ridgeley will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the council chamber to discuss the recent raise in water rent by the City of Cumberland.

Mayor Charles H. Fryer last night said the public is invited to attend. The Mayor and Council will go over the water funds as set up in the budget to find out if an increase in individual consumers' rate is necessary.

If the present funds as set up will cover the thirty-three and a third per cent raise levied by Cumberland, effective July 1, an increase for the individual consumers will not be necessary, Mayor Fryer pointed out. It is hoped that an additional raise is not necessary, he added.

The community lawyer, Harry Drane of Piedmont, will also attend the meeting. If the increase is required then the Public Service Commission will be approached for the necessary boost.

PLANS TO RELAX—Charles W. Short, 66, of Springfield, W. Va., receives a certificate of retirement from Roy W. Eves, superintendent of the B. & O. Bolt and Forge Shop. Short retired recently as a carman helper at the shop following 11 years and two months of service with the B. & O. His retirement plans are simple, since he says he "plans to just relax and take it easy."

City Tax Bills Being Prepared

Workers in the City Tax Office will begin addressing tax bills today.

Supplies of forms, printed on pink paper, were delivered yesterday to George E. Davis, city collector.

The 1955 tax rate will be $1.50 per $100, including $1.1698 for city operating expense and $.3302 for debt service.

When the addresses are placed on the bills, they will be taken to the City Finance Department, which will list assessments and compute the amount of the tax.

The city taxes may be paid without interest charges on or before October 24. After that date, interest at the rate of one-half of one per cent a month is charged.

The interest rate, however, goes back to Wednesday, August 24, the date the Mayor and Council set the 1955 levy.

The statements will be mailed about September 24.

Kills Rattlesnake

A large rattlesnake was killed on Shade's Lane, within the city limits, late yesterday afternoon by Early Smith, 110 Mullin Street. Smith ran over the snake, which was about 3½ feet long, with his car and then had to batter its head in when it tried to get away.

Ridgeley Resident Injured In Crash

A Ridgeley resident was treated at Sacred Heart Hospital last night for injuries which she sustained in a two-car crash which authorities reported occurred on Route [redacted] near Valentine's Motel.

Sylvia Van Meter, of 23 Potomac Street, sustained an injury to her nose and was taken to the hospital, according to police, by a passing motorist. Full details of the crash were not known late last night.

Outdoor Club Plans Bus To Rodeo For Crippled Children

The Cumberland Outdoor Club will provide a bus to take handicapped children to the annual fishing rodeo near Oldtown Saturday.

The City Recreation Department, co-sponsor of the rodeo, said the bus will leave the Crippled Children's League Saturday at 10 a. m.

Handicapped children, it said, should be accompanied either by a parent or a responsible adult.

Associations from seven of the city's 16 playgrounds also plan to run buses to the rodeo. They include Centre Street, North End, Penn Avenue, Mapleside, Post, East Side and Columbia Street Playgrounds.

Local Man Saves Life Of Swimmer

William P. Wolfington Jr., 25-year-old local resident who has been working this summer as a lifeguard at Ocean City, is credited with saving the life of a 15-year-old Taylorville, Md., girl Monday night when he pulled her from surf at that resort, according to the Ocean City Information Center.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Wolfington, 213 Oak Street, he was off-duty at the time the incident occurred.

Wolfington was seated on the boardwalk after eating Monday evening, his back to the ocean, when he heard a sound coming from the direction of the surf. He looked in the direction but failed to see anything and credited gulls with making the sound, the center reported.

However, after the sound was repeated a short time later, Wolfington stood up on a bench to get a better look out over the ocean and saw a head bobbing up and down in the water about 100 feet out. He ran to the rescue, shedding his shirt and pants on the way and kicking off his shoes just before diving in.

Wolfington had to apply artificial respiration for about 10 minutes before the arrival of the Coast Guard with a resusitator. After being revived, the girl was admitted to a hospital for observation.

Prior to this year, Wolfington had worked as a lifeguard at the Constitution Park pool for four years.

Outdoor Club Plans Bus To Rodeo For Crippled Children

The Cumberland Outdoor Club will provide a bus to take handicapped children to the annual fishing rodeo near Oldtown Saturday.

The City Recreation Department, co-sponsor of the rodeo, said the bus will leave the Crippled Children's League Saturday at 10 a. m.

Handicapped children, it said, should be accompanied either by a parent or a responsible adult.

Associations from seven of the city's 16 playgrounds also plan to run buses to the rodeo. They include Centre Street, North End, Penn Avenue, Mapleside, Post, East Side and Columbia Street Playgrounds.

Local Man Saves Life Of Swimmer

William P. Wolfington Jr., 25-year-old local resident who has been working this summer as a lifeguard at Ocean City, is credited with saving the life of a 15-year-old Taylorville, Md., girl Monday night when he pulled her from surf at that resort, according to the Ocean City Information Center.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Wolfington, 213 Oak Street, he was off-duty at the time the incident occurred.

Wolfington was seated on the boardwalk after eating Monday evening, his back to the ocean, when he heard a sound coming from the direction of the surf. He looked in the direction but failed to see anything and credited gulls with making the sound, the center reported.

However, after the sound was repeated a short time later, Wolfington stood up on a bench to get a better look out over the ocean and saw a head bobbing up and down in the water about 100 feet out. He ran to the rescue, shedding his shirt and pants on the way and kicking off his shoes just before diving in.

Wolfington had to apply artificial respiration for about 10 minutes before the arrival of the Coast Guard with a resusitator. After being revived, the girl was admitted to a hospital for observation.

Prior to this year, Wolfington had worked as a lifeguard at the Constitution Park pool for four years.

Disaster May Not Be One-Time Deal

Now that the East's most disastrous floods in years, with a toll of more than 200 dead and property damage exceeding a billion dollars, have ended, leaving industries ruined, roads and bridges washed away, thousands of homes destroyed, and water supplies and other public utilities disrupted, the slow, agonizing work of reconstruction has begun.

First thought naturally has been to succor the victims of the disaster, and inoculations against typhoid have been given to scores of thousands. The danger of disease is great because water supplies are polluted.

A large part of the northwestern United States is emerging from one of the worst natural disasters in its history, a natural disaster of the magnitude of the floods which formerly ravaged annually the valleys of such greater rivers as the Ohio and the Mississippi, and which cause untold damage along such untamed rivers as the Yellow in China each year.

While the combination of natural forces which brought on the disaster is extremely rare, there is no certainty that this is going to be a one-time deal. There is a possibility that a change in the upper air currents over the Atlantic may have more or less permanently changed the normal course of hurricanes. If so, more and more of them may hit the North Atlantic seaboard instead of blowing themselves out over the ocean.

Such a development would create problems that would eclipse those of controlling mere river floods, great as they are. Torrential downpours of up to a foot could strike anywhere and leave disaster in their wake.

The Meeting Of Minds

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Fraud Orders

How many police forces does the government employ? I have not noticed this item in the Hoover reports, although I should imagine when I have read them all, something will appear on the subject of duplicative police activities in the executive branch of the government. One difficulty in any analysis of these police activities is that they are not so described by law. Usually they derive from the investigative powers of various agencies which grow increasingly complex and competitive.

For instance, the Post Office has, by law, a vast police authority which has grown over the history of the Republic. The present postmaster general is not responsible for any of it, but he or any of his successors can be made utterly ridiculous by an overzealous inspector who has to decide what is a moral and what is a fraud. Is Lysistrata immoral?

One of the problems is for the Post Office to decide what medical activities are virtuous and what are frauds. How can the Post Office decide that when the doctors disagree? For instance, not so long ago we were all involved in some stuff called chlorophyll which is the green in grass and leaves. We were given chlorophyll in all sorts of things to do something or other for us. For a while, every drug store was covered with green advertisements. These items were sold legitimately and perfectly ethical drug companies earned money from them. Today the stuff is strictly passe. Chlorophyll in chewing gum is out of fashion.

On the other hand, snakeroot, which the old medicine man sold at the tail-end of his wagon for a dollar a bottle and cure guaranteed or money back, was, for years, regarded as a fake. The peddlers were moved along by the police. Today, when the heart begins to go ziggety-zaggety, the doctors prescribe "Raudixin," which is manufactured from the whole root of "Rauwolfia serpentina," in a word, snakeroot—the same as the old medicine man used to sell. Some old remedies are becoming popular with the medical profession as doctors know more about them. The Chinese knew about antibiotics centuries ago and so did the peasants of Europe but the doctors only recently discovered that the mould on kvass is a remedy.

(Whenever your doctor prescribes trade-name medicines, tell him to write "original package" on his prescription. You will save money as some pharmacists charge for taking it out of the original bottle and putting it into one of their own, or just as much for pasting a private label over the original one).

Now, the Post Office, the Federal Trade Commission, the Food and Drug Administration are empowered to read all advertisements and to use their great authorities to prevent fraud. They can prevent a toothpaste company from saying that some special stuff put into the toothpaste saves the teeth. But does any toothpaste save teeth? Some dentists say that no toothpaste will do that and they tell their patients to use plain table salt instead of toothpaste which contains abrasives. Yet no one proposes to stop all toothpaste advertising. By what rule of life or thumb do these agencies pursue their noble purposes?

For instance, my old friend, Bernarr Macfadden years ago got into trouble with the Post Office for advertising a cure for something or other. Macfadden's defense was that he advertised no cure. All he did was to advise folks how to keep well. Macfadden ought to know something about that because he started his manhood as a consumptive and has managed to live to his 87th birthday, a powerful physical figure. He once gave me a friendly poke in the solar plexus, for fun, and I think I feel it yet. He has resisted medical aid and lives on vegetables and nuts which are a bore and may be the cause of his various matrimonial troubles. If Macfadden sells his experience for money, is he more unethical than the physicians who prescribe powerful remedies before they were sure of their effects on the particular individual?

This is not written in criticism of physicians, pharmacists or antibiotics, except the multiplicity of policing by the federal government, so that if a fellow wants to buy snakeroot as a cure, he cannot do it until the doctors have rechristened it "Raudixin," whereupon it becomes kosher and no one goes to jail.

"Cold War" Goes On Despite Peace Offensive

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—The "cold war" goes on despite the professions of peaceful purpose which emanate regularly from the Communist leaders.

While the quarrels inside Morocco and Algeria are by no means of Communist origin, there is no question but that Communist money and scheming inside both countries has inflamed the situation.

Thus, for example, the North African Liberation Committee, which has been behind these disorders, operates on Egyptian territory. The French have been well aware for some time that the Egyptian government has permitted the committee to broadcast from its territory a good deal of inflammatory propaganda directed to Algeria, Morocco and Tunisia. A Communist station in Budapest keeps up a similar line.

By promoting agitation and even sending funds and some arms to stir up trouble, the North African committee was able to synchronize the uprisings. Newsmen knew in advance of the expected disorders. It all has the markings of a carefully nurtured plot to cause embarrassment to the French.

Real Objective Broader

But the real objective as it affects the Western Allies is broader. One result has been to withdraw thousands of troops from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Europe and another has been to imperil the American air bases in Morocco.

A "cold war" to some extent has the same objectives as a hot war. The purpose is to weaken the enemy's military strength and organization. NATO isn't as strong without the French divisions now in Africa as it would be with them. Likewise, if an atomic attack came suddenly, it is questionable whether American overseas bases wouldn't be subject to sabotage and interference by locally armed bands. The United States does not maintain large bodies of troops overseas to guard these bases and, in an emergency, would have to divert divisions from Europe to Africa to safeguard the bases from which our bombers must take off.

It is true, of course, that the basic issues of nationalism didn't start with the Communists, but the latter took advantage of the ferment. Even when self-rule is granted, however, troubles for the parent country do not cease. The adoption of a plan for autonomy in Tunisia was merely the prelude to the fomenting of internal dissension elsewhere in North Africa. Once there is a plan also for Algeria and Morocco, other sources of friction will be developed by the Communists.

Least Expensive Warfare

Back of the strategy of infiltration and subversion is the idea that this form of warfare is least expensive and can pay off in actual control or intimidation of the smaller governments once they obtain their independence. The Egyptian independence movement had Communist backing and, once the British were driven out, the Egyptian leaders found it expedient to adopt a sort of neutrality as between the East and the West. Meanwhile, the use of Egyptian territory as a base for operations against the territory of another nation—France—does not seem to be frowned upon by the oft-glorified United Nations.

The "anti-colonialism" propaganda generated by the Communists finds a certain receptiveness among those Americans who at the same time seem to ignore Communist colonialism as practiced in Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary, Lithuania, Estonia and Latvia. All these countries not only have lost their independence but have been terrorized into submission by the military power of the Red armies.

Very little is being said in America about the tragic plight of the peoples of those countries. The American instruments of propaganda abroad for the most part keep hands off for fear of offending the Communists. There is little mention of self-liberation. Incidentally, whenever any good excuse is lacking for America's failure to exert moral force in behalf of oppressed peoples, the argument is made that "liberation" of the oppressed peoples is likely "to bring on a world war."

The events in North Africa show that the Communists are winning many sectors in the "cold war" while the Western countries still are lulled into complacency by the "peace offensive." Even the brutal shooting down of an unarmed American airplane in the demilitarized zone in Korea doesn't cause any anxiety in the Kremlin because it doesn't stir any official expression of resentment here. Small wonder the Communists pursue their "cold war" tactics so intensively.

Safe Driving Advice For Another Long Weekend

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

Two months ago, over the 4th of July weekend, 407 people were killed in auto accidents, 251 in drownings, and 147 in injuries for a total of 805 deaths. This coming weekend is another long one and we hope the outcome will not be as lethal.

Safety campaigns are stepped up every holiday to impress motorists with the need for careful driving. Despite these warnings the average driver does not use more caution and the toll of killed and wounded follows the usual pattern.

More cars are on the road and percentagewise, the accident rate may be slightly lower. Even so, records are broken now and then, such as occurred over the Independence day weekend.

National holidays are here to stay but if those falling on Friday or Monday could be postponed or changed to a more auspicious time, highway fatalities might be reduced. Another possibility is for labor and management to get together so that employes would not all celebrate the holiday at the same time.

In my opinion, many accidents are caused by two types of drivers who are not compatible on highways. The first is the man or woman who has come a long distance and is anxious to reach his destination. It is difficult to remain calm and cool at the end of a long procession of slow moving cars or when the opportunity comes to pass on a curve or hill.

The second is the Sunday driver who usually lives close by and is out to visit a friend or go to a restaurant or picnic grounds he has frequented 100 times before. By taking his time and being alert, he is lulled into a false sense of security. He has a good driving record and seldom if ever dents a fender.

The most important part of the auto is the driver. This is true but it takes two to make an accident. The other fellow may be in a hurry and relies upon his brakes, reflex time, and ability at the wheel. His car has the latest equipment including a new passing gear which gives him extra speed when needed.

This is why the casual driver and those having no business on the highways should stay home or visit with neighbors this coming Labor Day weekend. This will leave the highways open for vacationers trying to get home and youngsters who are full of Old Nick.

TOMORROW: Abdominal discomfort in oldsters.

MOTHERHOOD AT 60

Mrs. F. writes: I have a neighbor 60 years old whose last child was born 35 years ago. She is afraid she is pregnant again which makes her very upset. She asked me to write you to find out if this could be.

REPLY

The possibility is so rare she can dismiss it from her mind. Reports have appeared of women in their 50s who gave birth but I have not heard of pregnancy in a 60-year-old. Our leaflet on pregnancy problems discusses pregnancy during and after the menopause. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for it.

CONNECTIVE TISSUE DISEASE

C. W. writes: What is periarteritis nodosa?

REPLY

A little understood collagen or connective tissue disease. The blood vessels are involved and they, in turn, affect the circulation to a variety of organs, causing bizarre symptoms. Diagnosis is made by removing a small piece of muscle and studying it under the microscope.

NEW VIRAL DISEASES

S. T. writes: What are the symptoms of Coxsackie virus disease?

REPLY

The disease has many manifestations such as fever, weakness, loss of appetite, headache, and abdominal and chest pain. Originally the condition was confused with the nonparalytic form of polio.

HEART STRAIN

C. M. writes: Could a woman strain her heart muscle if she has never done any heavy work?

REPLY

Probably not. On the other hand, there are other causes of strain such as high blood pressure, leakage of the heart, and increased rate due to overactivity of the thyroid gland or nervousness. Occasionally the physician uses the word strain when he means deterioration such as occurs with age.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

Adela Rogers St. John was up at Hemet, Calif., at a time the whole area was parched. Citizens decided to hold a monster meeting and pray for rain. After a half hour of earnest supplication, the preacher told everybody to go home and await results—everybody, that is, except one young gentleman about eleven years old.

"Why," the preacher was asked, "are you asking that boy to stay with you and continue praying?"

"Because," observed the preacher, "he's the only one who had the foresight to bring an umbrella!"

And 15 minutes later, didn't it rain!

Herb Shriner says he's seen some big blows in his home town in Indiana, but the one that took the cake caught up the pastor and sent him whirling madly down Center Street. Herb's aunt, looking out of the window, commented, "That's funny! The pastor doesn't usually come down this street!"

FPC Commissioner Votes For Law Client Despite Conflict Of Interest

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's Note — The resignation of Harold Talbott as secretary of the Air Force because of "conflict of interest" has intensified interest in Washington regarding the lobbies and others who may serve two masters. Today Drew Pearson contributes another of his penetrating columns on this subject.)

WASHINGTON—When it comes to decisions that affect the economics of the American people perhaps the most vital quasi-judicial agency in government is the Federal Power Commission.

Its five men decide who shall develop the great reservoirs built by nature as power sites, such as Hells Canyon; what areas shall get oil and gas pipelines and how much the public shall pay for that gas—all decisions that run into billions of dollars. Yet some of these commissioners of late have been wined and dined by lobbyists, have taken a trip across the continent at the expense of a gas-oil lobby, and one commissioner has been guilty of a "conflict of interest" just as definite as that of ex-Air Force Secretary Talbott.

He is Seaborn Digby, a Louisiana Democrat appointed by Eisenhower with the enthusiastic approval of the gas-oil industry. Before he came to Washington, Digby represented the Transcontinental Gas Pipeline Corp. Yet as a federal power commissioner, Digby on March 15, 1955, failed to disqualify himself when the case of his former client came before the commission.

The vote was four to one against Transcontinental, Digby being the only man to vote for the company. Transcontinental was asking for FPC approval of a rate increase based on a new financing scheme prepared with the help of Digby's law firm. The commission voted to disallow $5,371,000 which Transcontinental had included in its new rate base, and Digby did not step aside, as is customary where a former law client is concerned.

Asked by this writer why he had followed this unusual policy, Commissioner Digby replied:

"If I didn't feel capable of voting as my best judgment dictates, I wouldn't be here."

100-Year Leases

Very quietly, the new utility-dominated power commission has proceeded to hand out some of the most shocking give-aways of the last three years. They include hydroelectric dam sites to private utilities for as much as 100 years—in direct defiance of federal law which limits leases to 50 years.

The companies getting these lush bonanzas are:

1. James Black's Pacific Gas and Electric. Black has been a guest at Eisenhower's now-confidential stag dinners, and is a member of Secretary Weeks' Business Advisory Council, whose operations Weeks will not reveal to the House Judiciary Committee.

2. Aluminum Corporation of America, controlled by the Mellon family, whose First Boston Corporation had a vice president inside the Budget Bureau when Dixon-Yates was being hatched.

3. The Montana Power Company, formed as part of the giant Electric Bond and Share Holding Co., which also helped to spawn Dixon-Yates.

To understand the 100-year dam site give-aways recently put across by the new Ike-members of the power commission, it's necessary to go back to 1920, during Woodrow Wilson's administration, when public disgust at the profiteering of private utilities so enraged the public that Congress passed the federal Water Power Act, based on the theory that the nation's water resources belonged to all the citizens. Public development of these resources, Congress decreed, should take preference over exploitation by private companies.

The Water Power Act permitted the federal government to issue dam-site licenses to private utilities—but only for 50 years. At the end of that time, Congress decreed, a firm's investment would be amortized, and, with the expiration of the license, Congress would get a fresh chance to consider the desirability of federal development.

Or if Congress showed no interest, states and municipalities would get second priority, with the private utilities eligible for a new 50-year license only if states and municipalities were not interested.

A decade later, when the power companies planted friends in the Federal Power Commission, it became a national scandal and was one of the issues which led to Herbert Hoover's defeat.

FPC Flouts Law

Today, the new Ike-men on the power commission have completely flouted this 50-year law. Acting as if it weren't on the statute books, they have guaranteed power companies untrammeled use of power sites for periods of greater than 50 years, in some cases up to a century.

In one case, when the FPC issued licenses to Montana Power to expire in 1979, Montana Power refused to accept the commission decision, delayed, jockeyed and pressured, until it looks as if it would get a license to use federal water sites until the year 2005.

This thwarting of the 50-year limit has been accomplished by a very neat device. The big utilities have devised package programs, by which they lump several power sites together under a single license. In this package are usually bunched one new project with several old projects which have little time left of their 50 years. Then a full new 50-year license is asked for the entire package on the argument that one new dam site is included in the package.

More details on this get-away by the power companies and the give-aways by the Federal Power Commission will follow shortly.

Inside Washington

By Central Press

WASHINGTON — Democrats investigating the Commerce Department's Business Advisory committee still have at least one unrevealed ace-in-the-hole. They are going to learn just how much of a briefing big business advisors get from the government.

So far, a House judiciary subcommittee, headed by Rep. Emanuel Celler, New York Democrat, has sought to find out how much businessmen on the BAC are influencing administration policy.

The probers have not yet gotten around to finding out how much the administration is telling the businessmen about future government policy and activity.

The BAC—a blue-ribboned panel of industrialists and other businessmen—meets twice annually at some plush spot, usually outside Washington, and goes behind closed-doors for two or three-day sessions. The body was set up more than 20 years ago to keep the Commerce department up-to-date on economic developments and business thinking.

At their sessions, BAC members are briefed by many members of the President's Cabinet. The result is frequent disclosure to the businessmen of proposed administration plans and policies. Reported instances: Defense Secretary George C. Marshall about five years ago revealed a big Army buildup that was to get underway shortly; Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey dropped broad hints about tax and budget programs, and Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell warned business had better back improved unemployment benefits or face union demands for a guaranteed annual wage.

Democrats would like to know how much confidential information is spilled to the businessmen to give them a good head start on other people in the nation.

"Cold War" To "Cold Peace"

The Voice of America, which expresses State department policy, has changed its biting "cold war" tune since the Big Four heads of government conference.

Some observers are saying that the VOA is taking a "cold peace" approach to east-west issues.

The official U. S. propaganda agency no longer assails Soviet policy. Instead, the "Voice" takes a positive attitude in the electronic battle for men's minds, emphasizing such matters as President Eisenhower's atoms-for-peace plan and the record prosperity America is enjoying.

The VOA broadcasts are beamed in 38 languages to the nations behind the iron curtain.

Blooms In The Desert

For the lay reader, the Agriculture department's monthly crop reports traditionally have been cold statements in terms of bale facts and figures.

At first blush, the August report appeared to fit snugly into the traditional pattern. But at several points a frustrated advocate of colorful writing apparently had been at work.

Here's a sample: "Hay tonnage on Aug. 1 still looks like a champion, weighing in at 109 million tons."

Unbelieving newsmen handling the report blinked and rubbed their eyes, and then began searching for other verbal tidbits.

They were rewarded with this find: "Thundershowers in many areas leap-frogged fields, leaving good crops and poor ones as close neighbors."

Unfortunately, the writer of the gems remained unidentified.

For instance, not so long ago we were all involved in some stuff called chlorophyll which is the green in grass and leaves. We were given chlorophyll in all sorts of things to do something or other for us. For a while, every drug store was covered with green advertisements. These items were sold legitimately and perfectly ethical drug companies earned money from them. Today the stuff is strictly passe. Chlorophyll in chewing gum is out of fashion.

On the other hand, snakeroot, which the old medicine man sold at the tail-end of his wagon for a dollar a bottle and cure guaranteed or money back, was, for years, regarded as a fake. The peddlers were moved along by the police. Today, when the heart begins to go ziggety-zaggety, the doctors prescribe "Raudixin," which is manufactured from the whole root of "Rauwolfia serpentina," in a word, snakeroot—the same as the old medicine man used to sell. Some old remedies are becoming popular with the medical profession as doctors know more about them. The Chinese knew about antibiotics centuries ago and so did the peasants of Europe but the doctors only recently discovered that the mould on kvass is a remedy.

(Whenever your doctor prescribes trade-name medicines, tell him to write "original package" on his prescription. You will save money as some pharmacists charge for taking it out of the original bottle and putting it into one of their own, or just as much for pasting a private label over the original one).

Now, the Post Office, the Federal Trade Commission, the Food and Drug Administration are empowered to read all advertisements and to use their great authorities to prevent fraud. They can prevent a toothpaste company from saying that some special stuff put into the toothpaste saves the teeth. But does any toothpaste save teeth? Some dentists say that no toothpaste will do that and they tell their patients to use plain table salt instead of toothpaste which contains abrasives. Yet no one proposes to stop all toothpaste advertising. By what rule of life or thumb do these agencies pursue their noble purposes?

For instance, my old friend, Bernarr Macfadden years ago got into trouble with the Post Office for advertising a cure for something or other. Macfadden's defense was that he advertised no cure. All he did was to advise folks how to keep well. Macfadden ought to know something about that because he started his manhood as a consumptive and has managed to live to his 87th birthday, a powerful physical figure. He once gave me a friendly poke in the solar plexus, for fun, and I think I feel it yet. He has resisted medical aid and lives on vegetables and nuts which are a bore and may be the cause of his various matrimonial troubles. If Macfadden sells his experience for money, is he more unethical than the physicians who prescribe powerful remedies before they were sure of their effects on the particular individual?

This is not written in criticism of physicians, pharmacists or antibiotics, except the multiplicity of policing by the federal government, so that if a fellow wants to buy snakeroot as a cure, he cannot do it until the doctors have rechristened it "Raudixin," whereupon it becomes kosher and no one goes to jail.

The Meeting Of Minds

FPC Commissioner Votes For Law Client Despite Conflict Of Interest

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's Note — The resignation of Harold Talbott as secretary of the Air Force because of "conflict of interest" has intensified interest in Washington regarding the lobbies and others who may serve two masters. Today Drew Pearson contributes another of his penetrating columns on this subject.)

WASHINGTON—When it comes to decisions that affect the economics of the American people perhaps the most vital quasi-judicial agency in government is the Federal Power Commission.

Its five men decide who shall develop the great reservoirs built by nature as power sites, such as Hells Canyon; what areas shall get oil and gas pipelines and how much the public shall pay for that gas—all decisions that run into billions of dollars. Yet some of these commissioners of late have been wined and dined by lobbyists, have taken a trip across the continent at the expense of a gas-oil lobby, and one commissioner has been guilty of a "conflict of interest" just as definite as that of ex-Air Force Secretary Talbott.

He is Seaborn Digby, a Louisiana Democrat appointed by Eisenhower with the enthusiastic approval of the gas-oil industry. Before he came to Washington, Digby represented the Transcontinental Gas Pipeline Corp. Yet as a federal power commissioner, Digby on March 15, 1955, failed to disqualify himself when the case of his former client came before the commission.

The vote was four to one against Transcontinental, Digby being the only man to vote for the company. Transcontinental was asking for FPC approval of a rate increase based on a new financing scheme prepared with the help of Digby's law firm. The commission voted to disallow $5,371,000 which Transcontinental had included in its new rate base, and Digby did not step aside, as is customary where a former law client is concerned.

Asked by this writer why he had followed this unusual policy, Commissioner Digby replied:

100-Year Leases

Very quietly, the new utility-dominated power commission has proceeded to hand out some of the most shocking give-aways of the last three years. They include hydroelectric dam sites to private utilities for as much as 100 years—in direct defiance of federal law which limits leases to 50 years.

The companies getting these lush bonanzas are:

1. James Black's Pacific Gas and Electric. Black has been a guest at Eisenhower's now-confidential stag dinners, and is a member of Secretary Weeks' Business Advisory Council, whose operations Weeks will not reveal to the House Judiciary Committee.

2. Aluminum Corporation of America, controlled by the Mellon family, whose First Boston Corporation had a vice president inside the Budget Bureau when Dixon-Yates was being hatched.

3. The Montana Power Company, formed as part of the giant Electric Bond and Share Holding Co., which also helped to spawn Dixon-Yates.

To understand the 100-year dam site give-aways recently put across by the new Ike-members of the power commission, it's necessary to go back to 1920, during Woodrow Wilson's administration, when public disgust at the profiteering of private utilities so enraged the public that Congress passed the federal Water Power Act, based on the theory that the nation's water resources belonged to all the citizens. Public development of these resources, Congress decreed, should take preference over exploitation by private companies.

The Water Power Act permitted the federal government to issue dam-site licenses to private utilities—but only for 50 years. At the end of that time, Congress decreed, a firm's investment would be amortized, and, with the expiration of the license, Congress would get a fresh chance to consider the desirability of federal development.

Or if Congress showed no interest, states and municipalities would get second priority, with the private utilities eligible for a new 50-year license only if states and municipalities were not interested.

A decade later, when the power companies planted friends in the Federal Power Commission, it became a national scandal and was one of the issues which led to Herbert Hoover's defeat.

FPC Flouts Law

Today, the new Ike-men on the power commission have completely flouted this 50-year law. Acting as if it weren't on the statute books, they have guaranteed power companies untrammeled use of power sites for periods of greater than 50 years, in some cases up to a century.

In one case, when the FPC issued licenses to Montana Power to expire in 1979, Montana Power refused to accept the commission decision, delayed, jockeyed and pressured, until it looks as if it would get a license to use federal water sites until the year 2005.

This thwarting of the 50-year limit has been accomplished by a very neat device. The big utilities have devised package programs, by which they lump several power sites together under a single license. In this package are usually bunched one new project with several old projects which have little time left of their 50 years. Then a full new 50-year license is asked for the entire package on the argument that one new dam site is included in the package.

More details on this get-away by the power companies and the give-aways by the Federal Power Commission will follow shortly.

"Cold War" Goes On Despite Peace Offensive

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—The "cold war" goes on despite the professions of peaceful purpose which emanate regularly from the Communist leaders.

While the quarrels inside Morocco and Algeria are by no means of Communist origin, there is no question but that Communist money and scheming inside both countries has inflamed the situation.

Thus, for example, the North African Liberation Committee, which has been behind these disorders, operates on Egyptian territory. The French have been well aware for some time that the Egyptian government has permitted the committee to broadcast from its territory a good deal of inflammatory propaganda directed to Algeria, Morocco and Tunisia. A Communist station in Budapest keeps up a similar line.

By promoting agitation and even sending funds and some arms to stir up trouble, the North African committee was able to synchronize the uprisings. Newsmen knew in advance of the expected disorders. It all has the markings of a carefully nurtured plot to cause embarrassment to the French.

Real Objective Broader

But the real objective as it affects the Western Allies is broader. One result has been to withdraw thousands of troops from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Europe and another has been to imperil the American air bases in Morocco.

A "cold war" to some extent has the same objectives as a hot war. The purpose is to weaken the enemy's military strength and organization. NATO isn't as strong without the French divisions now in Africa as it would be with them. Likewise, if an atomic attack came suddenly, it is questionable whether American overseas bases wouldn't be subject to sabotage and interference by locally armed bands. The United States does not maintain large bodies of troops overseas to guard these bases and, in an emergency, would have to divert divisions from Europe to Africa to safeguard the bases from which our bombers must take off.

It is true, of course, that the basic issues of nationalism didn't start with the Communists, but the latter took advantage of the ferment. Even when self-rule is granted, however, troubles for the parent country do not cease. The adoption of a plan for autonomy in Tunisia was merely the prelude to the fomenting of internal dissension elsewhere in North Africa. Once there is a plan also for Algeria and Morocco, other sources of friction will be developed by the Communists.

Least Expensive Warfare

Back of the strategy of infiltration and subversion is the idea that this form of warfare is least expensive and can pay off in actual control or intimidation of the smaller governments once they obtain their independence. The Egyptian independence movement had Communist backing and, once the British were driven out, the Egyptian leaders found it expedient to adopt a sort of neutrality as between the East and the West. Meanwhile, the use of Egyptian territory as a base for operations against the territory of another nation—France—does not seem to be frowned upon by the oft-glorified United Nations.

The "anti-colonialism" propaganda generated by the Communists finds a certain receptiveness among those Americans who at the same time seem to ignore Communist colonialism as practiced in Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary, Lithuania, Estonia and Latvia. All these countries not only have lost their independence but have been terrorized into submission by the military power of the Red armies.

Very little is being said in America about the tragic plight of the peoples of those countries. The American instruments of propaganda abroad for the most part keep hands off for fear of offending the Communists. There is little mention of self-liberation. Incidentally, whenever any good excuse is lacking for America's failure to exert moral force in behalf of oppressed peoples, the argument is made that "liberation" of the oppressed peoples is likely "to bring on a world war."

The events in North Africa show that the Communists are winning many sectors in the "cold war" while the Western countries still are lulled into complacency by the "peace offensive." Even the brutal shooting down of an unarmed American airplane in the demilitarized zone in Korea doesn't cause any anxiety in the Kremlin because it doesn't stir any official expression of resentment here. Small wonder the Communists pursue their "cold war" tactics so intensively.

Inside Washington

By Central Press

WASHINGTON — Democrats investigating the Commerce Department's Business Advisory committee still have at least one unrevealed ace-in-the-hole. They are going to learn just how much of a briefing big business advisors get from the government.

So far, a House judiciary subcommittee, headed by Rep. Emanuel Celler, New York Democrat, has sought to find out how much businessmen on the BAC are influencing administration policy.

The probers have not yet gotten around to finding out how much the administration is telling the businessmen about future government policy and activity.

The BAC—a blue-ribboned panel of industrialists and other businessmen—meets twice annually at some plush spot, usually outside Washington, and goes behind closed-doors for two or three-day sessions. The body was set up more than 20 years ago to keep the Commerce department up-to-date on economic developments and business thinking.

At their sessions, BAC members are briefed by many members of the President's Cabinet. The result is frequent disclosure to the businessmen of proposed administration plans and policies. Reported instances: Defense Secretary George C. Marshall about five years ago revealed a big Army buildup that was to get underway shortly; Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey dropped broad hints about tax and budget programs, and Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell warned business had better back improved unemployment benefits or face union demands for a guaranteed annual wage.

Democrats would like to know how much confidential information is spilled to the businessmen to give them a good head start on other people in the nation.

"Cold War" To "Cold Peace"

The Voice of America, which expresses State department policy, has changed its biting "cold war" tune since the Big Four heads of government conference.

Some observers are saying that the VOA is taking a "cold peace" approach to east-west issues.

The official U. S. propaganda agency no longer assails Soviet policy. Instead, the "Voice" takes a positive attitude in the electronic battle for men's minds, emphasizing such matters as President Eisenhower's atoms-for-peace plan and the record prosperity America is enjoying.

The VOA broadcasts are beamed in 38 languages to the nations behind the iron curtain.

Blooms In The Desert

For the lay reader, the Agriculture department's monthly crop reports traditionally have been cold statements in terms of bale facts and figures.

At first blush, the August report appeared to fit snugly into the traditional pattern. But at several points a frustrated advocate of colorful writing apparently had been at work.

Here's a sample: "Hay tonnage on Aug. 1 still looks like a champion, weighing in at 109 million tons."

Unbelieving newsmen handling the report blinked and rubbed their eyes, and then began searching for other verbal tidbits.

They were rewarded with this find: "Thundershowers in many areas leap-frogged fields, leaving good crops and poor ones as close neighbors."

Unfortunately, the writer of the gems remained unidentified.

Safe Driving Advice For Another Long Weekend

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Two months ago, over the 4th of July weekend, 407 people were killed in auto accidents, 251 in drownings, and 147 in injuries for a total of 805 deaths. This coming weekend is another long one and we hope the outcome will not be as lethal.

Safety campaigns are stepped up every holiday to impress motorists with the need for careful driving. Despite these warnings the average driver does not use more caution and the toll of killed and wounded follows the usual pattern.

More cars are on the road and percentagewise, the accident rate may be slightly lower. Even so, records are broken now and then, such as occurred over the Independence day weekend.

National holidays are here to stay but if those falling on Friday or Monday could be postponed or changed to a more auspicious time, highway fatalities might be reduced. Another possibility is for labor and management to get together so that employes would not all celebrate the holiday at the same time.

In my opinion, many accidents are caused by two types of drivers who are not compatible on highways. The first is the man or woman who has come a long distance and is anxious to reach his destination. It is difficult to remain calm and cool at the end of a long procession of slow moving cars or when the opportunity comes to pass on a curve or hill.

The second is the Sunday driver who usually lives close by and is out to visit a friend or go to a restaurant or picnic grounds he has frequented 100 times before. By taking his time and being alert, he is lulled into a false sense of security. He has a good driving record and seldom if ever dents a fender.

The most important part of the auto is the driver. This is true but it takes two to make an accident. The other fellow may be in a hurry and relies upon his brakes, reflex time, and ability at the wheel. His car has the latest equipment including a new passing gear which gives him extra speed when needed.

This is why the casual driver and those having no business on the highways should stay home or visit with neighbors this coming Labor Day weekend. This will leave the highways open for vacationers trying to get home and youngsters who are full of Old Nick.

TOMORROW: Abdominal discomfort in oldsters.

MOTHERHOOD AT 60

Mrs. F. writes: I have a neighbor 60 years old whose last child was born 35 years ago. She is afraid she is pregnant again which makes her very upset. She asked me to write you to find out if this could be.

REPLY

The possibility is so rare she can dismiss it from her mind. Reports have appeared of women in their 50s who gave birth but I have not heard of pregnancy in a 60-year-old. Our leaflet on pregnancy problems discusses pregnancy during and after the menopause. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for it.

CONNECTIVE TISSUE DISEASE

C. W. writes: What is periarteritis nodosa?

REPLY

A little understood collagen or connective tissue disease. The blood vessels are involved and they, in turn, affect the circulation to a variety of organs, causing bizarre symptoms. Diagnosis is made by removing a small piece of muscle and studying it under the microscope.

NEW VIRAL DISEASES

S. T. writes: What are the symptoms of Coxsackie virus disease?

REPLY

The disease has many manifestations such as fever, weakness, loss of appetite, headache, and abdominal and chest pain. Originally the condition was confused with the nonparalytic form of polio.

HEART STRAIN

C. M. writes: Could a woman strain her heart muscle if she has never done any heavy work?

REPLY

Probably not. On the other hand, there are other causes of strain such as high blood pressure, leakage of the heart, and increased rate due to overactivity of the thyroid gland or nervousness. Occasionally the physician uses the word strain when he means deterioration such as occurs with age.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Adela Rogers St. John was up at Hemet, Calif., at a time the whole area was parched. Citizens decided to hold a monster meeting and pray for rain. After a half hour of earnest supplication, the preacher told everybody to go home and await results—everybody, that is, except one young gentleman about eleven years old.

"Why," the preacher was asked, "are you asking that boy to stay with you and continue praying?"

"Because," observed the preacher, "he's the only one who had the foresight to bring an umbrella!"

And 15 minutes later, didn't it rain!

W. Va. Gas Rate Hike Proposal Is Being Aired

Company Asks 6.5% Rate Of Return

BULLETIN

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Hearings on a rate increase request by the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company was continued yesterday afternoon until November 1, by the Public Service Commission. The commission set the date tentatively. At the resumed hearings, the company witnesses will be cross examined by the protestants in the case.

CHARLESTON, W. Va.(AP)—The Public Service Commission heard further testimony today about proposed higher natural gas rates for 16,600 consumers in 10 northeastern West Virginia counties.

Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Co. has asked for higher rates designed to provide an estimated $764,680 in additional annual revenue.

The utility explained yesterday that it wants a 6.5 per cent rate of return on its seven million-dollar investment in West Virginia on which only $2,777—less than one-tenth of 1 per cent — was earned last year.

Vice President C. A. Massa of C. and A. testified yesterday that the proposed rate increases would amount to about 50 per cent for the firm's residential and commercial customers.

The utility has proposed a single rate scale for all West Virginia customers. At present, three separate scales are in effect for the Buckhannon area, the Elkins-Keyser section and the Ridgeley area.

Massa testified that two of each five residential bills would go up 50 cents to $2.05 a month, with other customers paying larger increases.

According to the vice president it now costs C. and A. $1.79 a month just to furnish service to each residential customer.

A protest was entered in the case yesterday by the Inter-Community League of Eastern West Virginia, with Elkins Atty. Bonn Brown as counsel for the group.

Attorney H. A. Kramer of C. and A. called the group "a non-profit organization with a very nebulous purpose." Kramer expressed the view that those the league represented might not be actual C. and A. customers.

Savage Mountain Highway Improvement

The bridge on Route 546 across Route 40 on Little Savage Mountain is shown here upon completion of the steel work and the beginning of the form for the concrete deck to be poured on top of the steel. This is one phase of the work at this point to eliminate the bridge over Little Savage River and a dangerous S curve. Route 40 is being relocated cutting out the bridge and making a straight cut through Little Savage Mountain. The new bridge has an overall length of 170 feet. At the highest point it is 37 feet above the roadbed. It will be 30 feet wide with a two foot walk way on each side. The contractor for the relocating job and the building of the bridge is Keely Construction Co. of Clarksburg, W. Va. The project is part of the state's 12-year road program.

Auditor Reports Finances For Town Of Westernport

Books Show $12,000 Balance On June 30

WESTERNPORT — The Town of Westernport has an approximate $12,000 greater balance for the year ending June 30, 1955 than the previous year.

This was revealed by James P. Rogers, Baltimore, at a meeting of Mayor Okey E. Michaels and the City Commissioners last night.

Rogers completed the auditing of the town's books and the report includes a $5,000 cash balance in the bank and materials on hand.

Mayor Michaels called attention to the hazardous condition caused by recent high waters to power poles in the Potomac River near the Maryland-West Virginia interstate bridge between Westernport and Piedmont.

Last Thursday on the east side of the bridge, pedestrians were not permitted to walk and for about two hours in the afternoon the bridge was closed to pedestrian and vehicular traffic due to floating poles.

It was unanimously ordered by town officials that Mrs. Katherine Dailey, city clerk, write to E. J. Shaver, local manager of the Piedmont Exchange of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company and Wilbur Cathers, local manager of the Potomac Edison Company, calling their attention to the situation.

The letter asked them to investigate the matter and, if possible, to remedy the problem.

Mayor Michael asked the council to consider placing some kind of a barrier at the corner of Front and Fusner Streets and at Oakview Drive near the residence of John Seckman.

The barriers would protect these residences should a motorist lose control of his vehicle at the sharp turns.

The council will visit these locations before their regular meeting next week.

W. Va. Burglars Hit Political Fund Jack-Pot

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 25 (AP)—The Charleston Daily Mail said today it has learned that a robbery of a Road Commission garage near Philippi last week netted about $1,000 in political assessments against SRC employes.

The newspaper quoted a source as saying the amount taken was "very close to $1,000 and it was flower money collected by a Weston man."

State Police Sgt. R. R. Karichoff at Philippi said "some checks, and a small amount of cash" was taken. He declined to comment on the amount or the report that the money represented political contributions.

Personnel of the garage said the robbery occurred sometime between the evening of Aug. 15 and the morning of Aug. 16. Nothing was disturbed but the cash box, kept in a locked drawer.

The Mail quoted its sources as believing "it was pulled by someone who knew the flower fund collector from Weston had made his rounds two days before, on pay day, and that the money was in the office."

W. Va. Gas Rate Hike Proposal Is Being Aired

Company Asks 6.5% Rate Of Return

BULLETIN

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Hearings on a rate increase request by the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company was continued yesterday afternoon until November 1, by the Public Service Commission. The commission set the date tentatively. At the resumed hearings, the company witnesses will be cross examined by the protestants in the case.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The Public Service Commission heard further testimony today about proposed higher natural gas rates for 16,600 consumers in 10 northeastern West Virginia counties.

Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Co. has asked for higher rates designed to provide an estimated $764,680 in additional annual revenue.

The utility explained yesterday that it wants a 6.5 per cent rate of return on its seven million-dollar investment in West Virginia on which only $2,777—less than one-tenth of 1 per cent — was earned last year.

Vice President C. A. Massa of C. and A. testified yesterday that the proposed rate increases would amount to about 50 per cent for the firm's residential and commercial customers.

The utility has proposed a single rate scale for all West Virginia customers. At present, three separate scales are in effect for the Buckhannon area, the Elkins-Keyser section and the Ridgeley area.

Massa testified that two of each five residential bills would go up 50 cents to $2.05 a month, with other customers paying larger increases.

According to the vice president it now costs C. and A. $1.79 a month just to furnish service to each residential customer.

A protest was entered in the case yesterday by the Inter-Community League of Eastern West Virginia, with Elkins Atty. Bonn Brown as counsel for the group.

Attorney H. A. Kramer of C. and A. called the group "a nonprofit organization with a very nebulous purpose." Kramer expressed the view that those the league represented might not be actual C. and A. customers.

Auditor Reports Finances For Town Of Westernport

Books Show $12,000 Balance On June 30

WESTERNPORT — The Town of Westernport has an approximate $12,000 greater balance for the year ending June 30, 1955 than the previous year.

This was revealed by James P. Rogers, Baltimore, at a meeting of Mayor Okey E. Michaels and the City Commissioners last night.

Rogers completed the auditing of the town's books and the report includes a $5,000 cash balance in the bank and materials on hand.

Mayor Michaels called attention to the hazardous condition caused by recent high waters to power poles in the Potomac River near the Maryland-West Virginia interstate bridge between Westernport and Piedmont.

Last Thursday on the east side of the bridge, pedestrians were not permitted to walk and for about two hours in the afternoon the bridge was closed to pedestrian and vehicular traffic due to floating poles.

It was unanimously ordered by town officials that Mrs. Katherine Dailey, city clerk, write to E. J. Shaver, local manager of the Piedmont Exchange of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company and Wilbur Cathers, local manager of the Potomac Edison Company, calling their attention to the situation.

The letter asked them to investigate the matter and, if possible, to remedy the problem.

Mayor Michael asked the council to consider placing some kind of a barrier at the corner of Front and Fusner Streets and at Oakview Drive near the residence of John Seckman.

The barriers would protect these residences should a motorist lose control of his vehicle at the sharp turns.

The council will visit these locations before their regular meeting next week.

Some 28,000 persons in West Virginia are eligible for social security benefits under new amendments..

The amendment, stipulates, however, that they must vote as to whether or not they want the coverage.

All of the 55 counties will be required to hold separate votes along with the five divisions of the State government concerned.

The nine state colleges and university may vote as separate units.

Richard E. Hyde, executive secretary of the State Teachers Retirement Board, said some 24,500 persons from teacher retirement rolls are eligible.

The remainder of the 28,000 would come from the judges retirement rolls and municipal employes.

The program is expected to cost about 3 million dollars, half to be paid by the employes and the other half by the State, counties and municipalities.

Kiwanians Hear Talk About Radio

KEYSER—O. H. "Bert" Cornwell, Kiwanian of the Month in Keyser, was the speaker at this week's dinner meeting in the dining room of the First Methodist Church. The speaker had been asked to speak on "radio" and he gave an interesting review of the work in relation to Station WKYR, in Keyser. It was a mental picture of what goes on behind the scenes of a modern radio station.

Cornwell is enrolled in the U. S. Air Force Reserve, and recently completed a "hitch" in the service to keep up his rating.

A report on the Keyser Litle League Kiwanis Club was also made to the club. Little League clubs together with the Hot Stove League made a visit to Pittsburgh Saturday and saw a National League game.

Health Department Views Keyser Garbage Disposal

Official Says Law Must Be Followed

KEYSER — W. F. Waller, sanitarian for the Keyser area local health department, has been informed to keep in close touch with the situation in Keyser, where dumping of garbage and refuse is a menace. H. K. Gidley, Charleston, director of the division of sanitary engineering of the State Health Department advised Waller, "If illegal or undesirable dumping is practiced by private haulers and individuals, it is recommended that the State Health Department join the local health department in legal action to prevent improper refuse disposal."

A letter was received by Charles Smith, city attorney, in reply to one he had sent to the State Health department in Charleston concerning a petition, bearing enough names to prevent the proposed land fill operation here. The health department was asked for the next step to be taken in providing garbage collection and disposal.

Gidley, in his letter to the city said, "There is nothing in the statute to require the municipality to provide for refuse collection and disposal, however, it is a basic need and almost without exception, municipalities as large as Keyser either provide for refuse collection and disposal by municipal forces or contract for such service with private parties.

"Now that Keyser seems to have been forced to retreat from the progressive move to provide for proper disposal through a landfill, the removal of refuse will be likely, by default, be taken over by private haulers and encourage self disposal by individuals which will result in illegal and undesirable dumping throughout the area."

Gidley said he was suggesting that Mr. Waller "keep in close touch with the Keyser situation and if illegal or undesirable dumping is practiced by private haulers and individuals that the state health department join the local health department in legal action to prevent improper refuse disposal."

The matter is expected to be aired at the next council meeting, at a special meeting with Mr. Waller, to set a course of action.

The citizens objected to a schedule of charges to be made for such garbage and refuse disposal, but the city officers say it is necessary to meet the costs of employes and machinery at the landfill and keep in operation.

Chilled Chicken Custard Soup

5 chicken bouillon cubes; ½ cup hot water; 1 small onion, finely chopped; 1 quart liquefied nonfat dry milk; 4 eggs, slightly beaten.

Dissolve bouillon cubes in hot water. Combine dissolved bouillon cubes, onion and liquefied nonfat dry milk in top of large double boiler. Cook over hot water until mixture is thoroughly heated. Stir a small amount of the hot mixture into slightly beaten eggs; gradually stir egg mixture into remaining dry milk mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. If desired, strain mixture to remove onion. Pour into large bowl; cover with waxed paper. Chill in refrigerator until ready to serve.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Use a sponge instead of a cloth when applying liquid wax. A sponge spreads the wax more evenly and reaches the corners more efficiently. The waxed sponge goes over cracks leaving just the right amount of liquid.

Invent New Sandwiches

August is National Sandwich Month. While we Americans pride ourselves on our great liking for sandwiches and the wide variety we enjoy, we have nothing on the Danes in this department. The Danish people are devoted to sandwiches to a degree that has made them authorities on the subject round the world.

It is in the attractive, little country of Denmark that you will find Oskar Davidsen's, which is said to be the most famous restaurant in all Scandinavia. Its incredibly extensive sandwich menu includes such exotic items as the famous Shrimp Pyramid consisting of 180 to 200 shrimp; a sandwich consisting of thinly sliced anchovies, beetroot, raw egg yolk, capers, onion and horseradish; and another of liver paste with truffles, 2 anchovies in oyster sauce and fried egg. Of course, one must realize that the typical Danish sandwich is an open sandwich that may contain on top what we would consider a meal.

Not to be outdone by the Danes, we include our own candidate for something new in sandwich fillings. It's a superb salad mixture of salmon mixed with mellow fully ripe banana. You'll enjoy it in Sandwich Month, and all year 'round.

Tropical Salmon Salad Sandwich Filling

1 cup diced ripe banana*
½ cup diced pineapple
1½ cups flaked salmon
½ cup diced celery
2 tablespoons chopped, sweet pickle
1½ teaspoons salt
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
Crisp lettuce

*Use fully ripe bananas . . . yellow peel flecked with brown.

Mix all ingredients together lightly. Spread on your favorite bread or toast. Top with crisp lettuce and another slice of bread. Makes enough filling for 6 to 8 sandwiches.

Serve New Toppings With Picnic Franks

There's no better place to have a picnic than in your own backyard. You need only carry out the supplies from the kitchen and your picnic is underway.

A backyard picnic is an easy way to entertain, too. Next time, surprise your guests with a novel picnic idea—serve trim-your-own grilled frankfurters. Prepare a selection of different frankfurter toppings and let your guests select the one they like best in making their own "hot dogs."

Three slightly out-of-the-ordinary toppings for franks which you can carry out to the backyard are chili con carne, coney island sauce and savory sauerkraut. Heat the chili and kraut over the grill as the franks are browning.

Frankfurter Trimmings

1. Chili con carne—use canned chili con carne.

2. Coney island sauce — finely chop several onions and add enough catsup to moisten well; add prepared mustard to suit taste.

3. Savory sauerkraut — add several tablespoons brown sugar to a can of sauerkraut. Add a few caraway seeds, too, if you'd like.

Arrange the frankfurters and the trimmings on the grill so that guests can make their own selections as they come up to be served. Place buns and coffee in a convenient spot, too. Be sure to have plenty of franks on hand, for everyone is sure to want seconds and thirds.

Other Meats for the Grill

When you're planning a picnic in the country or at a nearby state park, you might want to take along several kinds of meats for grilling. In addition to franks, hamburger patties and thick bologna slices are excellent barbecued over a fire and served in buns.

Season and shape the 'burgers ahead of time and place in layers with waxed paper between them for easy separation. Slice the bologna into thick slices and brown it on a hot greased grill. As the slices brown, spoon barbecue sauce over them.

A tip when making the fire is to let it burn down to a bed of glowing coals before starting to grill the meats. Hardwoods and charcoal seem to make the best fires.

Carry-Along Picnics

Of course there are many picnics where the food is all prepared in advance. These carry-along picnics make an easy lunch when traveling in a car.

A carry-along picnic basket should be well-stocked with sandwiches. Instead of getting in a rut and serving the same cold cuts and sliced meat sandwiches, select some new fillings. For example, instead of serving the usual ham and Swiss cheese on rye bread, use salami and Swiss cheese and add lettuce and a slice of tomato.

A meat that's often overlooked when making picnic sandwiches is tongue. It's good sliced and made into sandwiches with pineapple cream cheese or topped with lettuce, sliced tomatoes and sliced hard-cooked egg. Ground tongue combined with pickle relish, finely chopped, hard-cooked eggs, chopped onion and salad dressing makes an interesting sandwich filling, too.

Picnic Salads

A salad is a favorite addition to either a backyard or a carry-along picnic. Make your potato salad deluxe by adding some chopped bacon to it. Diced luncheon meat, diced frankfurters or chopped bacon give slightly-out-of-the ordinary texture and flavor to a tossed greens salad.

If you prepare deviled eggs instead of a salad,, mix some crumbled bacon into the filling or the tops of the eggs for good flavor.

Season grated cheddar cheese with tomato catchup and finely grated onion; moisten with mayonnaise. Use as a sandwich filling. Chopped pimiento - stuffed olives may be added to the mixture if desired. Another good sandwich mixture is made of mashed canned sardines to which lemon juice, pickle relish and minced parsley have been added.

Hot Tamales In Fresh Corn Shucks

As these hot tamales steam, the sweet flavor of green corn shucks is absorbed by the rice and chili con carne. Aluminum foil make rolling and cooking the tamales especially simple!

HOT TAMALES

Corn on the Cob Melted Butter
Tossed Vegetable Salad
Hot Rolls
Fruit Cup Cookies

INGREDIENTS:

⅔ cup uncooked white rice
1⅓ cups water
1 teaspoon salt
12 to 15 fresh green corn shucks (from about 1 ear of corn)
¾ cup chili con carne with beans

METHODS

Put the rice, water and salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and leave over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove saucepan from the heat but leave lid on 10 minutes. Stir the chili con carne with beans into the rice.

Tear off 6 inch lengths of light weight aluminum foil. To make the tamales, place a washed corn shuck on a piece of aluminum foil. Spread with some of the rice and chili con carne mixture. Place a second corn shuck over the top. Roll up tightly in the aluminum foil. Turn each end of foil over two times. In this manner, make 6 tamale packets. If some of the shucks are very small or are torn, reinforce with a third shuck. Place the packets, seam side of foil up, in a skillet. Place a small amount of water in the bottom of the skillet. The water should not come over the packets. Bring the water to a boil. Turn heat down. Cover the skillet with a lid and keep the water hot enough to steam. Remove the lid several times to add small amounts of water. Steam 30 minutes. Serve in the aluminum foil.

This recipe makes 6 servings.

Hot Tamales In Fresh Corn Shucks

As these hot tamales steam, the sweet flavor of green corn shucks is absorbed by the rice and chili con carne. Aluminum foil make rolling and cooking the tamales especially simple!

HOT TAMALES

Corn on the Cob Melted Butter
Tossed Vegetable Salad
Hot Rolls
Fruit Cup Cookies

INGREDIENTS:

⅔ cup uncooked white rice
1⅓ cups water
1 teaspoon salt
12 to 15 fresh green corn shucks (from about 1 ear of corn)

METHODS

Put the rice, water and salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and leave over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove saucepan from the heat but leave lid on 10 minutes. Stir the chili con carne with beans into the rice.

Tear off 6 inch lengths of light weight aluminum foil. To make the tamales, place a washed corn shuck on a piece of aluminum foil. Spread with some of the rice and chili con carne mixture. Place a second corn shuck over the top. Roll up tightly in the aluminum foil. Turn each end of foil over two times. In this manner, make 6 tamale packets. If some of the shucks are very small or are torn, reinforce with a third shuck. Place the packets, seam side of foil up, in a skillet. Place a small amount of water in the bottom of the skillet. The water should not come over the packets. Bring the water to a boil. Turn heat down. Cover the skillet with a lid and keep the water hot enough to steam. Remove the lid several times to add small amounts of water. Steam 30 minutes. Serve in the aluminum foil.

This recipe makes 6 servings.

Yankees Beat Cleveland, 5-2, Tighten Grip On Lead

Andy Carey, Joe Collins Belt Homers

Rip Coleman Scores Over Wynn; Rosen Hits For Circuit

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25 (AP) — Homers by Joe Collins and Andy Carey backed up rookie hurler Rip Coleman tonight as the New York Yankees tightened their grip on first place with a 5-2 triumph over the Cleveland Indians.

Coleman allowed the Indians only four hits until the eighth when he yielded a double and two singles, and had to have help from Bob Grim.

The double, by Ralph Kiner, led to one of the Tribe's runs. The other came in the sixth, on Al Rosen's 18th homer.

Lead By 1½ Games

Opening a three-game series, the contest dropped the Indians two full games behind the Yanks into third place. New York leads second place Chicago by a game and a half.

The loser, Early Wynn, was chased in the second after yielding four runs.

He fed Mickey Mantle a walk to start the inning. Then Collins lifted his ninth homer of the season into the right-field stands.

Gil McDougald took a base on balls, made second on Carey's single, and touched third after Coleman walked to fill the bases. McDougald came home after Hank Bauer's long fly, and when Irv Noren singled through the box, Carey scored. Reliefer Sal Maglie got Yogi Berra on a fly.

Coleman Is Winner

The winner, Coleman, a 24-year-old southpaw, pitched for Denver in the American Assn. until a few weeks ago. Tonight's game was his second start in the majors. His first was last week against Baltimore, when the Yanks won 12-6.

Magnussen, McFerren Play For Golf Title

NORBECK, Md., Aug. 25 (AP) — Bernie Magnussen of Chicago and Gerry McFerren of the Manor Country Club here advanced to the final of the Western Junior Golf Championship today and will meet for the title in 36 holes tomorrow.

McFerren, University of Maryland sophomore, defeated Dave Hill of Jackson, Mich., 4 and 2, in a sloppily played semifinal. Magnussen, upcoming freshman at Stanford University, won 2 and 1 over Bruce Kessler, 1954 District of Columbia district schoolboy champion. Both finalists are 18.

McFerren almost didn't make the semifinal as he had to make a 15 foot putt on the 18th hole of the morning round to avoid defeat by Warren Krick of Washington.

McFerren made the putt for a birdie and won the match on the 19th hole one up.

Detroit Holds Boston Red Sox To Even Break

Tigers Cop First, 6-1,. Lose Nightcap, 6-4

DETROIT, Aug. 25 (AP) — Jackie Jensen became the first American Leaguer to knock in 100 runs this season, sending across four tallies on a two-run homer and a bases-loaded single, to give the Boston Red Sox a 6-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers today in the second game of a double-header.

Home runs by Ray Boone and Charlie Maxwell powered the Tigers to a 6-1 victory in the opener.

Jensen has exactly 100 RBI's. He slammed his 21st home run in the third inning after Ted Williams had singled. And he drilled a single to center in the fourth following singles by pitcher Ike Delock and Billy Goodman and a walk to Williams.

Delock, who departed in the seventh, picked up his eight victory against five losses.

Earl Torgeson clubbed a two-run homer off Delock in the third.

In the opener, Ned Garver went the distance for Detroit to record his first victory since July 26. He spaced eight hits, including a single and double to Williams who knocked in Boston's lone run.

Maxwell hung a two-run homer high into the upper right field stands in the second inning, and the Tigers were never headed.

Pirates Capture Third Straight

Roy Face Masters Chicago Cubs, 2-1

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25 (AP) — Johnny O'Brien's eighth inning single, scoring Ramon Mejias who had doubled, broke up a tie to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 2-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs tonight.

The victory was the third in a row for the Pirates and the third consecutive route-going performance by one of their young pitchers. Roy Face, winning his fourth game against four defeats, gave up 8 hits.

The Pirates collected seven hits off Paul Minner, who now has an 8-8 record.

Johnny O'Brien, who got two of the Pirate hits, played a key role in the Pirates' first run. His fourth inning double sent Preston Ward to third and Ward scored a moment later on an outfield fly. Ward had gotten on base on a fielder's choice.

Porterfield Beats Chisox 3rd Time, 6-1

Nat Hurler Retires After Twisting Knee

CHICAGO, Aug. 25 (AP)—The seventh-place Washington Senators, beaten 15 times previously by the Chicago White Sox, refused to be treated as "cousins" today and walloped the pennant-minded Comiskeys, 6-1.

The ignoble defeat, in the heat of the championship drive, followed a Sox split of a four-game series with the tail-end Baltimore Orioles.

It gave Chicago three losses in their last five starts against clubs they figured to beat to stay in the torrid race.

The Senators have taken the Sox only three times this season and Bob Porterfield has won all of them. He choked them today, before a Comiskey Park ladies day crowd of 18,077, with a scattering of six hits for a 10-15 mark.

Porterfield, however, wasn't around at the end. After singling in the eighth, he limped to the bag and was removed for treatment of a twisted knee. He injured it while tossing his last pitch of the seventh inning.

Camilio Pascual finished, yielding only two hits.

The Senators sprayed 13 hits off three Sox hurlers, knocking out starter Connie Johnson in a four-run fourth.

Three singles—including run-producing blows by Jose Valdivielso and Pete Runnels—shot the Senators ahead 2-0 in the third inning.

The Nats made it 6-1 in the fourth on a cluster of five hits.

Minnie Minoso collected three singles for the Sox and drove in the only run, in the third after Nellie Fox had doubled.

Shipboard Wins Saratoga Fifth

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 25 (AP) — Montpeller's Shipboard, under the staggering impost of 160 pounds, gave a tremendous exhibition of grit and endurance when he captured the 48th running of the $10,000 added Saratoga Steeplechase Handicap here this afternoon.

Rated with keen judgment by Albert Fall, the 5-year-old gelded son of battleship came on when the chips were down, and pulled clear by 2 lengths over the about 2½ mile journey over 16 high jumps.

Moose Tossers Beat Elks, 3-2

Square Up Rocking Chair Loop Series

The Loyal Order of Moose squared its Rocking Chair Softball League playoff series with the B.P.O. Elks at one-all by defeating the latter yesterday at Stitcher Field by the score of 3-2.

Singles by Dick Boyle and Bill Thompson produced what proved to be the deciding run in the fifth inning and gave "Pete" Elliott the decision over Bill Underdonk in a neat pitching duel. Elliott posted his 13th win of the season, struck out four and issued two bases on balls. The loss was the sixth for Underdonk against 18 victories. Bill fanned three and gave up two walks.

The Moose took a two-run lead in the first inning on Joe Wagner's walk and hits by "Bub" Porter and Elliott. The Elks scored one run in the second on a base on balls, a passed ball and Roy Lester's single. Their final tally came in the seventh on Pence's single coupled with two errors.

Six Elks obtained singles while Thompson accounted for two of the winning team's eight blows.

The third and final game of the series is set for Monday at 6:15 o'clock at Stitcher Field. Score:

Kenney Meets Doug Sullivan For Net Title

Smith, Twigg Lose In City Rec Event

Vern Kenney, last year's City Recreation boys' champion, advanced to the finals of the current junior tennis tournament yesterday by defeating Bill Smith, 6-1, 2-6, 6-4.

Kenney will meet Doug Sullivan who also reached the finals yesterday on the Dingle court by eliminating James Twigg, 5-7, 6-4, 6-3.

Twigg, a fourteen-year-old Fort Hill student had eliminated some of the best players in the tournament and was given a good chance of playing through, which he may do next year as both of the finalists this year are just in the age limit.

The two finalists this year were doubles champions last year and are playing together in this year's doubles.

Yesterday afternoon in the girls' division on the Dingle courts Helen Wanless, last year's champion, defeated Eleanor Murphy, 6-1, 6-2.

This afternoon at the Dingle, Miss Wanless plays Sally McGreevy in the semi-finals of the upper division.

In the lower girls' division Lucille Wanless will play Sarah Murphy this afternoon at the Dingle. Beverly Bowie and Maureen Miller are also in this division undefeated.

All the remaining matches in singles and doubles will be played on the Dingle courts.

Briggs Says Tigers Are Not For Sale

DETROIT, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Detroit Free Press said flatly today: "The Detroit Tigers and Briggs Stadium are for sale."

But Walter O. (Spike) Briggs Jr., club president, termed the report "ridiculous."

"The team is not for sale," Briggs said when asked for comment on the Free Press story.

Briggs said such reports "seem to come up every year."

The Detroit Times carried a similar report Sunday.

Both newspapers said a complex inheritance tax situation will force sale of the Tigers and their home park.

Yankees Beat Cleveland, 5-2, Tighten Grip On Lead

Rip Coleman Scores Over Wynn; Rosen Hits For Circuit

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25 (AP) — Homers by Joe Collins and Andy Carey backed up rookie hurler Rip Coleman tonight as the New York Yankees tightened their grip on first place with a 5-2 triumph over the Cleveland Indians.

Coleman allowed the Indians only four hits until the eighth when he yielded a double and two singles, and had to have help from Bob Grim.

The double, by Ralph Kiner, led to one of the Tribe's runs. The other came in the sixth, on Al Rosen's 18th homer.

Lead By 1½ Games

Opening a three-game series, the contest dropped the Indians two full games behind the Yanks into third place. New York leads second place Chicago by a game and a half.

The loser, Early Wynn, was chased in the second after yielding four runs.

He fed Mickey Mantle a walk to start the inning. Then Collins lifted his ninth homer of the season into the right-field stands.

Gil McDougald took a base on balls, made second on Carey's single, and touched third after Coleman walked to fill the bases. McDougald came home after Hank Bauer's long fly, and when Irv Noren singled through the box, Carey scored. Reliefer Sal Maglie got Yogi Berra on a fly.

Coleman Is Winner

The winner, Coleman, a 24-year-old southpaw, pitched for Denver in the American Assn. until a few weeks ago. Tonight's game was his second start in the majors. His first was last week against Baltimore, when the Yanks won 12-6.

Magnussen, McFerren Play For Golf Title

NORBECK, Md., Aug. 25 (AP) — Bernie Magnussen of Chicago and Gerry McFerren of the Manor Country Club here advanced to the final of the Western Junior Golf Championship today and will meet for the title in 36 holes tomorrow.

McFerren, University of Maryland sophomore, defeated Dave Hill of Jackson, Mich., 4 and 2, in a sloppily played semifinal. Magnussen, upcoming freshman at Stanford University, won 2 and 1 over Bruce Kessler, 1954 District of Columbia district schoolboy champion. Both finalists are 18.

McFerren almost didn't make the semifinal as he had to make a 15 foot putt on the 18th hole of the morning round to avoid defeat by Warren Krick of Washington.

McFerren made the putt for a birdie and won the match on the 19th hole one up.

Detroit Holds Boston Red Sox To Even Break

Tigers Cop First, 6-1,. Lose Nightcap, 6-4

DETROIT, Aug. 25 (AP) — Jackie Jensen became the first American Leaguer to knock in 100 runs this season, sending across four tallies on a two-run homer and a bases-loaded single, to give the Boston Red Sox a 6-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers today in the second game of a double-header.

Home runs by Ray Boone and Charlie Maxwell powered the Tigers to a 6-1 victory in the opener.

Jensen has exactly 100 RBI's. He slammed his 21st home run in the third inning after Ted Williams had singled. And he drilled a single to center in the fourth following singles by pitcher Ike Delock and Billy Goodman and a walk to Williams.

Delock, who departed in the seventh, picked up his eight victory against five losses.

Earl Torgeson clubbed a two-run homer off Delock in the third.

In the opener, Ned Garver went the distance for Detroit to record his first victory since July 26. He spaced eight hits, including a single and double to Williams who knocked in Boston's lone run.

Maxwell hung a two-run homer high into the upper right field stands in the second inning, and the Tigers were never headed.

Pirates Capture Third Straight

Roy Face Masters Chicago Cubs, 2-1

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25 (AP) — Johnny O'Brien's eighth inning single, scoring Ramon Mejias who had doubled, broke up a tie to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 2-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs tonight.

The victory was the third in a row for the Pirates and the third consecutive route-going performance by one of their young pitchers. Roy Face, winning his fourth game against four defeats, gave up 8 hits.

The Pirates collected seven hits off Paul Minner, who now has an 8-8 record.

Johnny O'Brien, who got two of the Pirate hits, played a key role in the Pirates' first run. His fourth inning double sent Preston Ward to third and Ward scored a moment later on an outfield fly. Ward had gotten on base on a fielder's choice.

West Virginia Title Goes To Bill Campbell

Defeats Tutwiler By Five Strokes

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Aug. 25 (AP)—Tall, tanned Bill Campbell of Huntington overcame some shaky moments today to win his third West Virginia Open Golf Championship with a 5-stroke victory over Ed Tutwiler of Charleston.

Campbell, the U. S. Walker Cup captain, scored a 274 for the three-day, 72-hole tournament over his home Guyan Country Club course after leading all the way. Tutwiler posted a 279.

Campbell's victory came only after a serious threat by Tutwiler and after Campbell had settled down to his deliberate, steady game.

Defending champion Joe Taylor of Charleston lost his trophy, but his 286 was low for the professionals and gave him the $500 pro first prize.

Taylor beat out Buddy Viar of Charleston, with a 288, and George Hoffer of Huntington, who posted a 292. Behind Viar's fourth place were amateurs Dave Clovis of Parkersburg, 289, and Jack Peck of Logan, 291.

Campbell's victory over Tutwiler had been acknowledged late in the afternoon after Tut came in with his final 18-hole round with a 71-one under par for the 6,260 yard course. From then it was only a matter of time and the final score, until Campbell walked off the palette-shaped 18th green followed by more than 200 spectators in the late afternoon sun.

Tutwiler had fired a 69 for his morning round and trimmed Campbell's lead from six strokes to three.

Porterfield Beats Chisox 3rd Time, 6-1

Nat Hurler Retires After Twisting Knee

CHICAGO, Aug. 25 (AP)—The seventh-place Washington Senators, beaten 15 times previously by the Chicago White Sox, refused to be treated as "cousins" today and walloped the pennant-minded Comiskeys, 6-1.

The ignoble defeat, in the heat of the championship drive, followed a Sox split of a four-game series with the tail-end Baltimore Orioles.

It gave Chicago three losses in their last five starts against clubs they figured to beat to stay in the torrid race.

The Senators have taken the Sox only three times this season and Bob Porterfield has won all of them. He choked them today, before a Comiskey Park ladies day crowd of 18,077, with a scattering of six hits for a 10-15 mark.

Porterfield, however, wasn't around at the end. After singling in the eighth, he limped to the bag and was removed for treatment of a twisted knee. He injured it while tossing his last pitch of the seventh inning.

Camilio Pascual finished, yielding only two hits.

The Senators sprayed 13 hits off three Sox hurlers, knocking out starter Connie Johnson in a four-run fourth.

Three singles—including run-producing blows by Jose Valdivielso and Pete Runnels—shot the Senators ahead 2-0 in the third inning.

The Nats made it 6-1 in the fourth on a cluster of five hits.

Minnie Minoso collected three singles for the Sox and drove in the only run, in the third after Nellie Fox had doubled.

Shipboard Wins Saratoga Fifth

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 25 (AP) — Montpeller's Shipboard, under the staggering impost of 160 pounds, gave a tremendous exhibition of grit and endurance when he captured the 48th running of the $10,000 added Saratoga Steeplechase Handicap here this afternoon.

Rated with keen judgment by Albert Fall, the 5-year-old gelded son of battleship came on when the chips were down, and pulled clear by 2 lengths over the about 2½ mile journey over 16 high jumps.

Moose Tossers Beat Elks, 3-2

Square Up Rocking Chair Loop Series

The Loyal Order of Moose squared its Rocking Chair Softball League playoff series with the B.P.O. Elks at one-all by defeating the latter yesterday at Stitcher Field by the score of 3-2.

Singles by Dick Boyle and Bill Thompson produced what proved to be the deciding run in the fifth inning and gave "Pete" Elliott the decision over Bill Underdonk in a neat pitching duel. Elliott posted his 13th win of the season, struck out four and issued two bases on balls. The loss was the sixth for Underdonk against 18 victories. Bill fanned three and gave up two walks.

The Moose took a two-run lead in the first inning on Joe Wagner's walk and hits by "Bub" Porter and Elliott. The Elks scored one run in the second on a base on balls, a passed ball and Roy Lester's single. Their final tally came in the seventh on Pence's single coupled with two errors.

Six Elks obtained singles while Thompson accounted for two of the winning team's eight blows.

The third and final game of the series is set for Monday at 6:15 o'clock at Stitcher Field. Score:

Kenneth "Sookie" Grimes and "Buck" Frantz will officiate in the three contests.

Kenney Meets Doug Sullivan For Net Title

Smith, Twigg Lose In City Rec Event

Vern Kenney, last year's City Recreation boys' champion, advanced to the finals of the current junior tennis tournament yesterday by defeating Bill Smith, 6-1, 2-6, 6-4.

Kenney will meet Doug Sullivan who also reached the finals yesterday on the Dingle court by eliminating James Twigg, 5-7, 6-4, 6-3.

Twigg, a fourteen-year-old Fort Hill student had eliminated some of the best players in the tournament and was given a good chance of playing through, which he may do next year as both of the finalists this year are just in the age limit.

The two finalists this year were doubles champions last year and are playing together in this year's doubles.

Yesterday afternoon in the girls' division on the Dingle courts Helen Wanless, last year's champion, defeated Eleanor Murphy, 6-1, 6-2.

This afternoon at the Dingle, Miss Wanless plays Sally McGreevy in the semi-finals of the upper division.

In the lower girls' division Lucille Wanless will play Sarah Murphy this afternoon at the Dingle. Beverly Bowie and Maureen Miller are also in this division undefeated.

All the remaining matches in singles and doubles will be played on the Dingle courts.

Briggs Says Tigers Are Not For Sale

DETROIT, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Detroit Free Press said flatly today: "The Detroit Tigers and Briggs Stadium are for sale."

But Walter O. (Spike) Briggs Jr., club president, termed the report "ridiculous."

"The team is not for sale," Briggs said when asked for comment on the Free Press story.

Briggs said such reports "seem to come up every year."

The Detroit Times carried a similar report Sunday.

Both newspapers said a complex inheritance tax situation will force sale of the Tigers and their home park.

Australia And U. S. Open Davis Cup Matches Today

Ken Rosewall, Vic Seixas To Launch Series

Tony Trabert Faces Lew Hoad; Matches To Start At 1:15

By WILL GRIMSLEY

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 25 (AP)—The wheel of chance rolled for Australia today and sent America's slump-ridden tennis champion, Vic Seixas, against his longtime jinx, Ken Rosewall, in tomorrow's opening singles match of the Davis Cup challenge round.

The duel is scheduled to start at 1:15 p.m. (EST), to be followed by a battle between the two countries' heaviest bombardiers—Wimbledon champion Tony Trabert of the U. S. and Australia's Lewis Hoad.

Dulles Makes Draw

The draw was made today at the West Side Tennis Club by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

When the secretary plucked the names of Seixas and Rosewall from the big silver bowl, grins popped on the faces of the Australians. It was the pairing they wanted since Rosewall holds a mystic spell over the 31-year-old Philadelphian whom he'd beaten nine straight times before the 1954 challenge round. Then Seixas won to help bring back the cup.

The rival captains, Harry Hopman of Australia and Bill Talbert of the United States issued confident statements of victory.

"I am sure we will win," said Hopman, a grim little newsman from Melbourne. "I figure we are sure to win both the singles matches with Seixas and have an even chance in the other three—the two matches with Trabert and the doubles."

"We'll win 3-0," countered Talbert, a crew-cut Wall Street executive who helped bring back the cup a year ago from Down Under.

May Use Richardson

"That means Sunday we will be playing for fun. I am already considering use of Hamilton Richardson in Sunday's final matches."

After tomorrow's opening singles, the doubles will be played on Saturday with the final singles Sunday. On Sunday, the order will be reversed with Hoad playing Seixas in the first match and Trabert meeting Rosewall in the second.

All three days of play will be televised in color (NBC) starting at 1 p.m. (EST).

A team must win three of the five matches to clinch the cup.

DAVIS CUP DRAWING—U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles raises hands of non-playing captains Harry Hopman, left, and Bill Talbert, of the Australian and U. S. teams respectively, during drawings in Davis Cup tennis matches at West Side Tennis Club, Forest Hills, N. Y., yesterday. At right is Sir Percy Spender, Australian Ambassador to the United States. Nave's Market made it two wins in a row in their Men's Rec Softball League championship series with the V.F.W. by romping off with an 11-8 decision yesterday at Penn Avenue Field. It took an extra frame to reach a decision.

The third game of the best-of-five series is scheduled for today at 6:15 at Penn Avenue Field.

Nave's amassed a total of 13 hits, including a three-run homer and two-bagger by James Taylor. "Hank" Page collected three hits and Niles Harper, Earl Green and Charles Denmark had a double and single each.

Jack Stotler twirled Hygienic Sanitation into the City Softball League playoffs yesterday when he turned back Kelly Retail Store by the score of 12-7 at Campobello.

The game was played to determine fourth place in the circuit and the winners will face Schute's Roofers in the opener of a best-of-three semi-final playoff series on Monday.

Kelly took a 5-1 lead in the third inning but Hygienic scored five runs in the fourth to go ahead at 6-5. Kelly, however, knotted it up at 6-6 in the same inning. Hygienic came up with three deuces in the last three frames to put the game on ice.

Snead, Souchak Pace Field In Montreal Open

Post 5-Under-Par 65s, Lead By Single Stroke

MONTREAL, Aug. 25 (AP) — Sam Snead, the old master from White Sulphur Springs, Va., came in late today with a sparkling five-under-par 65 to share the lead with Mike Souchak of Grossinger's, N. Y., in the first round of the $26,800 Montreal Open.

Last of those with a chance to catch up with Souchak, the husky ex-footballer, Snead came down the last nine with a remarkable display of golf, topped by a 60-foot chip shot from the fringe of the green at the 13th which went down for a birdie deuce.

Ford Trails By Stroke

One stroke behind the leaders were Doug Ford of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., winner of the tournament over the same course two years ago, and Marty Furgol, of Lemont, Ill., with 66s.

Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., came in with 67, alone at that figure.

Snead picked up four birdies on the first nine and went over par at the third hole with a five. He reached the 530-yard first in two and was down for a birdie. He birdied the second and sixth and got another at the seventh when he chipped on nicely from just off the green.

The bull-shouldered Souchak threw his best block at the Summerlea course with his putting. He ran them down from distances of two feet to 35 feet. Souchak had only 28 putts for the 18-hole distance, one-putting eight greens.

The two under-par group included George Bayer, mountain-size golfer from Cincinnati, and Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver, who put together a fine 35-33 against Summerlea's par of 36-34.

Jack Burke Posts 68

Also with 68s were Fred Hawkins of St. Andrews, Ill., Jack Burke Jr., of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., Art Wall, Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., Ted Kroll of Utica, N. Y., and Bo Winninger of Oklahoma City.

Bobo Olson Will Be Back In Living Rooms Tonight

Fights Joe Giambra In California Ring

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25 (AP)—Bobo Olson will be back in the nation's living rooms tomorrow night and figures to stay around longer than he did the last time.

Olson, the middleweight champion, is slated for a national television date with Joey Giambra, 24-year-old left hooker on furlough from the Army. The scheduled 10-rounder, a non-title event at the Cow Palace, goes on the air at 10 p.m. (EDT) over NBC.

The last time Olson was in living rooms across the country was two months ago—and he was around for only three rounds. That was the night Archie Moore knocked him out in their light-heavyweight title clash in New York.

It'll be different tomorrow night, says the champ's manager, Sid Flaherty.

"My boy is the best at his weight in the world and he's proved it," Flaherty says. "We're not selling Giambra short. Actually, I think he's the second best middleweight around, but Bobo's ready to go."

Flaherty's feeling that Giambra is good is echoed in the betting. Olson was a 3-1 favorite on the eve of the fight, but there was talk that the odds might shorten by tomorrow. That's close, especially when you remember he has gone in against the likes of Sugar Ray Robinson, Pierre Langlois and Rocky Castellani as high as 6-1.

Olson hasn't knocked out anybody since last December when he disposed of Langlois in 11 rounds in the same ring where he'll face Giambra. He's won four fights this year by decision.

Giambra, whose home is in Buffalo, N.Y., has knocked out three of his four ring foes this year and has insisted right along that he has no fear of the champion. Before entering military service he held fourth ranking in the middleweight division.

Green Bay Packers have a new punting specialist who didn't even attend college. He is Dick Deschaine, who played with a semi-pro team.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to obtain a decree of adoption.

The bill states that Elsie M. Ganger was married to Kenneth Otis Ganger in Lonaconing, Maryland, on the 31st day of December, 1948, and that one child, namely, Carol Lynn Ganger, born September 18, 1949, was born of said marriage; that thereafter on the 9th day of October, 1952, Elsie M. Ganger was divorced a vinculo matrimonii from Kenneth Otis Ganger by a decree of the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, and was awarded the care, custody and guardianship of Carol Lynn Ganger, infant child; that on the 17th day of October, 1953, at Lonaconing, Maryland, the said Elsie M. Ganger was married to Richard L. Cutter and that no children were born of said marriage; that since said marriage, Richard L. Cutter has acted as a parent toward said child as if she was his own; that the father, Kenneth Otis Ganger, whose last known address was 708 Ruddle Avenue, Anderson, Indiana, has contributed nothing toward the child's support or shown any interest in her; and that it would be to the best interest and welfare of the child that she be adopted and her name changed to Carol Lynn Cutter; and that said child is presently residing with its mother, Elsie M. Cutter, in Charlestown Street, Lonaconing, Allegany County, Maryland.

It is thereupon this 25th day of August, 1955, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the Petitioners by causing a copy of this Order to be published in some newspaper, once in each of four successive weeks, before the 26th day of September, 1955, giving notice to the said Kenneth Otis Ganger of the object and purpose of this suit and warning him to be and appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 13th day of October, 1955, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Braves Boost Lead In Battle For 2nd Place

Warren Spahn Scores Over New York, 3-2

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP) — Milwaukee's second place Braves increased their lead over third place New York to four games today by nipping the Giants, 3-2, on Warren Spahn's six-hitter.

It was the veteran southpaw's first victory over the Giants after three defeats this season. For six innings, it appeared that Spahn was heading for another defeat as Jim Hearn stopped the Braves with one hit and led 2-0.

Then Hearn lost control in the seventh and the Braves took quick advantage to score all of their runs.

With one away, Hearn walked Ed Mathews and Hank Aaron. Johnny Logan singled in the first run. When Hearn walked George Crowe to load the bases he was replaced by Marv Grissom.

Andy Pafko beat out a roller to third to drive in the tying run and Del Crandall's ground out to short brought in Logan with the winner. Mathews' single in the fourth was the only other Milwaukee hit.

Potomac Valley Sweeps Sports Shoppe Series

Phillips Bags 10th Straight Win, 11-7

Potomac Valley's Old Germans made a sweep of their two-game semi-final playoff series with the Sports Shoppe yesterday at Corriganville and earned the right to play Stringtown in the three-game final set for the championship. The score of yesterday's game was 11-7.

Manager Jimmy Allen's swatsmiths hammered the offerings of "Boots" and Joe Raygor for 15 hits, including four hits in four official at bats for Paul Lease, three safeties by Glenn "Speed" Hanna and a circuit belt by Frank Urbas with a teammate aboard in the fifth inning.

Joe Raygor touched Hayden Phillips for a 3-run homer in the first inning and it wasn't until the 6th inning that the Old G's sewed up the game with a three-run outburst.

"Boots" Raygor got a double in addition to his homer and "Boots" Raygor pounded a two-bagger and single for the losers.

McKenzie's backhand stab of a line drive over second base was the fielding gem.

The victory was the twenty-third straight for the Old Germans and the tenth in a row for Phillips who is undefeated in the league this season.

Potomac Valley and Stringtown meet in the first game of their series Tuesday at 6 p. m. at Triple Lakes. The second game is set for Stringtown Friday and the third, if necessary, the following Tuesday at Triple Lakes.

Zihlman Trails By Half Game, Beats Wellersburg In 9th, 1-0

Dawson Walks Home Lone Tally In Duel Won By Bobby Lee

Zihlman moved within a half game of the front-running Grantsville Sluggers in the Pen-Mar Baseball League pennant race yesterday by gaining a 1-0 decision over Wellersburg at Zihlman.

Bobby Dawson issued a base on balls to "Buck" Winfield in the ninth inning with the bases loaded to force over the only run scored in the hard-fought contest.

Denny Shuck drew a pass to open the ninth and advanced to third on "Bubbles" Thompson's two-base clout. Dunn was passed intentionally, filling the bases. Then Dawson walked Winfield and the winning run crossed the plate.

Bobby Lee, southpaw, went the route for Zihlman, limited Wellersburg to four hits and struck out six. O'Baker obtained two of the bingles and Loibel and Petenbrink got the other safeties, the latter's being a double.

Dawson tossed a five-hitter and fanned three. Thompson paced the winners with a double and two singles, Shuck smacked a two-bagger and Ricky Harris garnered a single.

Zihlman and Wellersburg had battled to 4-4 deadlock in eight innings on Wednesday, necessitating the staging of yesterday's contest.

The win gave second place Zihlman a 21-7 record. Grantsville with a 21-6 mark must defeat Wellersburg in Grantsville Saturday to retain first place. If Grantsville loses the race will end in a tie on the final day of the season. Score:

McCoole's Vets won the pennant in the Mineral County Softball League yesterday by rallying for four runs in the last of the 7th inning to whip France's Tavern of Fort Ahsby in a playoff game at Keyser by the score of 4-2.

Rich Smith, V.F.W. pitcher, won his own game when he slammed a two-run homer to climax the last-ditch rally.

Smith and Cooper pitched shutout ball until the top of the 7th when Fort Ashby scored two runs on walks to Hartman and Shriver and Cooper's two-base blow.

Jimmy Clevenger started the fireworks for McCoole when he opened the 7th with a single and scored by Manager "Tucker" Cain's triple. After Alex Ambrose drew a pass, Rich Smith won the game with a circuit belt to centerfield.

Cooper's double in the final frame was the only hit yielded by Smith. Cooper yielded eight safeties.

Australia And U. S. Open Davis Cup Matches Today

Ken Rosewall, Vic Seixas To Launch Series

Tony Trabert Faces Lew Hoad; Matches To Start At 1:15

By WILL GRIMSLEY

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 25 (AP)—The wheel of chance rolled for Australia today and sent America's slump-ridden tennis champion, Vic Seixas, against his longtime jinx, Ken Rosewall, in tomorrow's opening singles match of the Davis Cup challenge round.

The duel is scheduled to start at 1:15 p.m. (EST), to be followed by a battle between the two countries' heaviest bombardiers—Wimbledon champion Tony Trabert of the U. S. and Australia's Lewis Hoad.

Dulles Makes Draw

The draw was made today at the West Side Tennis Club by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

When the secretary plucked the names of Seixas and Rosewall from the big silver bowl, grins popped on the faces of the Australians. It was the pairing they wanted since Rosewall holds a mystic spell over the 31-year-old Philadelphian whom he'd beaten nine straight times before the 1954 challenge round. Then Seixas won to help bring back the cup.

The rival captains, Harry Hopman of Australia and Bill Talbert of the United States issued confident statements of victory.

"I am sure we will win," said Hopman, a grim little newsman from Melbourne. "I figure we are sure to win both the singles matches with Seixas and have an even chance in the other three—the two matches with Trabert and the doubles."

"We'll win 3-0," countered Talbert, a crew-cut Wall Street executive who helped bring back the cup a year ago from Down Under.

May Use Richardson

"That means Sunday we will be playing for fun. I am already considering use of Hamilton Richardson in Sunday's final matches."

After tomorrow's opening singles, the doubles will be played on Saturday with the final singles Sunday. On Sunday, the order will be reversed with Hoad playing Seixas in the first match and Trabert meeting Rosewall in the second.

All three days of play will be televised in color (NBC) starting at 1 p.m. (EST).

A team must win three of the five matches to clinch the cup.

Nave's Market made it two wins in a row in their Men's Rec Softball League championship series with the V.F.W. by romping off with an 11-8 decision yesterday at Penn Avenue Field. It took an extra frame to reach a decision.

Snead, Souchak Pace Field In Montreal Open

Post 5-Under-Par 65s, Lead By Single Stroke

MONTREAL, Aug. 25 (AP) — Sam Snead, the old master from White Sulphur Springs, Va., came in late today with a sparkling five-under-par 65 to share the lead with Mike Souchak of Grossinger's, N. Y., in the first round of the $26,800 Montreal Open.

Last of those with a chance to catch up with Souchak, the husky ex-footballer, Snead came down the last nine with a remarkable display of golf, topped by a 60-foot chip shot from the fringe of the green at the 13th which went down for a birdie deuce.

Ford Trails By Stroke

One stroke behind the leaders were Doug Ford of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., winner of the tournament over the same course two years ago, and Marty Furgol, of Lemont, Ill., with 66s.

Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., came in with 67, alone at that figure.

Snead picked up four birdies on the first nine and went over par at the third hole with a five. He reached the 530-yard first in two and was down for a birdie. He birdied the second and sixth and got another at the seventh when he chipped on nicely from just off the green.

The bull-shouldered Souchak threw his best block at the Summerlea course with his putting. He ran them down from distances of two feet to 35 feet. Souchak had only 28 putts for the 18-hole distance, one-putting eight greens.

The two under-par group included George Bayer, mountain-size golfer from Cincinnati, and Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver, who put together a fine 35-33 against Summerlea's par of 36-34.

Jack Burke Posts 68

Also with 68s were Fred Hawkins of St. Andrews, Ill., Jack Burke Jr., of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., Art Wall, Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., Ted Kroll of Utica, N. Y., and Bo Winninger of Oklahoma City.

Bobo Olson Will Be Back In Living Rooms Tonight

Fights Joe Giambra In California Ring

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25 (AP)—Bobo Olson will be back in the nation's living rooms tomorrow night and figures to stay around longer than he did the last time.

Olson, the middleweight champion, is slated for a national television date with Joey Giambra, 24-year-old left hooker on furlough from the Army. The scheduled 10-rounder, a non-title event at the Cow Palace, goes on the air at 10 p.m. (EDT) over NBC.

The last time Olson was in living rooms across the country was two months ago—and he was around for only three rounds. That was the night Archie Moore knocked him out in their light-heavyweight title clash in New York.

It'll be different tomorrow night, says the champ's manager, Sid Flaherty.

"My boy is the best at his weight in the world and he's proved it," Flaherty says. "We're not selling Giambra short. Actually, I think he's the second best middleweight around, but Bobo's ready to go."

Flaherty's feeling that Giambra is good is echoed in the betting. Olson was a 3-1 favorite on the eve of the fight, but there was talk that the odds might shorten by tomorrow. That's close, especially when you remember he has gone in against the likes of Sugar Ray Robinson, Pierre Langlois and Rocky Castellani as high as 6-1.

Olson hasn't knocked out anybody since last December when he disposed of Langlois in 11 rounds in the same ring where he'll face Giambra. He's won four fights this year by decision.

Giambra, whose home is in Buffalo, N.Y., has knocked out three of his four ring foes this year and has insisted right along that he has no fear of the champion. Before entering military service he held fourth ranking in the middleweight division.

Green Bay Packers have a new punting specialist who didn't even attend college. He is Dick Deschaine, who played with a semi-pro team.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to obtain a decree of adoption.

The bill states that Elsie M. Ganger was married to Kenneth Otis Ganger in Lonaconing, Maryland, on the 31st day of December, 1948, and that one child, namely, Carol Lynn Ganger, born September 18, 1949, was born of said marriage; that thereafter on the 9th day of October, 1952, Elsie M. Ganger was divorced a vinculo matrimonii from Kenneth Otis Ganger by a decree of the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, and was awarded the care, custody and guardianship of Carol Lynn Ganger, infant child; that on the 17th day of October, 1953, at Lonaconing, Maryland, the said Elsie M. Ganger was married to Richard L. Cutter and that no children were born of said marriage; that since said marriage, Richard L. Cutter has acted as a parent toward said child as if she was his own; that the father, Kenneth Otis Ganger, whose last known address was 708 Ruddle Avenue, Anderson, Indiana, has contributed nothing toward the child's support or shown any interest in her; and that it would be to the best interest and welfare of the child that she be adopted and her name changed to Carol Lynn Cutter; and that said child is presently residing with its mother, Elsie M. Cutter, in Charlestown Street, Lonaconing, Allegany County, Maryland.

It is thereupon this 25th day of August, 1955, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the Petitioners by causing a copy of this Order to be published in some newspaper, once in each of four successive weeks, before the 26th day of September, 1955, giving notice to the said Kenneth Otis Ganger of the object and purpose of this suit and warning him to be and appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 13th day of October, 1955, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Braves Boost Lead In Battle For 2nd Place

Warren Spahn Scores Over New York, 3-2

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP) — Milwaukee's second place Braves increased their lead over third place New York to four games today by nipping the Giants, 3-2, on Warren Spahn's six-hitter.

It was the veteran southpaw's first victory over the Giants after three defeats this season. For six innings, it appeared that Spahn was heading for another defeat as Jim Hearn stopped the Braves with one hit and led 2-0.

Then Hearn lost control in the seventh and the Braves took quick advantage to score all of their runs.

With one away, Hearn walked Ed Mathews and Hank Aaron. Johnny Logan singled in the first run. When Hearn walked George Crowe to load the bases he was replaced by Marv Grissom.

Andy Pafko beat out a roller to third to drive in the tying run and Del Crandall's ground out to short brought in Logan with the winner. Mathews' single in the fourth was the only other Milwaukee hit.

Potomac Valley Sweeps Sports Shoppe Series

Phillips Bags 10th Straight Win, 11-7

Potomac Valley's Old Germans made a sweep of their two-game semi-final playoff series with the Sports Shoppe yesterday at Corriganville and earned the right to play Stringtown in the three-game final set for the championship. The score of yesterday's game was 11-7.

Manager Jimmy Allen's swatsmiths hammered the offerings of "Boots" and Joe Raygor for 15 hits, including four hits in four official at bats for Paul Lease, three safeties by Glenn "Speed" Hanna and a circuit belt by Frank Urbas with a teammate aboard in the fifth inning.

Joe Raygor touched Hayden Phillips for a 3-run homer in the first inning and it wasn't until the 6th inning that the Old G's sewed up the game with a three-run outburst.

"Boots" Raygor got a double in addition to his homer and "Boots" Raygor pounded a two-bagger and single for the losers.

McKenzie's backhand stab of a line drive over second base was the fielding gem.

The victory was the twenty-third straight for the Old Germans and the tenth in a row for Phillips who is undefeated in the league this season.

Potomac Valley and Stringtown meet in the first game of their series Tuesday at 6 p. m. at Triple Lakes. The second game is set for Stringtown Friday and the third, if necessary, the following Tuesday at Triple Lakes.

Zihlman Trails By Half Game, Beats Wellersburg In 9th, 1-0

Dawson Walks Home Lone Tally In Duel Won By Bobby Lee

Zihlman moved within a half game of the front-running Grantsville Sluggers in the Pen-Mar Baseball League pennant race yesterday by gaining a 1-0 decision over Wellersburg at Zihlman.

Bobby Dawson issued a base on balls to "Buck" Winfield in the ninth inning with the bases loaded to force over the only run scored in the hard-fought contest.

Denny Shuck drew a pass to open the ninth and advanced to third on "Bubbles" Thompson's two-base clout. Dunn was passed intentionally, filling the bases. Then Dawson walked Winfield and the winning run crossed the plate.

Bobby Lee, southpaw, went the route for Zihlman, limited Wellersburg to four hits and struck out six. O'Baker obtained two of the bingles and Loibel and Petenbrink got the other safeties, the latter's being a double.

Dawson tossed a five-hitter and fanned three. Thompson paced the winners with a double and two singles, Shuck smacked a two-bagger and Ricky Harris garnered a single.

Zihlman and Wellersburg had battled to 4-4 deadlock in eight innings on Wednesday, necessitating the staging of yesterday's contest.

The win gave second place Zihlman a 21-7 record. Grantsville with a 21-6 mark must defeat Wellersburg in Grantsville Saturday to retain first place. If Grantsville loses the race will end in a tie on the final day of the season. Score:

McCoole Tops Ft. Ashby In Playoff, 4-2

McCoole's Vets won the pennant in the Mineral County Softball League yesterday by rallying for four runs in the last of the 7th inning to whip France's Tavern of Fort Ahsby in a playoff game at Keyser by the score of 4-2.

Rich Smith, V.F.W. pitcher, won his own game when he slammed a two-run homer to climax the last-ditch rally.

Smith and Cooper pitched shutout ball until the top of the 7th when Fort Ashby scored two runs on walks to Hartman and Shriver and Cooper's two-base blow.

Jimmy Clevenger started the fireworks for McCoole when he opened the 7th with a single and scored by Manager "Tucker" Cain's triple. After Alex Ambrose drew a pass, Rich Smith won the game with a circuit belt to centerfield.

Cooper's double in the final frame was the only hit yielded by Smith. Cooper yielded eight safeties.

Yesterday's game was necessary after the teams finished the regular season tied for first place with 18-12 records. The first playoff game on Tuesday ended in a seven-inning 9-9 tie.

The semi-final playoffs, best-of-three series, will get under way Sunday with McCoole facing Turnaround at 5 p. m. in Keyser. Other games in the series are as follows:

Potomac Valley Conference To Open 19th Season Sept. 9

Southern High Hosts Vikings In First Game

Nine Teams To Play 22 Tilts; Oakland Makes League Debut

The Potomac Valley Conference's 19th annual football race will get under way just two weeks from today when Petersburg High School's Vikings do battle with Southern High School in Oakland.

Southern, only Maryland entry, which inaugurated football last fall, will be making its debut in the circuit that includes eight West Virginia schools. Southern played one P.V.C. team last season, battling West Virginia School for the Deaf to a scoreless tie.

Twenty-two games have been scheduled thus far and there is a possibility that the addition of a Circleville-West Virginia School for the Deaf game will increase the total to 23.

Vikings To Play Seven

Petersburg, coached by Jesse Riggleman, will be the busiest team in the loop, playing seven opponents. Ridgeley and Moorefield will play six games each while Franklin, Romney and Keyser have five apiece.

The league boasts of several undefeated teams in its history dating back to 1937 but the standout record was that set by Homer Fizer's Keyser eleven of 1938 which turned in a 5-0 record and was unscored on. The Mineral Countians that year whipped Petersburg 14-0, Romney 32-0, Parsons 25-0, Moorefield 12-0 and Piedmont 47-0. The Golden Tornado of 17 years ago rolled up a total of 130 points while skunking the opposition. Fizer is now coaching at University High School, Morgantown, W. Va.

Clark Has Most Winners

Keyser has won the most championships, taking six outright and sharing another with Ridgeley. Frederick "Tack" Clark has tutored five winners and another team of his shared the 1948 championship. His first championship eleven was at Moorefield in 1942 and his others were at Keyser where he has been at the helm since 1943.

Moorefield has captured four titles and tied Romney in 1950. Jonathan Paugh coached four of the Yellow Jacket teams that finished on top. He has been tutoring Jacket elevens since 1943. Romney's Pioneers have finished in first place four times, including a deadlock with Moorefield in 1950. Richard "Dick" McElwee and Bob Kyle, who are no longer in the loop, had two winners each at the Hampshire county school.

The only past winner no longer represented in the conference is Parsons High School.

Here is the schedule for the 1955 season:

Friday, Sept. 9—Petersburg at Southern (Oakland).
Friday, Sept. 16—Circleville at Ridgeley.
Saturday, Sept. 17—Moorefield at Southern.
Friday, Sept. 23—Franklin at Romney, Moorefield at Petersburg.
Saturday, Sept. 24—Southern at West Virginia Deaf.
Friday, Sept. 30—West Virginia Deaf at Franklin, Keyser at Ridgeley, Romney at Moorefield.
Friday, Oct. 7—Petersburg at Franklin, Moorefield at Ridgeley.
Friday, Oct. 14—Franklin at Moorefield, Ridgeley at Petersburg.
Friday, Oct. 21—Moorefield at Keyser, Circleville at Petersburg, Ridgeley at Romney.
Friday, Oct. 28—West Virginia Deaf at Ridgeley, Franklin at Circleville, Petersburg at Romney.
Saturday, Oct. 29—Southern at Keyser.
Friday, Nov. 4—Keyser at Petersburg.
Friday, Nov. 11—Keyser at Romney.

Potomac Valley Conference To Open 19th Season Sept. 9

Southern High Hosts Vikings In First Game

Nine Teams To Play 22 Tilts; Oakland Makes League Debut

The Potomac Valley Conference's 19th annual football race will get under way just two weeks from today when Petersburg High School's Vikings do battle with Southern High School in Oakland.

Southern, only Maryland entry, which inaugurated football last fall, will be making its debut in the circuit that includes eight West Virginia schools. Southern played one P.V.C. team last season, battling West Virginia School for the Deaf to a scoreless tie.

Twenty-two games have been scheduled thus far and there is a possibility that the addition of a Circleville-West Virginia School for the Deaf game will increase the total to 23.

Vikings To Play Seven

Petersburg, coached by Jesse Riggleman, will be the busiest team in the loop, playing seven opponents. Ridgeley and Moorefield will play six games each while Franklin, Romney and Keyser have five apiece.

The league boasts of several undefeated teams in its history dating back to 1937 but the standout record was that set by Homer Fizer's Keyser eleven of 1938 which turned in a 5-0 record and was unscored on. The Mineral Countians that year whipped Petersburg 14-0, Romney 32-0, Parsons 25-0, Moorefield 12-0 and Piedmont 47-0. The Golden Tornado of 17 years ago rolled up a total of 130 points while skunking the opposition. Fizer is now coaching at University High School, Morgantown, W. Va.

Clark Has Most Winners

Keyser has won the most championships, taking six outright and sharing another with Ridgeley. Frederick "Tack" Clark has tutored five winners and another team of his shared the 1948 championship. His first championship eleven was at Moorefield in 1942 and his others were at Keyser where he has been at the helm since 1943.

Moorefield has captured four titles and tied Romney in 1950. Jonathan Paugh coached four of the Yellow Jacket teams that finished on top. He has been tutoring Jacket elevens since 1943. Romney's Pioneers have finished in first place four times, including a deadlock with Moorefield in 1950. Richard "Dick" McElwee and Bob Kyle, who are no longer in the loop, had two winners each at the Hampshire county school.

The only past winner no longer represented in the conference is Parsons High School.

Here is the schedule for the 1955 season:

Friday, Sept. 9—Petersburg at Southern (Oakland).
Friday, Sept. 16—Circleville at Ridgeley.
Saturday, Sept. 17—Moorefield at Southern.
Friday, Sept. 23—Franklin at Romney, Moorefield at Petersburg.
Saturday, Sept. 24—Southern at West Virginia Deaf.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 25 (INS) — Mario Lanza has told Warner Brothers he's ready to leave for Churibus Studios in Mexico City Sept. 1. He's finished all his scoring — the last was "Ave Maria," and those who've heard it say they've never heard anything as beautiful.

One extremely interesting personage who has come into Hollywood the past few days is Dean Hess, the pilot who, during the war, hit the wrong target in Germany and blew up an orphanage. Hess nearly lost his mind when he realized what had happened.

He became deeply religious and now devotes his life to establishing orphanages wherever the ravages of war have struck. He was in Korea doing this work during the heaviest bombardments.

Last year when I printed that "The Story of Notre Dame" was headed for a Columbia movie, there was much hush-hush. I knew that a deal was being worked out, and right I was. At this moment Producer William Wright is meeting in South Bend with Writer Jim Bishop and Father John J. Cavanaugh, president of Notre Dame Foundation, to set things in operation.

The "Mauretania" is carrying Actor Laurence Harvey into New York harbor, but he isn't bringing his girl friend, Margaret Leighton, with him. I always felt his engagement to Margaret was an expediency born of the worry he had over a law suit. I could be wrong on that score. However, I never felt he was really serious.

The talk continues that William Dozier will move on to R-K-O, to be with Danny O'Shea, Charles Glett and Gordon Youngman. Someone very close to the situation tells me Bill's arrival at R-K-O Studio is imminent, but that wasn't what Bill himself said when I asked him.

"I keep hearing the rumors," said Bill, "but actually everyone seems to know more about it than I do. Danny O'Shea is a good friend of mine, but I am sure he has other good friends, too."

But in spite of all this, at no time in the conversation, did Bill register a great, big denial.

Snaps:

Ernie Bergnine, of "Marty" fame, who has been living in a trailer, has bought himself, his wife and child a house in North Hollywood. Couldn't happen to a nicer guy.

Watch for the marriage of Greg Peck and Veronique Passani around Thanksgiving time. That's about when Greta's divorce from Greg will be final.

Steve Allen and Jayne Meadows like our town so well that they are shopping for a ranch in the valley, which looks as if Steve will move his TV show to our town.

At Julie Wilson's opening at the Mocambo she looked fetching in a black jet gown, form fitting, with white orchids in her hair, sent her by her about-to-be ex, Baron Polan, who flew from New York to be with her.

Ringside watching her were Dorothy Dandridge, Nat King Cole and his wife, Maria, Dick Contino and Leigh Snowden and others of course.

Rosemary Clooney and Jose Ferrer return to their Hollywood home Saturday after a trip abroad. They'll only remain two months. Jose then goes to England to make "The Matador."

Jimmy McHugh and Harold Adamson flew into New York for a production meeting with Howard Lindsey, Russell Crouse and John Wilson, producers and director of "Strip for Action." The songs are practically all written and okayed.

At the Villa Capri, Virginia Zanuck and Herb Oberon with a party of friends, breaking their diet.

With Mary Murphy's romance with Dale Robertson on ice, one of her first dates was with Disc Jockey Johnny Grant at the Saratoga.

Actor Paul Picerni is adding to the poplation of the country when he and his wife of eight years welcome their seventh baby in December. The Picernis have three boys and three girls, and they hope for twins.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

way, loves them and respects them just as much as Marlin does.

But their philosophies are at opposite poles. Perkins thinks it a crime to kill any animal, including a couple that have tried to kill him. Lawrence-Brown, a hunter, has killed more animals than he can count. He, on the other hand, thinks that imprisoning animals is a crime against nature. He has never helped to capture a wild animal for a zoo. "Sending them up for life imprisonment," he says. "I couldn't sleep nights."

Where the one likes to stalk them (not necessarily to kill them but to match wits with them), the other likes to nurse them. Coming over here, Perkins brought as gifts to zoos in Europe and Africa crates of animals — grizzly bear cubs, possums, armadillos, sparrowhawks, chinchillas, to name a few — and six boxes of snakes indigenous to North America. (The idea of bringing snakes to Africa is one that could occur only to Perkins. The Port Elizabeth Zoo in South Africa is now richer by coral snakes and three varieties of copperheads South Africa had never seen before.)

At every stop — Copenhagen, Zurich, Rome, Khartoum — while the rest of us headed for the bar, Perkins scurried into the belly of the plane to see to the health of his animals.

I once asked him if there weren't some limit to his regard for animals, whether there wasn't some beast he frankly didn't like — say, a vulture. "Well, vultures are very interesting," said Marlin defensively. "I suppose my feelings for animals are colored by my knowledge of their function in nature." How about hyenas? "I haven't a very warm spot in my heart for hyenas," he said. That may be the most caustic utterance about animals Perkins has ever made.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 25 (INS) — Mario Lanza has told Warner Brothers he's ready to leave for Churibus Studios in Mexico City Sept. 1. He's finished all his scoring — the last was "Ave Maria," and those who've heard it say they've never heard anything as beautiful.

One extremely interesting personage who has come into Hollywood the past few days is Dean Hess, the pilot who, during the war, hit the wrong target in Germany and blew up an orphanage. Hess nearly lost his mind when he realized what had happened.

He became deeply religious and now devotes his life to establishing orphanages wherever the ravages of war have struck. He was in Korea doing this work during the heaviest bombardments.

Last year when I printed that "The Story of Notre Dame" was headed for a Columbia movie, there was much hush-hush. I knew that a deal was being worked out, and right I was. At this moment Producer William Wright is meeting in South Bend with Writer Jim Bishop and Father John J. Cavanaugh, president of Notre Dame Foundation, to set things in operation.

The "Mauretania" is carrying Actor Laurence Harvey into New York harbor, but he isn't bringing his girl friend, Margaret Leighton, with him. Man And Animals

NAIROBI, Kenya

The shameful secret of Marlin Perkins, the director of Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo and the majordomo of "Zoo Parade," is that he prefers animals to people. His love and understanding of animals shines through on "Zoo Parade," which is one of the things that gives the program its great charm.

"The animals are dependent on me," he will tell you and from that dependence he derives the same rich satisfaction that anyone else would get from a husband or wife who leans on one for support and comfort. This is a splendid thing but not exactly a usual thing and it does lead to misunderstandings between Perkins and the rest of the human race and even Perkins and the animals.

He started out his zoo career as a curator of reptiles and his great love is still snakes, an affection that is likely to bewilder the ordinary citizen. He has been bitten twice by rattlesnakes and once he almost died. Just the other day on this safari, he came upon an eight-foot cobra and immediately leaped out of the car to make friends. The cobra hooded, which is a cobra's way of being not only unfriendly but downright hostile and Perkins, retired, defeated. The fact that the animals don't always reciprocate his great love for them he accepts without bitterness.

This brush with the cobra points up one of the difficulties of this expedition. One of the fetching things about "Zoo Parade" when it started was the fact that Perkins handled the animals, caressed them and talked to them. His personal contact with the animals charmed the audience and the producers try to keep that in the show. But, naturally, you can't wander around Africa petting rhinos. Not more than once, anyhow. (Our hunter claims he did it on a bet as a boy but I don't believe a word of it.)

Still, Perkins gets as close as he can. When we drove down from Nairobi, he kept leaping from the car whenever we sighted a giraffe, which was pretty often. "I kept thinking they got loose from somewhere," he muttered. When we'd stop for the night, he'd prowl around with a flashlight looking for lizards and bats to keep him company until daylight came and he could see some more wild game.

His whole personality changes around animals. Around people he's likely to become dim and vague and restless. Around animals he lights up; the eyes become alert; he suddenly becomes alive all over.

There are animal lovers the world over but no two are quite alike and some of them are quite unlike. There are probably no more violently contrasting personalities than that of the gentle and scholarly Perkins and our hunter, Geoffrey Lawrence-Brown. Geoffrey, a hard-bitten character who has guided through the bush everything from English debutantes to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer movie companies to us, has been around wild animals all his life, and, in his

Contract Bridge

"PSYCHOLOGY" TO THE RESCUE

The slam contract in the following hand had no real chance of success, but "psychological plays" such as the one used by the declarer can sometimes work wonders.

South dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

	♠ 9 4 3 ♥ Q 6 5 ♦ Q J 10 7 ♣ K 9 6
♠ 10 8 5 ♥ 9 7 4 ♦ A K 6 5 2 ♣ 8 2	N W E S	♠ A Q J 2 ♥ J 10 8 3 ♦ 9 8 4 3 ♣ Q
	♠ K 7 6 ♥ A K 2 ♦ — ♣ A J 10 7 5 4 3

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	1 NT	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	4 ♣	Pass
6 ♣	Pass	Pass	Pass

North's bidding was very bad—both of his responses were wrong. His one-notrump response would have been correct if South had opened with a spade or a heart, but over the actual club opening North's proper call was one diamond. The notrump response to a club, specifically, is used by good players to denote a very fair hand (at least a queen stronger than North held), the theory being that one-notrump is not a cheap response to a club since it keeps partner from rebidding the other suits at the one-level.

When, on top of this response, North then carried South's three-club rebid past the notrump game level, South naturally expected to find a much better dummy.

West opened the diamond king. South ruffed, studied the situation, and then led a club to the king. (He could not afford to lead two rounds of trumps because that might give East the chance to signal emphatically in spades.) Next, declarer led the diamond queen from dummy and passed the trick to West, discarding the heart deuce—not a spade—on this trick.

West, upon winning with the diamond ace, did what almost every other bridge player would do—he shifted quickly to a heart. That, of course, was exactly in line with South's hope. He drew the other trump, cashed his other heart honor, then led a trump to dummy and discarded his three spades on the two good diamonds and the queen of hearts.

Television And Radio

Man And Animals

NAIROBI, Kenya

The shameful secret of Marlin Perkins, the director of Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo and the majordomo of "Zoo Parade," is that he prefers animals to people. His love and understanding of animals shines through on "Zoo Parade," which is one of the things that gives the program its great charm.

"The animals are dependent on me," he will tell you and from that dependence he derives the same rich satisfaction that anyone else would get from a husband or wife who leans on one for support and comfort. This is a splendid thing but not exactly a usual thing and it does lead to misunderstandings between Perkins and the rest of the human race and even Perkins and the animals.

He started out his zoo career as a curator of reptiles and his great love is still snakes, an affection that is likely to bewilder the ordinary citizen. He has been bitten twice by rattlesnakes and once he almost died. Just the other day on this safari, he came upon an eight-foot cobra and immediately leaped out of the car to make friends. The cobra hooded, which is a cobra's way of being not only unfriendly but downright hostile and Perkins, retired, defeated. The fact that the animals don't always reciprocate his great love for them he accepts without bitterness.

This brush with the cobra points up one of the difficulties of this expedition. One of the fetching things about "Zoo Parade" when it started was the fact that Perkins handled the animals, caressed them and talked to them. His personal contact with the animals charmed the audience and the producers try to keep that in the show. But, naturally, you can't wander around Africa petting rhinos. Not more than once, anyhow. (Our hunter claims he did it on a bet as a boy but I don't believe a word of it.)

Still, Perkins gets as close as he can. When we drove down from Nairobi, he kept leaping from the car whenever we sighted a giraffe, which was pretty often. "I kept thinking they got loose from somewhere," he muttered. When we'd stop for the night, he'd prowl around with a flashlight looking for lizards and bats to keep him company until daylight came and he could see some more wild game.

His whole personality changes around animals. Around people he's likely to become dim and vague and restless. Around animals he lights up; the eyes become alert; he suddenly becomes alive all over.

There are animal lovers the world over but no two are quite alike and some of them are quite unlike. There are probably no more violently contrasting personalities than that of the gentle and scholarly Perkins and our hunter, Geoffrey Lawrence-Brown. Geoffrey, a hard-bitten character who has guided through the bush everything from English debutantes to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer movie companies to us, has been around wild animals all his life, and, in his

The notrump response to a club, specifically, is used by good players to denote a very fair hand (at least a queen stronger than North held), the theory being that one-notrump is not a cheap response to a club since it keeps partner from rebidding the other suits at the one-level.

When, on top of this response, North then carried South's three-club rebid past the notrump game level, South naturally expected to find a much better dummy.

West opened the diamond king. South ruffed, studied the situation, and then led a club to the king. (He could not afford to lead two rounds of trumps because that might give East the chance to signal emphatically in spades.) Next, declarer led the diamond queen from dummy and passed the trick to West, discarding the heart deuce—not a spade—on this trick.

West, upon winning with the diamond ace, did what almost every other bridge player would do—he shifted quickly to a heart. That, of course, was exactly in line with South's hope. He drew the other trump, cashed his other heart honor, then led a trump to dummy and discarded his three spades on the two good diamonds and the queen of hearts.

Card of Thanks

I take this means to thank my friends and neighbors who were so kind to me during my recent bereavement, the death of my beloved wife Mrs. Lucy Bell Blamble. I also wish to thank the pallbearers, those who sent flowers and loaned cars for the funeral.

Three Schools Register 33 Negro Pupils

Will Conclude This Afternoon

Some 33 Negro students registered for the coming school year at Fort Hill High School, Allegany High School and Beall High School in Frostburg yesterday.

They registered as a result of the integration policy outlined by the Allegany County Board of Education in July and implemented at the August meeting Tuesday.

Following is a breakdown of the first day of registration as reported in calls made about 3 p. m. yesterday to the three schools:

Seven At Fort Hill

At Fort Hill seven registered, two girls and five boys including six students who plan to enter the 10th grade and one in the 11th grade.

At Allegany High School a total of nine students registered including four boys and five girls. Five plan to enter the 11th grade, three the 10th grade and one the senior year.

Up in Frostburg at Beall High School a larger number registered with a total of 17 students including 11 girls and six boys. If they enter classes at that school there will be three in the eighth grade, four in the ninth grade, three in the 10th grade and seven in the 11th grade.

Today registration will again be held at the three schools from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Elementary school children will be given an opportunity to register on Wednesday, August 31, from 9 a. m. until noon.

Board Decision

After lengthy discussion and a report on the findings of which schools could accommodate additional students the Board of Education this week decided that Negro children who wish to transfer to neighborhood schools could do so in any of the elementary schools of Cumberland with the exception of West Side and Columbia Streets where the fifth and sixth grades are open this Fall and Gephart School where overcrowded conditions will not allow any more enrollees.

The seventh, eighth and ninth grades of Fort Hill and Allegany are at present too overcrowded to allow any additional students to be enrolled, according to Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of Allegany County schools.

In Frostburg, he added, Negro students will be able to enroll in Hill Street Elemenatry School, Beall Elementary or Beall High School.

Zoning Appeals Board Grants Five Permits

The Board of Zoning Appeals last night approved five applications for building and occupancy permits and tabled a sixth application.

Granted by the board were the following applications:

Harry F. Goss, 422 Warwick Avenue, to build a three-car garage and overhead apartment at the rear of his property.

W. P. Warnick, 21 Prospect Square, to build a three-car garage at the rear of his home.

S. Louis Curl, to build a brick veneer porch on the side of his home at 953 Braddock Road.

Bernard Myers, 109 North Johnson Street, to occupy the site as a restaurant to be operated by Marguerite Grabenstein. Entrance to the restaurant will be from 110 Cumberland Street.

John W. Redhead, 301 Massachusetts Avenue, to enclose his front porch.

Tabled, since nobody appeared for a hearing, was the application of Harvey W. May, 717 Princeton Street, to build an automobile paint repair and paint shop on an existing foundation in the 400 block of Willowbrook Road.

Summer End Dance Set For Tonight

An 'End-of-the Summer" dance will be conducted by the YMCA-Rec Club tonight at the "Y" for all teen-agers.

The dance will be held in the gymansium which has just been completely renovated with a new floor and the entire room painted.

Music for the dance which will be held from 9 p. m. until 11:30 p. m. will be provided by Johnny Ritchie and his orchestra. In addition to dancing, a feature motion picture will be shown at 8 p. m. in the Fiesta Room while ping pong and television will be available to all Rec Club members in the Youth Division Lobby.

The YMCA Youth Division and Physical Department including the swimming pool will close Monday, August 29 for the annual cleaning and repairs.

The pool will reopen on September 12. YMCA fall activities will begin on that date and a schedule of new activities and classes will be available for distribution after Labor Day.

Youth Division will be redecorated, the gymnasium floor sanded and refinished and all locker rooms redecorated.

Maple Products At The Fair

Mrs. Mary Jo Kessler of this city is shown admiring the attractive display of maple sugar and maple products displayed under the grandstand in one of the many features of the 38th annual Cumberland Fair, which started Monday and ends tomorrow. The maple products were exhibited by residents of Somerset County, Pa., and Garrett County.

Fair Schedules Fireworks For Saturday Night

Thrill Show Listed As Closing Feature

The final showing of the grandstand stage review will take place tonight at Fairgo, to be followed by two performances by Joie Chitwood's Indian auto daredevils tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow night. Fireworks will be displayed both tonight and Saturday night.

Many of the exhibits and the giant midway provided by Prell's 18 rides and 38 other shows and attractions will remain in full swing until tomorrow midnight.

Garrett Queen

Last night, fairgoers saw another colorful fireworks display and a stage show and also met the Garrett County Farm Queen, Miss Thelma Hanlin of Accident. Miss Hanlin was presented by Harry Edwards, Grantsville, delegate to the General Assembly from his county. Col. Nelson W. Russler, master of ceremonies, presented Edwards and then gave Miss Hanlin a corsage on behalf of the Fair Association.

Yesterday was the second of two scheduled Kiddies matinees, and hundreds of youngsters kept the rides and concessions busy all afternoon. Members of the Prell shows said these two afternoon matinees were the best the show has seen anywhere this summer, and Samuel Prell, the owner, is already planning to bring his rides back to the Fair next year.

Fair management, yesterday, said indications are that attendance at this year's Fair will exceed the last few years, despite Monday night's rain. Thus far, an average of 5,000 people have seen the nightly shows.

Tonight, Miss Margaret McLucas, of Keyser, the Poultry Queen of West Virginia, will be presented to the fairgoers. She was chosen the Poultry Queen recently at the annual Poultry Festival and Convention held in Moorefield.

Tractor Contest

At 1 p. m. today, the 4-H tractor driving competition for the county championship will be held in front of the grandstand. The winner will represent the county at the state fair at Timonium next month.

Livestock, poultry, and other farm exhibits continued to draw hundreds of visitors yesterday afternoon and last night as they have all week. Judging in most departments has been completed, and premium money and awards will be distributed tomorrow.

Tomorrow's thrill show features spectacular stunts with automobiles and an airplane. The thrill drivers turn autos over, turn them end for end, drive them through flaming walls of fire, jump them over each other, and do all seemingly impossible daredevil stunts ever seen with cars. Joie Chitwood has appeared here before, and his show has always been a big thrill attraction here.

Following tomorrow night's thrill spectacle, the fireworks display which was cancelled Monday night because of rain, will be shown, to close the curtain on the 1955 Cumberland Fair.

Department Store Sales High Here

RICHMOND, Aug. 25 (AP)—A Federal Reserve Bank report showed today department store sales in Maryland in July ran about 6 per cent ahead of the corresponding month in 1954.

Preliminary figures also showed the level of sales for the first seven months of 1955 at 4 per cent above the corresponding period of last year.

The same percentage figures also held good for the Baltimore metropolitan area.

The report showed a 12 per cent gain last month and an 8 per cent gain in the first seven months for Hagerstown, and gains of 10 and 8 per cent for Cumberland.

The Fairmont-Morgantown, W. Va., area showed gains of 9 and 7 per cent.

Regional FFA Leadership Training Day Observed

Yesterday the Future Farmers of America of Allegany and Garrett counties met in the grandstand office at the Cumberland Fair Grounds and observed Leadership Training Day.

James House, vocational agriculture teacher of Oldtown High School, was chairman of the program and was assisted by Max Bowser, FFA student of Northern High School.

Duties of efficient officers were discussed by Roger DeBerry, of Oakland, president; Randall Mann, Flintstone chapter, vice-president; Max Bowser, The Cove, treasurer; Ted Robinette, Flintstone, secretary; Richard Lohr, The Cove, reporter, and Kenneth M. Malone, vo-ag teacher of Flintstone, adviser.

Richard Bowers, who was voted as the Star Farmer of Region I by the State group, talked on the advancement of FFA through an improved and supervised farming program. A talk on building and executing a program of work was given by Marvin Callis, ag teacher of Accident.

L. A. Lipscomb, vo-ag teacher of Southern High School, spoke on the problems of chapter operations and Dick Bishoff, another vo-ag teacher of the same school, presented the "FFA Instruction Guide."

Regional meetings according to Malone, are being planned for 1955-56. He told of the Land Judging Contest in Allegany County October 1-14 during Land Week with others scheduled in February at Northern High School and one in April at Southern High School.

Callis announced the Land Judging will be held on October 14 with conservation week activities slated October 10-15. He added that 10 boys from each school would be entered in the Land Judging event and a meeting would be held at Union Grove after the contest.

Officers for the FFA for the two counties next year are Max Bowser, Northern, president; Roger DeBerry, Southern, vice president; Marlin Whitfield, Flintstone, secretary; John Mallery, Oldtown, treasurer; Richard Lohr, Northern, reporter; Ted Robinette, Flintstone, sentinel, and Malone adviser.

Shoe Store Remodels

A remodeling program is nearing completion at the Nobil Shoe Store, and work is expected to be finished in time for "back to school" sales.

Leonard Cody, who has been manager of the store for over two years, said the remodeling program has been in progress through the summer months.

A large new front glass door is being installed and is bordered with aluminum. Also included in the work is the finishing of the walls in pastel colors, addition of new leatherette chairs for customers, a canopy style back bar over the sales counter, new display cases and also the installation of a five ton air conditioning unit.

Cody also said a number of open display tables will be added to the furnishings of the store which has been located at the Baltimore Street address some 20 years. The stock rooms of the store are located in the rear of the first floor and also on the second floor of the building.

Nobil's is a family-type shoe store.

Injured Trucker Reported Good

Wilbur E. Gross, 24, Taneytown, is reported in "good" condition at Memorial Hospital where he was admitted Wednesday night with injuries sustained in a tractor-trailer accident which occurred near Fort Ashby on West Virginia Route 28.

Yesterday morning Gross underwent surgery. He was pinned in the cab of the vehicle for about 40 minutes after it careened off the highway through a field and upset in a small creek.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. William Shuck, Alexandria, Va., announce the birth of a son yesterday morning in Alexander Hospital. The mother is the former Dorothy May Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Harper, 724 Elm Street.

One-Way Plan Slated For Streets

All Of Frederick, Bedford Affected

Frederick and Bedford Streets will become one-day streets along their entire length beginning Monday at 7 a. m., according to Lt. Raymond R. Johnston, director of the Traffic Bureau of the Cumberland Police Department.

He said the streets will be one-way, all the way from North Mechanic Street to the city limits, with all traffic from Bedford Road entering the city by Bedford Street. Frederick Street will be the northeastern route to Route 220 from the city.

Will Aid Drivers

Lt. Johnston said members of the Cumberland Police Department and the Auxiliary Police Department will be on hand to aid in putting the plan into effect.

Yesterday, the Police Department replaced a stop sign at Decatur and Frederick Streets.

This grants the right-of-way to motorists traveling on Frederick Street, instead of giving preference to drivers using Decatur Street, which links Baltimore Avenue and Frederick Street.

The move was one of the recommendations made by the 1950 Traffic Survey, which said Frederick Street, from its intersection with Bedford Road, be designated a one-way street northbound, with parking prohibited on the west side and Bedford Street be a one-way street southbound, with parking prohibited on the East side of the street.

Was Recommended

The traffic report said the conversion of the streets to one-way operation would materially aid the movement of Route 220 traffic and eliminate the conflict of traffic where the streets intersect with Mechanic Street.

The plan, it added, will also reduce the confusion caused by two-way traffic on the extremely short blocks adjacent to City Hall.

City officials have been reluctant to make Frederick and Bedford Streets, between Centre Street and Henderson Avenue, one-way until a plan to extend North George Street is completed, due to the presence of the B&O crossing.

South End firemen yesterday checked a flue fire yesterday afternoon at 55 Thomas Street. The call came in at 1:53 p. m.

Communications Help Police Recapture Man

Ridgeley Chief Nabs Suspect

The use of radio communication in police work was instrumental in the quick recapture of an area man Wednesday night in Ridgeley.

And the captured man will probably be more aware of whom he flags down the next time he develops auto trouble.

Wednesday evening while Police Chief Harry Detrick of Ridgeley was riding in the vicinity of the community in the police cruiser, he noticed a man along the highway who was flagging him down.

As Chief Detrick stopped to investigate the man's trouble, he got a call over the cruiser radio, notifying him to pick up a man who fled from the Keyser area. It so happened that the man being sought was the motorist who flagged the police chief.

Therefore Chief Detrick simply told the man to get in the cruiser and go along with him. The man being sought was David E. Corbin, 31, of Springfield, W. Va., a former resident of Keyser.

On Wednesday evening Corbin reportedly got into a fight on Armstrong Street, Keyser, with Lloyd Ned Mills, 37, who resides in that community.

One of the witnesses of the fight was Madalyn Bazzle, justice of the peace of Keyser, who swore out a warrant for Corbin's arrest. After being taken into custody, Corbin was reported to have told her he wanted to lock his car before being locked up in jail.

Meanwhile Corbin was reported to have gotten into his car and fled. Through the use of the radio, West Virginia State Police notified Maryland State Police who called local police who passed on the pickup notice to Chief Detrick.

After his recapture, Corbin was turned over to Trooper R. A. Long, of the Keyser detachment, who met Chief Detrick along Route 28 and took the prisoner back to Keyser.

Corbin is being held under $1,000 bond on a charge of felonious assault and will be given a hearing Monday at 11 a. m. He is confined in the Mineral County jail, Keyser, in default of bond.

West Virginians Accept County Teaching Positions

The appointment of two more West Virginians to teaching positions in Allegany County schools was announced yesterday by Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of schools.

John David Helmick of Mannington, W. Va., has been appointed to teach industrial arts at Mt. Savage High School, succeeding Lawrence Diehl, who resigned at the close of the last session to accept a position in New Jersey.

A 1945 graduate of Mannington High School, Helmick later was a machinist's mate in the Navy and received his bachelor of arts degree in 1952 from Fairmont (W. Va.) State Teachers College, where his major was industrial arts. He has done graduate work at West Virginia University.

Helmick taught the 1952-53 school year at Southern Garrett County High School in Oakland and the past two years at Mannington High School. He is married and the father of two children.

Forrest J. Boggs of Gassaway, W. Va., has been named to a new position on the faculty of Bruce High School in Westernport. He will teach driver education and seventh and eighth grade reading.

A 1945 graduate of Gassaway High School, he received his bachelor's degree in 1950 at West Virginia University, where he majored in biology and minored in English. He received his master's degree in 1953 and has worked two years on his doctorate.

He taught elementary school one year at Chapel, W. Va., and has been biology laboratory instructor for college freshmen the past two years. He is taking a special course in driver education this summer.

Boggs served in the Army from 1950 until 1952 and became a platoon leader. He is married and the father of three children.

Three Firms Speed Work On Bridge

Both Approaches Are Being Constructed

Crews of three companies were busy yesterday on the final stages of the construction of the Cumberland-Ridgeley Bridge across the Potomac River here.

The biggest activity was in Riverside Park, where the Cumberland Contracting Company is preparing the Maryland approach to the new span.

In recent weeks, the company has installed drainage facilities to take care of storm water at that point and yesterday had virtually completed rough grading for the approach.

Prepare Surface

Later this week, the crews will place a four-inch insulation course of broken stone and place forms for the concrete roadway to the bridge.

Crews of the firm yesterday were also preparing the surface of Greene Street which is to be affected by the project, and have been working on the widening of Greene Street to provide three traffic lanes from the intersection of Greene and Washington Streets to the approach.

A few American Bridge Company workers are busy on the superstructure of the bridge, installing a one-foot extension to the hand rails and completing some gutter work and riveting. They expect to be finished by Friday.

Are On Ridgeley Side

On the Ridgeley side of the bridge, the Stickley construction firm of Burlington is preparing the West Virginia approach. That approach will be blacktopped.

Remaining tasks will be the laying of a blacktop wearing course on the Riverside Park approach and the deck of the bridge and the application of the final coat of paint for the span.

Total cost of the span and its approaches is expected to exceed $550,000.

Wife's Illness Not Good Cause For Leaving Job

Compensation Claim Denied By Judge

A carnival worker who quits his job about two or three weeks before the end of the season because of his wife's illness is not entitled to unemployment compensation, Chief Judge George Henderson decided in an opinion filed in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Judge Henderson's 14-page opinion upheld the Maryland Employment Security Board, which had refused to allow Edward W. Hager unemployment compensation. The board ruled that Hager had "voluntarily left work without good cause within the meaning of Section 5 (b) of the Maryland Unemployment Compensation Law."

Hager was employed by the F. E. Gooding Amusement Company of Columbus Ohio, at $40 a week. He traveled from place to place with a carnival and his wife joined him in Bluffton, Ind. The next week the carnival moved to Auburn, Ind., where she had several epileptic seizures, As a result he decided to bring her back to Cumberland where there were relatives to help care for her and where her doctor was familiar with her case.

Judge Henderson wrote in his opinion that extending the law to cover cases where the claimant left because of the illness of someone else would seem to make a law a family sickness insurance law rather than a law to stabilize employment.

Until the General Assembly expressly says otherwise, the words "voluntarily without good cause" should be construed to mean the "good cause" is one connected with or attributable to the employment of the employer.

Library Getting Coat Of Paint

The Cumberland Free Public Library is getting "primped up" with a new coat of white paint.

Yesterday morning workmen of Whitman and Cessna, painting contractors, began the job which is expected to be completed by the latter part of next week provided the painters get nice weather.

The library is being given an exterior white undercoat and also a coat of white gloss. Workmen are also replacing broken panes of glass and the vines growing along the side of the historical building "have got to go" as the painters progress with the job.

The project is costing $1,195 and the money was appropriated recently by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners. The last time the library was painted was about eight years ago, according to Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, who said the painting is expected to be done in time for the historical house tour which is part of the Bicentennial celebration here.

The skies were overcast most of the day yesterday and the humidity was high throughout the afternoon. Cluody and cool weather is forecast this morning and the skies are expected to be sunny during the afternoon. The high temperature yesterday was 76 degrees with a low reading of 55. Editors Discuss Press Freedom At AP Session

Speaker Stresses Its Safeguard

By RICHARD K. BOYD

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Aug. 25 (AP)—Basil L. Walters of Chicago, executive editor of the Knight Newspapers Inc., said tonight that "the greatest safeguard to our freedoms lies in guaranteeing that journalists form their own minds."

"And they in turn must recognize," he said in a prepared address before the Middle Atlantic States fifth regional meeting of The Associated Press, "the right of their readers to make up their own minds."

Dinner Windup

The conference opened with a panel discussion on operations of the world-wide news gathering organization.

The panelists included Harry F. Byrd Jr., publisher of the Winchester, Va., Star and member of the AP board of directors; Managing Editor Herbert F. Corn of the Washington Star; William Armistead III, publisher of the Roanoke, Va., Times and World News; Vint Jennings, managing editor of the Charleston, W. Va., Daily Mail and chairman of the Associated Press Managing Editors state circuits committee; Charles Hamilton, managing editor of the Richmond, Va., News-Leader and chairman of the APME news writing committee; and Payton B. Winfree, executive editor of the Lynchburg, Va., News and Advance.

Winfree is also chairman of the APME Freedom of Information (FOI) committee.

Tells Editors

Byrd told the editors and publishers from Virginia, Maryland, and West Virginia that "The Associated Press is not an advocate or defender."

The AP board member related an interview with Premier Scelba of Italy in which Scelba accused the AP of being "the most unfair, biased organization I have ever contended with."

Byrd explained that the basis for Scelba's criticism was that he felt the AP should report only news favorable to the Italian government.

Hamilton told of his study of AP writing and said that in his opinion "it has never been better than it is today." He added, "But of course, there is room for improvement.

"AP efforts constantly to improve its product will go on and your committee believes that its goal of stimulating interest in writing has been achieved."

Jennings advocated what he called an AP "tipping" service. "We have," he said, "Extraordinary Service to cover emergencies and contingencies affecting all our members. Why not an interstate exchange service to cover news beats among individual members of individual importance, but not of general interest."

Armistead spoke for "responsibility by individual publishers and editors to share their news "and declared "it is time some of us started throwing our weight around to bring this about."

Winfree as chairman of the AP FOI committee urged editors to fight against "news blocks" at the grass roots level.

"This we must do," he said, "if we are going to keep news channels open in Washington. It may be that we don't need to go to Italy to find criticism such as that by Premier Scelba.

"Our own secretary of defense recently issued an order to his department to give out only information that is 'constructive.' "

Walters made a "fervent plea" to the editors to "debate the possibilities of making significant news of the coming political campaigns so interesting that people will read it.

"While we must keep in mind that our first obligation is to the readers and to the voters, we must not be permitted to become panicked into being dull and stupid by some thought-paralysing phrases such as 'one-party press' invented by political press agents."

He said it was proper that the press be subjected to criticism and debate, but he said it should resist efforts to convert such criticism into censorship and regulation.

Water Samples Are Being Investigated

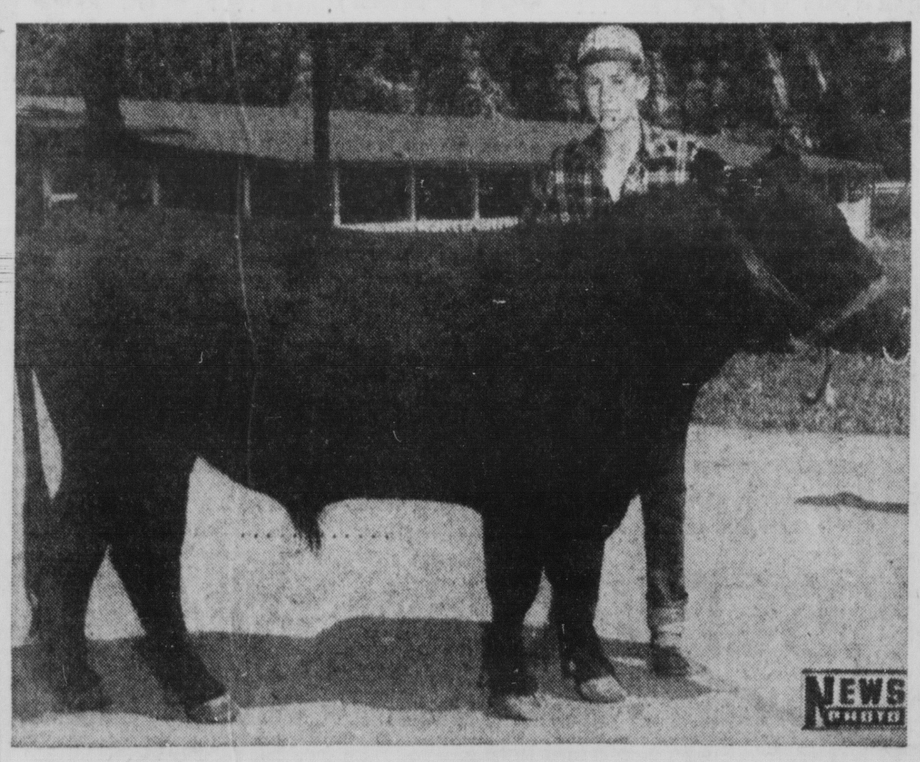
An investigation of the presence of coliform bacteria in several city water samples is being investigated, William J. Edwards, commissioner of water and electric light, said yesterday.

He said the presence of the bacteria was reported by the State Health Department in samples taken here August 8 at Bedford Road, Oldtown Road and Virginia Avenue.

The commissioner said such reports occasionally turn up in samples taken from the dead-end of lines, when movement of the water is restricted.

Food Registration Set

Registration for October surplus foods will be taken by the Associated Charities next Wednesday, August 31, through Friday, September 2, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.



Aberdeen-Angus Shown At Fair

Three Schools Register 33 Negro Pupils

Will Conclude This Afternoon

Some 33 Negro students registered for the coming school year at Fort Hill High School, Allegany High School and Beall High School in Frostburg yesterday.

They registered as a result of the integration policy outlined by the Allegany County Board of Education in July and implemented at the August meeting Tuesday.

Following is a breakdown of the first day of registration as reported in calls made about 3 p. m. yesterday to the three schools:

Seven At Fort Hill

At Fort Hill seven registered, two girls and five boys including six students who plan to enter the 10th grade and one in the 11th grade.

At Allegany High School a total of nine students registered including four boys and five girls. Five plan to enter the 11th grade, three the 10th grade and one the senior year.

Up in Frostburg at Beall High School a larger number registered with a total of 17 students including 11 girls and six boys. If they enter classes at that school there will be three in the eighth grade, four in the ninth grade, three in the 10th grade and seven in the 11th grade.

Today registration will again be held at the three schools from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Elementary school children will be given an opportunity to register on Wednesday, August 31, from 9 a. m. until noon.

Board Decision

After lengthy discussion and a report on the findings of which schools could accommodate additional students the Board of Education this week decided that Negro children who wish to transfer to neighborhood schools could do so in any of the elementary schools of Cumberland with the exception of West Side and Columbia Streets where the fifth and sixth grades are open this Fall and Gephart School where overcrowded conditions will not allow any more enrollees.

The seventh, eighth and ninth grades of Fort Hill and Allegany are at present too overcrowded to allow any additional students to be enrolled, according to Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of Allegany County schools.

In Frostburg, he added, Negro students will be able to enroll in Hill Street Elemenatry School, Beall Elementary or Beall High School.

Bernard Myers, 109 North Johnson Street, to occupy the site as a restaurant to be operated by Marguerite Grabenstein. Entrance to the restaurant will be from 110 Cumberland Street.

John W. Redhead, 301 Massachusetts Avenue, to enclose his front porch.

Maple Products At The Fair

Mrs. Mary Jo Kessler of this city is shown admiring the attractive display of maple sugar and maple products displayed under the grandstand in one of the many features of the 38th annual Cumberland Fair, which started Monday and ends tomorrow. The maple products were exhibited by residents of Somerset County, Pa., and Garrett County.

Fair Schedules Fireworks For Saturday Night

Thrill Show Listed As Closing Feature

The final showing of the grandstand stage review will take place tonight at Fairgo, to be followed by two performances by Joie Chitwood's Indian auto daredevils tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow night. Fireworks will be displayed both tonight and Saturday night.

Many of the exhibits and the giant midway provided by Prell's 18 rides and 38 other shows and attractions will remain in full swing until tomorrow midnight.

Garrett Queen

Last night, fairgoers saw another colorful fireworks display and a stage show and also met the Garrett County Farm Queen, Miss Thelma Hanlin of Accident. Miss Hanlin was presented by Harry Edwards, Grantsville, delegate to the General Assembly from his county. Col. Nelson W. Russler, master of ceremonies, presented Edwards and then gave Miss Hanlin a corsage on behalf of the Fair Association.

Yesterday was the second of two scheduled Kiddies matinees, and hundreds of youngsters kept the rides and concessions busy all afternoon. Members of the Prell shows said these two afternoon matinees were the best the show has seen anywhere this summer, and Samuel Prell, the owner, is already planning to bring his rides back to the Fair next year.

Fair management, yesterday, said indications are that attendance at this year's Fair will exceed the last few years, despite Monday night's rain. Thus far, an average of 5,000 people have seen the nightly shows.

Tonight, Miss Margaret McLucas, of Keyser, the Poultry Queen of West Virginia, will be presented to the fairgoers. She was chosen the Poultry Queen recently at the annual Poultry Festival and Convention held in Moorefield.

Tractor Contest

At 1 p. m. today, the 4-H tractor driving competition for the county championship will be held in front of the grandstand. The winner will represent the county at the state fair at Timonium next month.

Livestock, poultry, and other farm exhibits continued to draw hundreds of visitors yesterday afternoon and last night as they have all week. Judging in most departments has been completed, and premium money and awards will be distributed tomorrow.

Tomorrow's thrill show features spectacular stunts with automobiles and an airplane. The thrill drivers turn autos over, turn them end for end, drive them through flaming walls of fire, jump them over each other, and do all seemingly impossible daredevil stunts ever seen with cars. Joie Chitwood has appeared here before, and his show has always been a big thrill attraction here.

Following tomorrow night's thrill spectacle, the fireworks display which was cancelled Monday night because of rain, will be shown, to close the curtain on the 1955 Cumberland Fair.

Department Store Sales High Here

RICHMOND, Aug. 25 (AP)—A Federal Reserve Bank report showed today department store sales in Maryland in July ran about 6 per cent ahead of the corresponding month in 1954.

Preliminary figures also showed the level of sales for the first seven months of 1955 at 4 per cent above the corresponding period of last year.

The same percentage figures also held good for the Baltimore metropolitan area.

The report showed a 12 per cent gain last month and an 8 per cent gain in the first seven months for Hagerstown, and gains of 10 and 8 per cent for Cumberland.

The Fairmont-Morgantown, W. Va., area showed gains of 9 and 7 per cent.

Regional FFA Leadership Training Day Observed

Yesterday the Future Farmers of America of Allegany and Garrett counties met in the grandstand office at the Cumberland Fair Grounds and observed Leadership Training Day.

Regional meetings according to Malone, are being planned for 1955-56. He told of the Land Judging Contest in Allegany County October 1-14 during Land Week with others scheduled in February at Northern High School and one in April at Southern High School.

Callis announced the Land Judging will be held on October 14 with conservation week activities slated October 10-15. He added that 10 boys from each school would be entered in the Land Judging event and a meeting would be held at Union Grove after the contest.

Officers for the FFA for the two counties next year are Max Bowser, Northern, president; Roger DeBerry, Southern, vice president; Marlin Whitfield, Flintstone, secretary; John Mallery, Oldtown, treasurer; Richard Lohr, Northern, reporter; Ted Robinette, Flintstone, sentinel, and Malone adviser.

Shoe Store Remodels

A remodeling program is nearing completion at the Nobil Shoe Store, and work is expected to be finished in time for "back to school" sales.

Leonard Cody, who has been manager of the store for over two years, said the remodeling program has been in progress through the summer months.

A large new front glass door is being installed and is bordered with aluminum. Also included in the work is the finishing of the walls in pastel colors, addition of new leatherette chairs for customers, a canopy style back bar over the sales counter, new display cases and also the installation of a five ton air conditioning unit.

Cody also said a number of open display tables will be added to the furnishings of the store which has been located at the Baltimore Street address some 20 years. The stock rooms of the store are located in the rear of the first floor and also on the second floor of the building.

Nobil's is a family-type shoe store.

Injured Trucker Reported Good

Wilbur E. Gross, 24, Taneytown, is reported in "good" condition at Memorial Hospital where he was admitted Wednesday night with injuries sustained in a tractor-trailer accident which occurred near Fort Ashby on West Virginia Route 28.

Yesterday morning Gross underwent surgery. He was pinned in the cab of the vehicle for about 40 minutes after it careened off the highway through a field and upset in a small creek.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. William Shuck, Alexandria, Va., announce the birth of a son yesterday morning in Alexander Hospital. The mother is the former Dorothy May Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Harper, 724 Elm Street.

One-Way Plan Slated For Streets

All Of Frederick, Bedford Affected

Frederick and Bedford Streets will become one-day streets along their entire length beginning Monday at 7 a. m., according to Lt. Raymond R. Johnston, director of the Traffic Bureau of the Cumberland Police Department.

He said the streets will be one-way, all the way from North Mechanic Street to the city limits, with all traffic from Bedford Road entering the city by Bedford Street. Frederick Street will be the northeastern route to Route 220 from the city.

Will Aid Drivers

Lt. Johnston said members of the Cumberland Police Department and the Auxiliary Police Department will be on hand to aid in putting the plan into effect.

Yesterday, the Police Department replaced a stop sign at Decatur and Frederick Streets.

This grants the right-of-way to motorists traveling on Frederick Street, instead of giving preference to drivers using Decatur Street, which links Baltimore Avenue and Frederick Street.

The move was one of the recommendations made by the 1950 Traffic Survey, which said Frederick Street, from its intersection with Bedford Road, be designated a one-way street northbound, with parking prohibited on the west side and Bedford Street be a one-way street southbound, with parking prohibited on the East side of the street.

Was Recommended

The traffic report said the conversion of the streets to one-way operation would materially aid the movement of Route 220 traffic and eliminate the conflict of traffic where the streets intersect with Mechanic Street.

The plan, it added, will also reduce the confusion caused by two-way traffic on the extremely short blocks adjacent to City Hall.

City officials have been reluctant to make Frederick and Bedford Streets, between Centre Street and Henderson Avenue, one-way until a plan to extend North George Street is completed, due to the presence of the B&O crossing.

Wife's Illness Not Good Cause For Leaving Job

Compensation Claim Denied By Judge

A carnival worker who quits his job about two or three weeks before the end of the season because of his wife's illness is not entitled to unemployment compensation, Chief Judge George Henderson decided in an opinion filed in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Judge Henderson's 14-page opinion upheld the Maryland Employment Security Board, which had refused to allow Edward W. Hager unemployment compensation. Library Getting Coat Of Paint

The Cumberland Free Public Library is getting "primped up" with a new coat of white paint.

Yesterday morning workmen of Whitman and Cessna, painting contractors, began the job which is expected to be completed by the latter part of next week provided the painters get nice weather.

The library is being given an exterior white undercoat and also a coat of white gloss. Workmen are also replacing broken panes of glass and the vines growing along the side of the historical building "have got to go" as the painters progress with the job.

The project is costing $1,195 and the money was appropriated recently by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners. The last time the library was painted was about eight years ago, according to Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, who said the painting is expected to be done in time for the historical house tour which is part of the Bicentennial celebration here.

Editors Discuss Press Freedom At AP Session

Speaker Stresses Its Safeguard

By RICHARD K. BOYD

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Aug. 25 (AP)—Basil L. Walters of Chicago, executive editor of the Knight Newspapers Inc., said tonight that "the greatest safeguard to our freedoms lies in guaranteeing that journalists form their own minds."

"And they in turn must recognize," he said in a prepared address before the Middle Atlantic States fifth regional meeting of The Associated Press, "the right of their readers to make up their own minds."

Dinner Windup

Walters spoke at a dinner winding up the first day of the two-day meeting which attracted some 100 editors, publishers and their wives.

The conference opened with a panel discussion on operations of the world-wide news gathering organization.

The panelists included Harry F. Byrd Jr., publisher of the Winchester, Va., Star and member of the AP board of directors; Managing Editor Herbert F. Corn of the Washington Star; William Armistead III, publisher of the Roanoke, Va., Times and World News; Vint Jennings, managing editor of the Charleston, W. Va., Daily Mail and chairman of the Associated Press Managing Editors state circuits committee; Charles Hamilton, managing editor of the Richmond, Va., News-Leader and chairman of the APME news writing committee; and Payton B. Winfree, executive editor of the Lynchburg, Va., News and Advance.

Winfree is also chairman of the APME Freedom of Information (FOI) committee.

Tells Editors

Byrd told the editors and publishers from Virginia, Maryland, and West Virginia that "The Associated Press is not an advocate or defender."

The AP board member related an interview with Premier Scelba of Italy in which Scelba accused the AP of being "the most unfair, biased organization I have ever contended with."

Byrd explained that the basis for Scelba's criticism was that he felt the AP should report only news favorable to the Italian government.

Hamilton told of his study of AP writing and said that in his opinion "it has never been better than it is today." He added, "But of course, there is room for improvement.

"AP efforts constantly to improve its product will go on and your committee believes that its goal of stimulating interest in writing has been achieved."

Jennings advocated what he called an AP "tipping" service. "We have," he said, "Extraordinary Service to cover emergencies and contingencies affecting all our members. Why not an interstate exchange service to cover news beats among individual members of individual importance, but not of general interest."

Armistead spoke for "responsibility by individual publishers and editors to share their news "and declared "it is time some of us started throwing our weight around to bring this about."

Winfree as chairman of the AP FOI committee urged editors to fight against "news blocks" at the grass roots level.

"This we must do," he said, "if we are going to keep news channels open in Washington. It may be that we don't need to go to Italy to find criticism such as that by Premier Scelba.

"Our own secretary of defense recently issued an order to his department to give out only information that is 'constructive.'"

Walters made a "fervent plea" to the editors to "debate the possibilities of making significant news of the coming political campaigns so interesting that people will read it.

"While we must keep in mind that our first obligation is to the readers and to the voters, we must not be permitted to become panicked into being dull and stupid by some thought-paralysing phrases such as 'one-party press' invented by political press agents."

He said it was proper that the press be subjected to criticism and debate, but he said it should resist efforts to convert such criticism into censorship and regulation.

Water Samples Are Being Investigated

An investigation of the presence of coliform bacteria in several city water samples is being investigated, William J. Edwards, commissioner of water and electric light, said yesterday.

He said the presence of the bacteria was reported by the State Health Department in samples taken here August 8 at Bedford Road, Oldtown Road and Virginia Avenue.

The commissioner said such reports occasionally turn up in samples taken from the dead-end of lines, when movement of the water is restricted.

Food Registration Set

Registration for October surplus foods will be taken by the Associated Charities next Wednesday, August 31, through Friday, September 2, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.
